Of the above imports for the week in 1884, $2,600 were American gold coin and $3,202 American silver coin. Of the exports during the sametime $10,000 were American gold coin.

—The attention of Chronicle readers, and particularly of parties having money to invest, is directed to the advertisement of real estate mortgages on Western farm property negotiated by Messrs. Jarvis, Conklin & Co., of Kansas City, Mo. This firm, located at one of the principal cities west of the Mississippi River, has had some years experience in this class of business, and has invested large amounts of money for parties at the East, as they state, without the loss of a single dollar to their customers. Among other parties for whom they have placed money is the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, whose officers can speak favorably of their transactions.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1884—6 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The general financial situation has shown additional improvement this week from several points of view. There have been no further bank troubles of any significance in any part of the country. The currency which was largely drawn by the country and interior banks from their city correspondents during the uneasy feeling which prevailed two weeks ago has been rapidly coming back to New York, and in Chicago and St. Louis New York exchange has ranged from 25 to 75 cents per $1,000 premium. The general reports of private individuals and of business firms in regard to the prospect for the grain crops have this week also corroborated the very favorable Government report of the high condition of the growing wheat and other small grain crops. We note, besides, exports of nearly 8½ million dollars in value from the port of New York for the week ended last Tuesday,—larger than for a long time past, the increase over the same week last year being nearly 2½ million dollars.

The only event of the last week which might be considered as unfavorable to the general business situation was the placing of the New York West Shore & Buffalo Railroad in the hands of a receiver on behalf of the first mortgage bondholders. The net earnings of the road are estimated to be averaging about $1,000,000 per annum, which would leave a deficiency of $1,500,000 of the amount required for the first mortgage interest. The receivership, however, has long been foreseen as inevitable, and the event had no special effect in any direction. The disquieting reports mentioned last week in connection with the Louisville & Nashville have not developed into anything more definite, and though the directory of the road is known to be inharmonious, the only outcome of that has been the resignation of President Rogers and the election of Mr. M. H. Smith (formerly Vice-President) in his stead.

The New York money market has continued dull. The decline in railway stocks and bonds has caused all money lenders to adopt an extremely conservative policy, and yet on satisfactory collaterals, money has been very cheap. Call loans on such collaterals have ranged at 1½ to 4 per cent per annum. Time loans on dividend stocks have been offered for four and six months at 6 per cent per annum. Mercantile discounts have remained dull and unchanged at 5½ and 6 per cent for two and four months on endorsed paper and 6 and 6½ on single names.

The last statement of the averages of the New York banks showed the large contraction of $7,040,300 in the loans and the decrease of $5,038,100 in the deposits. The contraction of loans was undoubtedly made in pursuance of the great desire of the banks to cancel their Clearing House certificates. The total amount of these in actual use on Friday the 13th by the New York banks was about $11,000,000. Besides these there were also a little less than $6,000,000 more which had been taken out by banks but never used, thus making a total of about $17,000,000 still in existence, and showing that the banks have returned $7,000,000 of the $24,000,000 originally issued.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England on Thursday exhibited the large gain of £1,400,000 in bullion. The percentage of reserve was increased to 46⅞ per cent, from 46¾ per cent last week. The Bank rate of discount remained unchanged at 2½ per cent. The weekly statement of the Ban of France showed a loss of 717,000 francs in gold and 1,517,000 francs in silver. The report of the Bank of Germany showed a gain of 742,000 marks.

The following table shows the changes from the previous week and a comparison with the two preceding years in the averages of the New York Clearing House banks.

Exchange.—The market for sterling has been dull during the week, but with a stronger tone throughout, which resulted in an advance on Friday, the 13th, of ½ cent per £ on the posted rates to 4 86 and 4 88. The rates for actual business on Friday were quoted as follows, viz.: Sixty days, 4 84½@4 85; demand, 4 86½@4 87; cables, 4 87½. Commercial bills have continued comparatively scarce, notwithstanding the increase in the exports from the port of New York alluded to above. The rates on Friday were 4 83@4 83½.

Quotations for foreign exchange are as follows, the prices being the posted rates of leading bankers:

| June 13. | Sixty Days. | Demand. |

U. S. Sub-Treasury.—The following table shows the receipts and payments at the Sub-Treasury in this city, as well as the balances in the same, for each day of the past week:

* Includes $250,000 gold certificates taken out of cash.

State and Railroad Bonds.—The volume of business in railroad bonds during the last week has been very irregular. This irregularity was presumably due to the uncertainty of dealers and investors as to the probable course of the market. The general tendency of prices has been towards lower figures, and the declines in some cases are very large. The various defaults on interest during the last few weeks, together with the low rates of freights and diminished net earnings of some leading railroads, have had a depressing effect upon all railroad bonds, but more especially on those of the non-dividend paying properties. The most important fluctuations have been, Atlantic & Pacific firsts at 75, 85, 67; do. incomes at 10, 11, 7; 8; Burlington & Quincy debenture 5s at 93, 92; Chesapeake & Ohio firsts, series "B," at 96, 96½; 91, 92; do. currency 6s at 37, 37½, 31½, 32; Central Pacific gold bonds at 114. 113; Denver & Rio Grande first consols at 50¼, 50½, 46, 48; Denver & Rio Grande Western firsts at 33, 30, 31½; East Tennessee 5s at 50, 55, 50½, 55½; do. incomes at 14, 17; Erie second consols at 57⅝, 53, 55¼, 55; Fort Worth & Denver City firsts at 59, 55, 57, 45; Missouri Kansas & Texas consols at 104¼, 104½, 102; do. general mortgage 6s at 67, 67½, 65; Kansas Pacific consols at 77, 70, 72, 71; do. first 6s of 1896 at 105, 103; do. Denver Division firsts at 105¼, 101; Louisville & Nashville general mortgage 6s at 82, 78, 79; Lake Shore seconds at 119, 118; Northern Pacific firsts at 104, 101¾, 102½; New York Chicago & St. Louis firsts at 96½, 98, 96, 96½; New Orleans & Pacific 6's at 60, 56; Ohio Central firsts at 50, 45½, 50; Rome Watertown & Ogdensburg 5's at 69½, 70, 67, 67½; Oregon Short Line 6's at 82½, 84, 70, s 60, 75; Oregon & Trans-Continental firsts at 72, 69¾; Texas & Pacific land grant incomes at 41, 39, 39¾; do. Rio Grande Division firsts at 49½, 42, 44; Union Pacific firsts at 112⅝, 114, 112⅜; do. sinking funds at 108, 106; Missouri Pacific first consols at 98, 98½, 96, 97½; Oregon Improvement firsts at 62, 63½, 59; West Shore & Buffalo 5's at 40¾, 41¼, 39, 41⅝, 41¼.

There has been a very limited demand for State issues, but prices have ruled firm throughout. Sales include Alabama Class "A" at 81½, Tennessee 6s at 38½, do. new at 38⅛ and do. old at 38⅛.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market was depressed during all the early part of the week, prices showing a decline each day from Monday until Wednesday evening. The only special feature was the appointment of receivers for the West Shore road, but outside of this was the general influence of the various defaults on interest and the decrease in net earnings by many roads, which affected the stock market in the same way as these facts affected the prices of speculative bonds. Mr. Gould, however, has sustained his particular specialties—Missouri Pacific and Western Union—and in the last two days the prices of these (especially Missouri Pacific) have been marked up in order to make the shorts cover. This had some effect to cause a recovery in all prices and the declines of the early part of the week have been to some extent recovered. The net result, however, shows only about three stocks higher at the close on Friday than a week previous, viz.: Missouri Pacific, 7⅝; New York Central, 1; Western Union, ¾; most other stocks are from ½ to 6 points lower. Union Pacific has been one of the weakest stocks on the list, on reports of an unfavorable statement from Washington. The Granger stocks—Milwaukee & St. Paul and Minneapolis & Manitoba particularly—have also been quite heavy.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

New York & Greenwood Lake Railway.
(For the year ending Dec. 31, 1883.)

Mr. Abram S. Hewitt, President of this company, says in his report: "The revenue received from all sources amounted to $172,968, showing a falling off from the receipts of the previous year of $2,131. The cost of maintaining and operating the road, exclusive of taxes and interest, but including the loss in operating the Watchung Branch, amounted to $172,763, being an increase in the expenses of $18,074. The amount of interest on floating debt was $11,980. The practical result, therefore, of the year's business is that the deficit on the 31st of December, 1882, amounting to $152,936, has been increased to $164,711, the latter being the amount of deficit on the 31st of December, 1883. This sum has been advanced to the company—three-fourths by the New York Lake Erie & Western Railroad Company and one-fourth by Cooper & Hewitt—and is secured by an assignment of the tax liens and of the liens for wages advanced for operating the road." * * * "It will be observed that the earnings of the business just about sufficed for the payment of the current expenses, and that the increase in the deficit is practically the interest charge upon the floating debt. But so far as the operation of the road is concerned, the maintenance of way in 1883 exceeded the expenditures of 1882 by $11,654. This additional expenditure is represented by an increased mileage of steel rails, and of other improvements in permanent way. During the present year the steel track will be completed to Little Falls, or rather more than one-half the total length of the road. That the earnings do not increase is due chiefly to the depression in the iron business, and to the smaller receipts from the transportation of ice, which last year was sold at a very low price." * * * "The Legislature of New Jersey, at its last session, enacted a new tax law, under the operations of which it is hoped that this company may be relieved from the burden of taxation, which, from the beginning, has weighed it down."

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe.—This company has given notice to George H. Daniels, Commissioner of the Utah Pool, that at the expiration of 90 days from June 1 it will sever its connection with the Utah Pool, and that it will not remain in any pool with the Union Pacific as long as the Eastern connections of that line can cut rates.

Boston & Lowell—Northern—Boston Concord & Montreal.—A special meeting of the Boston & Lowell Railroad stockholders, to act upon the proposed lease by that corporation of the Northern Railroad of New Hampshire, the Peterboro & Hillsboro, the Concord & Claremont, and Boston Concord & Montreal railroads was held in Boston June 12. After some preliminary action it was decided to take a full ballot of the stockholders, the polls to remain open until Wednesday next. The terms proposed by the Boston & Lowell Railroad are substantially as follows:

It will pay to the Northern Road $38,355 in gold, quarterly, as rent the first payment to be made July 1, 1884. It assumes also all taxes, assessments and charges. It will pay interest coupons upon the existing first mortgage bonds of the Concord & Claremont Road, which bonds amount to $500,000, and also interest coupons upon the first mortgage bonds of the Petersboro & Hillsboro Road, which bonds amount to $100,000, and will cancel the bonds at maturity upon receiving therefor new bonds to the same amount at no higher rate of interest. It will at its own expense maintain the properties in as good order as they now are, and will make no mortgage without securing the above conditions to all parties concerned. The terms of the lease with the Boston Concord & Montreal Railroad are substantially as follows. The Boston & Lowell Company will, at its own expense, maintain, preserve, and keep the property in good condition; a sum equal to 25 per cent of the gross receipts of the Northern, the Concord & Claremont (N. H.), the Petersboro & Hillsboro, the Boston Concord & Montreal, and the Pewtgewassett Valley railroads, less $200,000 per annum, shall be set aside for the Boston Concord & Montreal Railroad as rental for its road and the Pemigewassett Valley. The Boston & Lowell, in consideration thereof, guarantees to the Boston Concord & Montreal that the balance of the 25 per cent remaining after the deduction of the $200,000 per annum shall be equal to the sum sufficient to pay the interest upon all the indebtedness of the lessor company and 6 per cent on outstanding preferred stock for the first year, and 5 per cent upon the same for each succeeding year thereafter during the continuance of the lease. The lessee company agrees to pay once in three months to the lessor any difference between the rental provided for and the guarantee given, and it is understood further that in case the gross receipts of the several roads exceed in amount in any one year $2,000,000, the rental of the lessor shall not in such an event exceed 25 per cent of said $2,000,000.

—At a meeting of the Boston Concord & Montreal Railroad, June 12, it was voted to lease the line to the Boston & Lowell corporation, and the President and Treasurer were authorized to execute the same and make supplementary contracts if necessary to carry out the lease. The vote upon the question was 7,675 in favor and 410 opposed.

Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul.—This company has applied to the Stock Exchange to list $800,000 5 per cent gold bonds of its Chicago & Pacific Western Division. The company in its application states that it has furnished and equipped forty miles additional road of said division since its application under date of January 10. The above bonds are issued to cover cost of road built at $20,000 a mile, and are dated Jan. 1, 1881, and payable January, 1921.

Chicago & Northwestern.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company and leased lines was held at the company's office in Chicago. There were 311,182 votes cast. The following directors were elected for a term of three years: Messrs. Wm. L. Scott, Erie, Pa.; C. J. Osborne, F. W. Vanderbilt, Jay Gould and H. McK. Twombly, New York, and Anson Stager, Chicago. Mr. J. B. Redfield was chosen a director for one year, to fill the unexpired term of the late Augustus Schell. President Keep informed the meeting that the result of the operations of the company for the fiscal year ending May 31 could not be accurately given at the present time. The accounts for May had to be corrected and written up, so as to include the whole year's business. This labor would require several weeks. A general statement, however, based upon the ascertained operations for eleven months, but estimating the business of May, would show that the gross earnings amounted to about $25,001,044, and the net results, after deducting all charges for the year for operating, taxes, interest on bonds, and payments of sinking funds, amounted to something over 9 per cent on all the outstanding common and preferred capital stock of the company.

The subject of the purchase, by transfer of bonds, of the leased lines in Iowa; namely, the Chicago Iowa & Nebraska Railroad, the Cedar Rapids & Missouri River Railroad and the Maple River Railroad, together with their tributary connections, viz., the Sioux City & Pacific Railroad, the Fremont Elkhorn & Missouri Valley Railroad, and the Missouri Valley & Blair Railway & Bridge Company at the crossing of the Missouri River, came up and was disposed of formally, a unanimous vote favoring their purchase. This exchange of stock will be finally consummated as soon as the necessary papers and documents can be prepared. A special meeting will, however, be held June 26 to authorize an increase of the common capital stock of the company, to be issued and used in exchange and payment for the capital stocks of the Chicago Iowa & Nebraska Railroad, the Cedar Rapids & Missouri River Railroad and the Maple River Railroad, making the amount by which it is proposed to increase the capital stock $14,757,500 in addition to the present capital stock. The directors met and elected the following officers: President, Albert Keep; Vice-Presidents, M. L. Sykes and Marvin Hughitt; Secretary and Treasurer, M. L. Sykes; Executive Committee, Albert Keep, Wm. L. Scott, A. G. Dulman, C. M. Depew, H. McK. Twombley, Samuel F. Barger and D. O. Mills. Mr. Twombly succeeds Mr. R. P. Flower.

Delaware Lackawanna & Western Leased Lines in New York.—The following statement has been obtained of the operations of these lines for the quarter ending March 31, 1884, from the returns made to the Railroad Commissioners of New York State. These leased lines include the Utica Chenango & Susquehanna Valley, Greene Oswego & Syracuse, New York Lackawanna & Western, Valley, and Cayuga & Susquehanna railroads.

STATEMENT OF THE EARNINGS, OPERATING EXPENSES AND NET INCOME FOR THE QUARTER ENDING MARCH 31, 1884.

Delaware Lackawanna & Western.—The Chicago Tribune comments in forcible style upon a topic which the CHRONICLE has discoursed on steadily for the past fifteen years, and will continue to discourse on so long as the railroad companies with stocks listed at the Stock Exchange decline to publish monthly or quarterly reports of their gross and net earnings. The Tribune says of the Delaware Lackawanna & Western:

"It is said in a New York financial dispatch that Mr. Percy Pyne has made personal investigation into the condition of Lackawanna, and he is fully satisfied that the company is able to continue to pay its present dividends * * * What a preposterous thing it is when you come to think about it, that it should be necessary for the public who are asked to buy—or not to sell—Lackawanna to form their opinions as to value and security from such vague and stylistic utterances as this from a man known at the most to few of them, and with motives still less known to any one. It is a capital illustration of the torpid subserviency which American stockholders have allowed themselves to drift into, and of the generally dull appreciation of the rights of stockholders that such a paragraph could be seriously printed in any newspaper. Why are not the accounts of the Lackawanna kept in such shape that any stockholder may find out what the condition of the property is without hiring an interpreter, who for all he knows may be secretly in the interests of the very men who may wish to mislead him? A stock listed on a public exchange, which the public are asked to deal in and invest in, which exists by virtue of public franchises, should keep the public informed of its earnings and expenses by regular statements, and its annual reports should be what those of very few American roads are, clear and honest expositions of the affairs of the company. This is not a 'bear' article on Lackawanna. We know of no facts inconsistent with Mr. Pyne's statement that the road will continue to earn its present dividends. But its withholding of information that belongs to stockholders, and its blind and confusing annual reports, which even experts declare it to be impossible to understand, are representative of abuse of American railway management which cannot be too plainly condemned by the press. There has been too much of this kind of financiering in this country."

Denver & Rio Grande.—This company's statement for April and for four months ending April 30 is follows:

| | April. | | Jan. 1 to April 30. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1884. | 1883. | 1884. | 1883. |
| Earnings | $549,385 | $596,731 | $1,881,961 | $2,066,407 |
| Expenses | 444,990 | 335,641 | 1,652,523 | 1,344,146 |
| Net earnings | $104,895 | $260,890 | $229,438 | $722,261 |

East Tennessee Virginia & Georgia.—The board of directors of this railroad company met June 13, and authorized the following statements, estimating the months of May and June:

|---|---|
| Gross earnings July 1, 1883, to July 1, 1884 | $4,158,045 |
| Net earnings July 1, 1883, to July 1, 1884 | 1,736,113 |

Annual fixed charges, including interest on the floating debt, $1,473,121. All fixed charges of the company falling due in 1884 have been provided for, and will be paid as they mature. The entire floating debt of the company has been provided for by the individual members of the board and their friends, who have extended the same over ten years, by taking 6 per cent debentures therefor at par. There has been no increase of floating debt during the past year, and there is no reason to anticipate any in future.

|---|---|
| Total unfunded liabilities, including car trust bonds | $3,124,885 |
| Car trust bonds, included above | 1,842,399 |
| Total liabilities, excluding car trust bonds | $1,582,486 |
| Available resources, including only items that the Executive Committee and Vice President Fink deem good for quick cash | $636,075 |
| Cash paid for ten year certificates | 1,200,000 |
| Total cash resources | $1,836,075 |
| Deduct liabilities | 1,582,486 |
| Balance as of April 1, 1884 | $253,589 |

The interest charge to be met July 1, 1884, is $596,286, and for this the company has the above surplus of $253,589, and the net earnings of April, May and June, which will be at least $323,385, giving a total of $576,974, while the net earnings of May and June are showing an increase over 1883, though only estimated above at the same figures as last year.

The Central Trust Company is now the fiscal agent of the company, and the coupons on all classes of bonds of the East Tennessee Virginia & Georgia, falling due July 1, will be paid by the Central Trust.

Elevated Railroads in New York.—Meetings of the stockholders of the Manhattan and New York Elevated railway companies have been called at the offices, No. 71 Broadway, Saturday, June 14, to ratify the plan of settlement between those two companies and the Metropolitan.

A meeting of the Metropolitan stockholders has been called for July 31 to vote on the same subject.

Louisville & Nashville.—The directors held a meeting on Monday to consider the plans submitted for a reorganization of the company. A full board was present with the exception of one member, who is in Europe. None of the directors gave any information as to what transpired at the meeting. A cable was placed before the board stating that representatives of a large amount of stock held in Europe desired to be present and participate in the proposed reorganization. With a view to this, the plans of reorganization were postponed.

The plan for the relief of the Louisville & Nashville suggested by Mr. Jay Gould proposed the pledging of the securities in the treasury of the company, amounting to $5,000,000, and the issuance of a collateral trust loan at 95, having ten years to run and bearing 6 per cent interest, the purchasers to receive an equal amount in stock as a bonus. Also that a syndicate of eight or ten members be formed, who should pledge themselves to take bonds not taken by stockholders, and upon the same terms, upon condition that the members of the syndicate be admitted to the directory.

Mr. Milton H. Smith of Louisville, Ky., the First Vice-President and General Manager of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, was on Wednesday elected President of the road, in place of J. S. Rogers, who resigned. A. M. Quarrier, the assistant to the President, and for years in charge of the finance and counting department, was made Vice-President, to take the place of Mr. Smith. Heman Clark, was elected a director in place of James T. Woodward, whose resignation was accepted. Mr. Rogers and C. C. Baldwin, his predecessor as President, both remain in the board. Mr. Smith is 48 years old, and has been connected with the road since 1865, with the exception of three years, from 1878, when he was General Freight Agent of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. The board of directors, at the meeting on Wednesday, took up the question of issuing collateral trust debenture bonds to provide for the floating debt, but postponed action to await the arrival of W. F. Whitehead, one of the directors, who sailed from Liverpool, June 12. An officer of the company declared that the road was not insolvent, and no court could put it in the hands of a receiver. The only trouble was that a large amount was borrowed on call loans. The creditors were strong financially, and not disposed to press the loans, which were amply secured. The securities of the company held as collateral for the loans were, even at the present market values, in excess of the loans. The net earnings of the road for the fiscal year ending June 30, with June estimated, were $1,125,000 in excess of interest, rentals and taxes.

Metropolitan Elevated.—Notice is given that a special meeting of stockholders will be held at the office of the company No. 31 Broad Street, on Thursday, July 31, for the purpose of submitting the question of approval by the stockholders of the provisional agreement entered into by the directors of this company, June 5, 1884, with the Manhattan Railway Company and the New York Elevated Railroad Company.

Mexican Central.—The Boston Transcript of June 12 said: Mexican Central sevens declined to 33. The directors to-day voted to adopt a funding scheme for the next three coupons falling due. The company will ask that these coupons, in amount about $3,840,375, be now cut off, and five-year 10 per cent scrip taken for them. The scrip will be secured by the coupons and $5,760,562 of Mexican Government subsidy certificates, this amount covering the scrip and its five years' interest. The funding scheme gives general satisfaction, and ought to advance the bonds, as it leaves the company in perfect ease until 1886, with a completed and earning line.

Mexican National.—The exhibit of gross and net earnings for the quarter ending March 31, 1884, is as follows:

| | Miles. | Gross. | Net. |

New York Lake Erie & Western.—The statement of gross and net earnings for April and for seven months of the fiscal year is given below, and the gross earnings this year include 68 per cent of the earnings of the New York Pennsylvania & Ohio leased line, the other 32 per cent of the earnings of that line being paid as rental. The net earnings are correct, and show the actual results to the N. Y. Lake E. & West. Company.

New York & New England.—Receiver Clark of the New York & New England Railroad Company has paid the full amount of interest of the first mortgage bonds that matured January 1, 1884.

A special meeting of stockholders is called for June 24 in Boston to act on the plans heretofore published for the financial relief of the company.

New York West Shore & Buffalo.—This company has been placed in the hands of ex-Judge Horace Russell and Theodore Houston, as receivers, on the application of the United States Trust Company, trustee of its first mortgage bonds. The order was granted in the first place on Saturday night, June 7, by Judge Charles F. Brown, of the Supreme Court of this State, sitting at Newburg, and afterwards a similar order was granted by Judge Nixon, of the United States Court, at Trenton, N. J., who appointed the same persons receivers of the property of the company within the limits of that State. The officers of the company then issued a statement about the receivership. After reciting the facts of the appointments the official statement continues:

The proceeding under which these appointments have been made is one to foreclose the mortgage, but persons who are interested in the property state that some plan of reorganization is expected to be agreed upon hereafter. Should this be done the foreclosure and sale thereunder will not be necessary. The gentlemen appointed are well known to the public. Judge Russell was formerly a Justice of the Superior Court in this city. His appointment as receiver was made in the interest of the first mortgage bondholders all of whom who were consulted favored it. He is a son-in-law of Judge Hilton. Mr. Theodore

Houston has been connected with the New York West Shore & Buffalo Railway for several years, and is Vice-President of the company. He is well known as an expert accountant and has had extensive railroad experience. He is a native of Orange County in this State, and is a man of high character and acknowledged ability.

In January last, the North River Construction Company, which had built the West Shore road went into the hands of a receiver with a debt due to contractors and others of about $9,000,000. It had previously completed the railway, and unlike many construction companies, it labored to complete a road as perfect in all its details as the most approved methods of construction could accomplish—one that could be operated at the least possible percentage of expenses. The character of the railway is proof of how thoroughly this purpose was carried out.

The railway company opened for business through its entire line on the first day of January last. It had a year's taxes to pay, considerable expenditures to make in the way of supplying additional equipment, completing some of its stations and providing many conveniences for advantageous operating its trains. The money necessary for these purposes had to be supplied from its daily receipts. These receipts, though very satisfactory under the circumstances, have been inadequate for the following reasons: It took some time to perfect connections and traffic arrangements with the West, to secure a fair share of the through business. The first six months of the year are always the period of least revenue. A disastrous war of rates has existed most of the time, and a rival railway has reduced the local freight rates at competing points about one half.

Arrangements were made in the month of May by which it was believed the company would raise sufficient money upon a second mortgage bond to meet all the necessities of the company, provided a majority in interest of first mortgage bondholders would fund their coupons for three years. The holders of only about $15,000,000 have thus far signed the funding agreement, though signatures are coming in daily, and no opposition to the funding has developed. The recent financial disturbances and the suits brought by creditors and stock holders of the construction company have made the raising of money upon junior securities at present impossible unless at a sacrifice to which the company ought not to submit. It has therefore been deemed for the best interests of all parties in ownership to place the properties of the company in the hands of receivers and under the protection of the court, and await a revival of traffic, a restoration of rates and a recovery from the present financial depression. This will give time for perfecting, under a more favorable condition of the markets, a plan for providing means for such moneys as the company may require.

The action for the appointment of receivers is a friendly one, and the trustee of the first mortgage bonds resorted to it only after the managers had abandoned their plan of relief by means of the issue of new bonds.

Northern Pacific.—In the statement of earnings published last week the heading over the last two columns should have read "July 1 to April 30," instead of "January 1 to April 30" as published, the earnings being for ten months instead of four.

Pennsylvania Railroad—Pittsburg Fort Wayne & Chicago.—At Pittsburg, June 11, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company filed a bill in equity in the Common Pleas Court against the Pittsburg Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company, to compel the latter to issue the balance of special guaranteed stock, alleged to have been agreed to under the lease of the latter's road. The plaintiffs allege that they leased the defendants' line in 1869; that pursuant to the terms of the lease there was expended by the plaintiffs about $10,668,413; that it was also agreed that there should be issued special stock called the guaranteed special stock of the Pittsburg Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company, which was to be issued to the lessees at par to the full amount of the expenditures made for the improvements. The defendants, until the summer of 1881, approved the statements and requisitions for improvements and additions and issued to the Pennsylvania Railroad the special stock." In the summer of 1881 the directors, without authority from the stockholders, refused to issue more of the "guaranteed special stock." The Pennsylvania Railroad Company in 1882, 1883 and the first four months of 1884 expended an aggregate of $1,018,192, and therefore demands the issue of guaranteed special stock to the amount of $2,244,748. The Court was asked to compel the defendants to issue at once the guaranteed special stock to the amount of $1,263,555, which represents the balance of expenditures for work done, and that a master be appointed to decide the matter.

From this bill it would appear that the efforts to compromise and settle the differences between the Fort Wayne and Pennsylvania railroad companies, for which several meetings have been held, were futile. The reason that the Fort Wayne people refused to issue the stock demanded was that it promised soon to exceed the amount of the original stock and thus to give the lessees entire control of the road which they virtually own.

Philadelphia & Reading.—At Philadelphia, June 6, the receivers filed an application in the United States Court for power to issue $2,000,000 of receivers' certificates to meet immediate payments. The arrangement with the Messrs. Drexel to pay the coupons of the consolidated loan of the company was only binding for thirty days, and a portion of the receivers' certificates will be put aside for that purpose.

Portland & Ogdensburg.—The former decree appointing General S. J. Anderson receiver of the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad, with power to issue certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $100,000, has been enlarged by Judge Gray to $200,000, the receiver to expend one-half the above amount on the New Hampshire division. The suit of the Mercantile Trust Company of New York against the road will be heard soon on its merits.

Postal Telegraph Co.—Bankers' & Merchants'.—The Executive Committees of these companies have agreed upon a contract for joint operation of their lines, and the Board of Directors have approved it. Mr. Cummins, of the Postal Telegraph, said to a New York Times reporter that the companies would do business in common, but the organizations would be kept separate. Mr. Mott would be the General Manager of both companies. The contract was in the nature of a pooling arrangement, running for 25 years from June 7. The earnings and expenses would be divided. Where both companies covered the same points, the division of business would be by percentages. The expenses of both organizations, Mr. Cummins added, would be greatly reduced by the arrangement. Their offices would be together at all points. Mr. Cummins then made the following statement of the extent and plans of the allied systems:

The union of these two companies brings under one control about 9,000 miles of pole lines, with about 35,000 miles of wire now completed and in operation, and there will soon be completed 3,000 miles more of pole line and 21,000 miles additional wire, making a total of 12,000 miles of pole line and 76,000 miles of wire. The united companies will have under this arrangement three lines to the city of New York and Brooklyn; three lines between New York and Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington; three lines between New York and Chicago, two lines between Chicago and St. Louis, one line from Chicago to St. Paul and Minneapolis, one line from St. Louis to Kansas City and Omaha; a main line from Washington to New Orleans through Richmond, Atlanta, Montgomery, and also a line extending from Richmond to Norfolk, and from Columbus to Charleston, and from Augusta to Savannah; and a second line to Atlanta by way of Cincinnati, Louisville, Nashville and Chattanooga.

One Chicago line runs direct by way of Binghamton, Elmira and Cleveland; another by way of Albany, Utica, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo and Toledo; another by way of Pittsburg, Columbus, Cincinnati and Terre Haute. There are two lines between Buffalo and Pittsburg through the oil regions; two lines to Toledo from the main Chicago lines, and a line to Detroit.

One line to Boston is by way of New Haven and Providence; another by way of Hartford, and another by way of Albany and Springfield. There is also a second line from Richmond by way of Lynchburg to Augusta, and a large number of local lines in Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts and other localities.

This combination also includes a complete stock quotation or ticker system (the Commercial) now in operation in this city and Philadelphia, and also soon to be started in Chicago and other cities; also a complete telephone system (the Metronough), being the recently-granted priority of invention by the Patent Office over the Bell. The whole forms a complete system of land lines and necessary adjuncts, which will be operated in connection with the Bennett-Mackay ocean cables.

The Executive Committees of the two companies will form a joint committee for their united management. E. Burton Hart, John Anderson and Franklin Edwards have entered the Bankers' & Merchants' Board to represent the Postal. They took the places of W. W. Maris, George Putnam Smith and S. D. Houston. In addition A. W. Dimock, G. S. Mott, the President, and J. G. Case, the Treasurer of the Bankers' & Merchants' Company, will represent in that board the Postal Company's interests. That gives the Postal a representation of six out of nine directors. The Bankers' & Merchants' controls the American Rapid and Southern Telegraph Companies, which will be operated with the others.

Union Pacific.—The April statement of the Union Pacific is the best that the company has yet made this year. The earnings for April and for the four months of the fiscal year were as follows:

| | April. | | 4 mos. to April 30. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1884. | 1883. | 1884. | 1883. |
| Gross earnings.. | $2,128,964 | $2,563,276 | $7,188,753 | $8,345,112 |
| Op. expenses..... | 1,177,024 | 1,079,242 | 4,887,900 | 4,201,507 |
| Net earnings... | $951,939 | $1,284,033 | $2,300,592 | $4,143,605 |

As to the exaggerated reports about the company's indebtedness to the Government, Mr. Dillon says that the matters in controversy will be adjudicated this fall, when it will be shown that the Government is debtor to the company. Mr. F. L. Ames states that the U.P. floating debt, as reported to Congress, is made up without taking into account the proper offsets, such as cash on hand, bills and accounts receivable, securities other than investments, materials on hand, etc. The debt on March 31, the date to which the Government examination extended, was, allowing for offsets, about $3,500,000, instead of the gross figures represented.

The number of acres of land sold on the Nebraska division from January 1 to June 1 was 1,647,024, and the amount received was $3,369,256. On the Kansas division the sales were 167,449 acres, and the receipts $803,691. The land receipts on the Nebraska division go to pay off land grant bonds and 8 per cent sinking funds.

Wabash St. Louis & Pacific.—At St. Louis, Mo., an application has been filed in the United States Circuit Court by the receivers of this Railroad, setting forth the approximate amounts due by the company for labor, supplies, mechanics' liens and taxes, and asking the court to decide what amount of receivers' certificates it would authorize them to issue. The amount due for labor is stated at over $1,000,000, for material and supplies at over $750,000, for taxes at over $200,000, for mechanics' liens at over $35,000, or, in round numbers, $2,000,000. The certificates are to run not less than one nor more than two years, to bear 7 per cent interest, and to be issued in denominations of five, ten and twenty thousand dollars each. They are to be disposed of at par and used as collateral for raising money to pay the company's debts in the direction named above.

Western Union Telegraph.—The report for the quarter ending June 30, 1884, shows that the report for the quarter ended March 31, 1884, over-estimated the net revenues for that quarter by $15,742. ## COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, June 13, 1884.

The feature of the past week has been the marked depression in all staples of agriculture, under improved crop accounts. There have been rains where rains were needed, and dry, warm weather where rains had been abundant or excessive. Official and semi-official reports of the condition and prospects of the cotton and grain crops have been published and are given on another page. The lower prices have led in some cases to a more active movement for export, especially so in wheat. There is a reported slight improvement in the coal and iron trades, but generally trade partakes of between-season aspects.

The lard speculation has been quite dull, and recently prices have declined. To-day there was a heavy selling movement, under which values were further reduced, closing at 8·29c. for July, 8·41c. for August and 8·49c. for September. Spot lard is also lower, closing dull at 7·85@7·90c. for prime City, 8·20@8·25c. for prime Western and 8·35@8 40c. for refined for the Continent. Pork is also lower, but closes steadier at $16 75@$17 50 for mess, old and new, and $18 25@$19 for clear back. Bacon is quite nominal. Cutmeats have sold rather more freely, but at prices favoring buyers. Beef has remained dull, but in beef hams there is a further advance, $28 50@$29. Tallow and stearine are quiet. Butter is firmer at 18@23c. for creamery. Cheese at a decline closes more active at 7@10½c. for State factory. The following is a comparative summary of aggregate exports from Nov. 1 to June 7.

|---|---|---|---|
| Pork, lbs | 24,973,600 | 29,623,200 | 4,649,600 |
| Bacon, lbs | 220,845,757 | 270,918,104 | 50,072,347 |
| Lard, lbs | 128,188,455 | 148,464,275 | 20,275,820 |
| Total lbs | 374,007,812 | 449,005,579 | 74,997,767 |

Rio coffee has been more active at an advance to 10c. for fair cargoes, but to-day there were sales of that grade at 9¾c.; options have advanced, with a good business at times, but the close is dull and easy at 8·15@8·25c. for June, 8·25@8·35c. for July, 8·40@8·45c. for August, 8·50@8·55c. for September, 8·55@8·60c. for October, 8 60@8·65c. for November and 8·70c.@8,75c. for December; mild grades have sold well at about steady prices. Tea has been dull and to a great extent nominal; the tendency of prices is downward. Spices have been quiet, and though foreign green fruits have sold well at firm prices, dried have been dull and rather weak. Rice has shown no change. Molasses has been dull, and fifty degrees test Cuba is now quoted at 15½c. Raw sugar has been dull and weak, closing with sales of centrifugal of 96 degrees test at 5⅝c.; fair refining is quoted at 4 13-16c. on the spot, and sold for September to-day at as low as 4·90c.; refined has been dull at 7½@7⅝c. for cut loaf and crushed, 6½@6 9-16c. for granulated and 6 3-16c. for standard "A."

In Kentucky tobacco the movement, both legitimate and speculative, has been limited, but an undertone of steadiness still pervades the situation; lugs, 7¾@8¼c.; leaf, 8½@9¾c. Seed leaf has been extremely dull, and a slight irregularity has been noticed in prices; sales for the week 985 cases, embracing 200 cases crop 1883, Pennsylvania, for export, private terms; 200 cases crop 1882, do., 5@18c.; 100 cases crop 1881, do., 9c.; 250 cases crop 1883, New England, 12½@30c.; 50 cases crop 1882, Wisconsin Havana seed, 28@40c.; 85 cases crop 1882, Ohio, 5¾c., and 100 cases sundries, 4⅞@18c.; also, 400 bales Havana, 80c.@$1 15, and 200 bales Sumatra, $1 20@$1 60.

In naval stores, while there has been some speculative movement in both rosins and spirits turpentine, the legitimate outlet has been quite indifferent, and to-day the former shows weakness at $1 25@$1 32½ for strained to good strained, the latter being quoted at 30½@30¾c. in yard. Refined petroleum has dropped from 8¼c. to 8c. for 70 Abel test, and the sales for the week aggregate 125,000 bbls. at 8⅛@8c.; cases have declined to 8½c. for cargoes, and have had a fair movement to Japan, Calcutta and the Mediterranean. Crude oil certificates have gone by the board very rapidly, and yesterday 69c. was reached. To-day there was an early improvement to 73c., which was quickly lost, and 70¾c. was quoted; the final figures were 71¼c. Of metals, oils, hops and wool nothing new can be mentioned, prices in many instances being quite nominal.

In ocean freight-room the movement either in cereals, provisions or in general merchandise has been quite moderate, and yet, looking over the week, it will be noticed that, as a rule, rates have remained about steady. The same remarks will apply to charter room, and particularly to oil tonnage. To-day grain was taken to Liverpool by steam at 3d.; bacon, 20s.; grain to Hull by steam, 3½d.; do. to London by steam, 3¾d.; do. to Glasgow by steam, 4d.; flour, 12s. 6d.; grain to Antwerp by steam, 3½d.; do. to Hamburg by steam, 40 pfennigs; refined petroleum to Liverpool, 2s. 6d (July clearance); crude to Cette or Marseilles, 2s. 10½d.; cases to Calcutta, 19½c.

COTTON.

FRIDAY, P. M., June 13, 1884.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE CROP, as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night, is given below. For the week ending this evening (June 13), the total receipts have reached 8,409 bales, against 12,584 bales last week, 8,129 bales the previous week and 5,863 bales three weeks since; making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1883, 4,772,655 bales, against 5,669,156 bales for the same period of 1882-83, showing a decrease since September 1, 1883, of 1,096,501 bales.

The speculation in cotton for future delivery at this market has been only moderately active during the week under review, at some decline in prices. Saturday last was, however, quite buoyant, on the reiterated reports of excessive rain and damage by floods in the Southwest, and some revival of confidence strengthening the views of speculative holders. On Monday, the report of the National Cotton Exchange appeared, and there was a return of good weather in the Southwest, under which there were sales to realize, causing a downward tendency to the close of Tuesday's business. On Wednesday, the report of the Agricultural Bureau appeared, and being regarded as more favorable than had been expected, caused a continuance of the selling movement. On Thursday, there was a steadier market till near the close, when selling orders from New Orleans, growing out of a failure in that market, caused a further decline of a few points. To-day there was very little change, and the close was quiet. As compared with last Friday, June is 4 points lower; the other months 9@12 points lower. Cotton on the spot was advanced 1-16c. on Saturday, and remained without change to the close of yesterday's business. The demand has been fair for export, but business for home consumption was quite moderate. To-day, the market was easier, but not quotably lower; middling uplands $11\frac{5}{8}$c.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 284,200 bales. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 12,412 bales, including 10,550 for export, 1,862 for consumption, — for speculation and — in transit. Of the above, — bales were to arrive. The following are the official quotations for each day of the past week.

* This year's figures estimated.

The above totals show that the old interior stocks have decreased during the week 5,275 bales and are to-night 44,793 bales less than at the same period last year. The receipts at the same towns have been 2,494 bales less than the same week last year, and since September 1 the receipts at all the towns are 696,599 bales less than for the same time in 1882-83.

QUOTATIONS FOR MIDDLING COTTON AT OTHER MARKETS.—in the table below we give the closing quotations of middling cotton at Southern and other principal cotton markets for each day of the past week.

RECEIPTS FROM THE PLANTATIONS.—The following table is prepared for the purpose of indicating the actual movement each week from the plantations. Receipts at the outports are sometimes misleading, as they are made up more largely one year than another at the expense of the interior stocks. We reach, therefore, a safer conclusion through a comparative statement like the following. In reply to frequent inquiries we will add that these figures, of course, do not include overland receipts or Southern consumption; they are simply a statement of the weekly movement from the plantations of that part of the crop which finally reaches the market through the outports.

The above statement shows—1. That the total receipts from the plantations since September 1, 1883, were 4,773,854 bales; in 1882-83 were 5,951,434 bales; in 1881-82 were 4,613,154 bales.

2.—That, although the receipts at the outports the past week were 8,409 bales, the actual movement from plantations was only 2,655 bales, the balance being taken from the stocks at the interior towns. Last year the receipts from the plantations for the same week were 14,410 bales and for 1882 they were 2,672 bales.

AMOUNT OF COTTON IN SIGHT JUNE 13.—In the table below we give the receipts from plantations in another form, and add to them the net overland movement to June 1, and also the takings by Southern spinners to the same date, so as to give substantially the amount of cotton now in sight.

|---|---|---|---|---|
| Receipts at the ports to J'ne 13 | 4,772,655 | 5,869,156 | 4,586,171 | 5,622,692 |
| Interior stocks on June 13 in excess of September 1..... | 1,199 | 82,278 | 26,983 | 58,109 |

| Net overland to June 1..... | 562,100 | 627,317 | 441,333 | 498,632 |
| Southern consumpt'n to June 1 | 280,000 | 300,000 | 224,000 | 190,000 |
| Total in sight June 13... .... | 5,615,954 | 6,878,751 | 5,278,487 | 6,369,433 |

It will be seen by the above that the decrease in amount in sight to-night, as compared with last year, is 1,262,797 bales, the increase as compared with 1881-82 is 337,467 bales, and the decrease from 1880-81 is 753,479 bales.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—There has been a very favorable change in the weather conditions in the Southwest during the week, the heavy rains having been succeeded in great part by dry and warm weather. In the Atlantic and Gulf States beneficial rains have fallen, and generally the promise is better than a week ago. We notice, however, that some complaints of wet weather are now being made in the Atlantic States.

Galveston, Texas.—The weather has been warm and dry all of the week. Average thermometer 83, highest 89, lowest 74.

Indianola, Texas.—We have had warm and dry weather all the week. Good progress is being made in clearing the fields of weeds. The thermometer has averaged 80, the highest being 91 and the lowest 72.

Palestine, Texas.—We have had no rain during the week, and crop prospects are improving. Good progress is making in clearing the fields of weeds. Considerable overflowed land has been re-planted. The thermometer has averaged 77, ranging from 62 to 89.

Huntsville, Texas.—The weather has been warm and dry during the week. Uplands crops are greatly improved by the dry weather, but the overflowing bottoms, especially in the Trinity Valley, have barely finished re-planting and a good deal of land will be thrown out altogether. The thermometer has ranged from 62 to 94, averaging 79.

Luling, Texas.—We have had no rain during the week, and a good shower would be beneficial. Crop accounts are more favorable. Average thermometer 82, highest 94 and lowest 66.

Brenham, Texas.—Warm and dry weather all the week. The overflow has subsided and much re-planting has been done. Crop accounts are more favorable on the highlands. Fields are still in the grass, but good progress is being made in clearing them. The thermometer has averaged 83, the highest being 97 and the lowest 67.

Belton, Texas.—We have had no rain during the week. Except in the overflowed valleys crops are doing well. The wheat harvest is turning out better than expected. The thermometer has averaged 79, ranging from 61 to 94.

Weatherford, Texas.—There has been no rain during the week, and crop accounts are more favorable. The wheat harvest is approaching completion with satisfactory results. The thermometer has ranged from 59 to 93, averaging 78.

Dallas, Texas.—Fortunately we have had no rain all the week, and things look a shade better. The overflows have subsided. Much damage has been done, but nevertheless the reported damage to crops is greatly exaggerated. The wheat harvest is proceeding. Railroads are again running. Much re-planting has been done. Average thermometer 83, highest 98, lowest 65.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—It has rained on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching eighty-nine hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 79.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—The weather during the week has been very fair, with a light rain on the 9th, the rainfall reaching thirty hundredths of an inch. Crop prospects are much improved. The thermometer has ranged from 63 to 95.

Vicksburg, Mississippi.—Telegram not received.

Meridian, Mississippi.—It has rained on two days of the week. The weather has been too cold, which is injurious to the crop. Cotton is reported to be covered with lice in many localities. The thermometer has ranged from 58 to 92.

Greenville, Mississippi—Telegram not received.

Columbus, Mississippi.—It has been showery on three days, and the remainder of the week has been cloudy. The rainfall reached thirty-two hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 58 to 87, averaging 74.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—Telegram not received.

Pine Bluff, Arkansas.—Telegram not received.

Fort Smith, Arkansas.—Telegram not received.

Helena, Arkansas.—The weather has been pleasant but cool during the week, with no rain. Crop accounts are more favorable. The thermometer has ranged from 61 to 86, averaging 73.

Newport, Arkansas.—Telegram not received.

Memphis, Tennessee.—We have had light sprinkles during the week, the rainfall being inappreciable. Good progress is being made in clearing the fields of grass. The thermometer has averaged 72·5, the highest being 89 and the lowest 59.

Nashville, Tennessee.—It has rained on six days of the week, the rainfall reaching two inches and thirty-five hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 70, ranging from 61 to 87.

Mobile, Alabama.—It has been showery on three days of the week, and has rained severely on one day. The rainfall reached two inches and seven hundredths. The crop is developing promisingly, but there is too much rain in some localities. The thermometer has ranged from 61 to 94, averaging 76.

Montgomery, Alabama.—We have had delightful showers on six days of the week, and the indications are that they extended over a wide surface, the rainfall reaching ninety-six hundredths of an inch. The crop is developing promisingly, and the fields are clear of weeds. The thermometer has averaged 73·4.

Selma, Alabama.—It has rained on six days of the week, the rainfall reaching three inches and seventy-five hundredths. We are having too much rain. The thermometer has averaged 71, the highest being 83 and the lowest 61.

Madison, Florida—Telegram not received.

Macon, Georgia.—It has rained on six days of the week, severly on Thursday, and it is still cloudy. There are some complaints of lice, owing to cool nights. If the rains continue damage will result.

Columbus, Georgia.—It has rained on every day of the week, the rainfall reaching three inches and fifty-seven hundredths. We are having too much rain. Average thermometer 71, highest 83 and lowest 63.

Savannah, Georgia.—We have had rain on seven days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and ninety hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 75, the highest being 91 and the lowest 68.

Augusta, Georgia.—It has rained on five days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and forty-five hundredths. Crop accounts are generally good. The thermometer has averaged 73, ranging from 65 to 90.

Atlanta, Georgia.—It has rained on six days of the week, and is still raining. The ground is very wet. Nights are cool. The thermometer has ranged from 61 to 84, averaging 70.

Charleston, South Carolina.—It has rained on five days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and seventy-five hundredths. Average thermometer 76, highest 84 and lowest 69.

Columbia, South Carolina.—Telegram not received.

The following statement we have also received by telegraph, showing the height of the rivers at the points named at 3 o'clock June 12, 1884, and June 14, 1883.

| | | June 12, '84 | | June 14, '83 | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Feet. | Inch. | Feet. | Inch. |
| New Orleans | Below high-water mark | 2 | 6 | 4 | 2 |
| Memphis | Above low-water mark | 17 | 10 | 37 | 4 |
| Nashville | Above low-water mark | 4 | 0 | 27 | 2 |
| Vicksburg | Above low-water mark | 3 | 4 | 30 | 1 |

New Orleans reported below high-water mark of 1871 until Sept. 9, 1874, when the zero of gauge was changed to high-water mark of April 15 and 16, 1874, which is 6 10ths of a foot above 1871, or 16 feet above low-water mark at that point.

INDIA COTTON MOVEMENT FROM ALL PORTS.—We have re-arranged our India service so as to make our reports more detailed and at the same time more accurate. We had found it impossible to keep out of our figures, as cabled to us for the ports other than Bombay, cargoes which proved only to be shipments from one India port to another. The plan now followed relieves us from the danger of this inaccuracy and keeps the totals correct. We first give the Bombay statement for the week and year, bringing the figures down to June 12.

BOMBAY RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS FOR FOUR YEARS.

| Year | Shipments this week. | | | Shipments since Jan. 1. | | | Receipts | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Great Brit'n. | Continent. | Total. | Great Britain | Continent. | Total. | This Week. | Since Jan. 1. |
| 1884 | 26,000 | 10,000 | 36,000 | 130,000 | 552,000 | 982,000 | [illegible] | 1,121,000 |
| 1883 | 18,000 | 45,000 | 63,000 | 359,000 | 721,000 | 1,080,000 | [illegible] | 1,467,000 |

According to the foregoing, Bombay appears to show an increase compared with last year in the week's receipts of 10,000 bales, and a decrease in shipments of 27,000 bales, and the shipments since January 1 show a decrease of 101,000 bales. The movement at Calcutta, Madras and other India ports for the last reported week and since the 1st of January, for two years, has been as follows. "Other ports" cover Ceylon, Tuticorin, Kurrachee and Coconada.

| | Shipments for the week. | | | Shipments since January 1. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. | Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. |
| Calcutta— | | | | | | |

| 1883 | 3,500 | 900 | 4,400 | 66,000 | 10,000 | 76,000 |
| Madras— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 13,000 | 4,600 | 17,600 |
| 1883 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 4,500 | 1,000 | 5,500 |
| All others— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 13,500 | 4,000 | 17,500 |
| 1883 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 4,000 | 2,000 | 6,000 |
| Total all— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 114,000 | 49,800 | 163,800 |
| 1883 | 3,500 | 900 | 4,400 | 74,500 | 13,000 | 87,500 |

The above totals for the week show that the movement from the ports other than Bombay is 4,400 bales less than same week last year. For the whole of India, therefore, the total shipments since January 1, 1884, and for the corresponding periods of the two previous years, are as follows:

EXPORTS TO EUROPE FROM ALL INDIA.

| Shipments to all Europe from— | 1884. | | 1883. | | 1882. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | This week. | Since Jan. 1. | This week. | Since Jan. 1. | This week. | Since Jan. 1. |
| Bombay | 36,000 | 982,000 | 63,000 | 1,033,000 | 31,000 | 1,142,000 |
| All other ports | ..... | 163,800 | 4,400 | 87,500 | 5,300 | 181,600 |
| Total | 36,000 | 1,145,800 | 67,400 | 1,170,500 | 36,300 | 1,323,600 |

This last statement affords a very interesting comparison of the total movement for the three years at all India ports.

ALEXANDRIA RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS.—Through arrangements we have made with Messrs. Davies, Benachi & Co., of Liverpool and Alexandria, we now receive a weekly cable of the movements of cotton at Alexandria, Egypt. The following are the receipts and shipments for the past week and for the corresponding week of the previous two years.

| Alexandria, Egypt, June 11. | 1883-84. | | 1882-83. | | 1881-82 | |

| Total Europe | 2,000 | 382,000 | 1,000 | 316,000 | ..... | 417,571 |

* A cantar is 98 lbs.

This statement shows that the receipts for the week ending June 11 were 2,000 cantars and the shipments to all Europe 2,000 bales.

MANCHESTER MARKET.—Our report received from Manchester to-night states that the market is dull. We give the prices of to-day below, and leave previous weeks' prices for comparison.

OUR COTTON ACREAGE REPORT.—Our cotton acreage report will be ready about the 18th of June. Parties desiring the circular in quantities, with their business card printed thereon, should send in their orders as soon as possible, to ensure early delivery.

EUROPEAN COTTON CONSUMPTION TO JUNE 1.—By cable to-day we have Mr. Ellison's cotton figures, brought down to June 1. The revised totals for last year have also been received and are given for the purpose of comparison. The takings by spinners, in actual bales and pounds, have been as follows:

| From Oct. 1 to June 1. | Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| For 1883-84. | | | |
| Takings by spinners...bales | 2,532,000 | 2,237,000 | 4,769,000 |
| Average weight of bales.... | 430 | 427 | 428·5 |
| Takings in pounds ..... | 1,088,760,000 | 955,199,000 | 2,043,959,000 |
| For 1882-83. | | | |
| Takings by spinners...bales | 2,476,000 | 2,477,000 | 4,953,000 |
| Average weight of bales.... | 440 | 429 | 433 |
| Takings in pounds ..... | 1,089,563,000 | 1,057,600,000 | 2,147,123,000 |

According to the above, the average weight of the deliveries in Great Britain is 430 pounds per bale to June 1, against 440 pounds per bale during the same time last season. The Continental deliveries average 427 pounds, against 429 pounds last year, and for the whole of Europe the deliveries average 428·5 pounds per bale, against 433 pounds during the same period last season. In the following table we give the stock held by the mills, their takings and their consumption, each month since October 1, all reduced to bales of 400 pounds each for this season and last season. It is a very convenient and useful summary:

| Oct. 1 to June 1. Bales of 400 lbs. each. 000s omitted. | 1883-84. | | | 1882-83. | | |

A more striking comparison with last year is reached by bringing together the above totals and adding the average weekly consumption up to this time for the two years:

| Oct. 1 to June 1. Bales of 400 lbs. each. 000s omitted. | 1883-84. | | | 1882-83. | | |

The foregoing shows that the actual weekly consumption in Europe during May was 141,000 bales of 400 lbs. each, against 139,000 bales of the same weights at the corresponding time last year.

REPORT OF THE NATIONAL COTTON EXCHANGE ON THE ACREAGE AND CONDITION OF COTTON.—The National Cotton Exchange issued on June 9th its first report on the cotton crop under the plan adopted at the convention at Point Comfort. The report is summarized as follows:

"Taking a general view of the present season within the cotton belt, it will be found from our returns that in all that section east of meridian 100° west from Washington, which passes near New Orleans and Jackson, Miss., an area of 1,765,000 square miles, including Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, and a large part of the bottom lands of Mississippi, the early spring, though wet and cold, was followed by a dry May, with a range of the thermometer which, though quite unfavorable, was higher than last year. Though the planting was late, pretty good stands were obtained, the fields were well cultivated in May and are comparatively free from grass, and the lands are mellow. These facts would go far to compensate for the lateness of the planting. This area, though embracing about 64 per cent of the cotton acreage of the South, produced only about 53 per cent of the crop in 1882-3.

West of this line of longitude, embracing the bottom lands of Mississippi and Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, an area of 3,015,000 square miles, or about 47 per cent of the crop in 1882-3, the season has been extremely unfavorable. The rainfall throughout the spring has been excessive, rendering planting impracticable in many localities, preventing cultivation where the cotton was up, washing up the young plants that had come up, and seeding the fields in grass. The worst conditions have prevailed in Texas—replanting has been reported to June 1, and the latest named State the flooding rains 1 June 2 and 4 have thrown back work, so that seeding is still going on. The general condition of this area is, therefore, very unfavorable, Arkansas perhaps the best chances for an average crop.

Taking the whole belt together, we find there has been no increase in acreage, with the condition of the crop on May 31 no better than last year, which was poor, than for several years. Labor is plentiful, and no complaints are heard in relation thereto."

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S REPORT ON ACREAGE.—The Agricultural Department at Washington issued on the 10th inst. its report on cotton condition and acreage. The following is what it says on the subject of acreage:

The returns of cotton planting made to the Department of Agriculture indicate a tendency to increase of area, checked somewhat in the Southwest by rains and inundations, and in North Carolina and Tennessee by low temperature in the planting season. Replanting was still in progress to some extent on the 1st of June, even in the lower latitudes. The apparent increase is about 4 per cent. It would have been larger with a better planting season. The comparison with the area of the previous crop is as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Virginia | 83 | Mississippi | 105 |
| North Carolina | 101 | Louisiana | 99 |
| South Carolina | 106 | Texas | 105 |
| Georgia | 103 | Arkansas | 106 |
| Florida | 104 | Tennessee | 101 |
| Alabama | 105 | Missouri | 80 |

The Agricultural Department in this report has not carried out its percentages and given a statement in acres. It did so last year and, using its figures then published, and working out its present percentages on them, we obtain the following:

| | 1884. | | 1883. | | 1882. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Per ct. | Acres. | Per ct. | Acres. | Per cent. | Acres. |

| Total | 104 | 17,425,980 | 103 | 16,780,000 | 97·4 | 16,276,691 |

The following is the report of the department on condition:

The temperature of April was lower than the average throughout the cotton States. Rainfall was deficient on the Atlantic coast, and slightly less than normal in the Gulf States, but rains were excessive in May throughout the Southwest, causing overflows of rivers, injuring stands everywhere and causing a large amount of re-planting.

The latter part of May was warm and clear on a considerable portion of the Atlantic coast, causing rapid growth, and affording opportunity for thorough weeding and clean cultivation. In the West fields are grassy, and "chopping out" not yet finished.

The season is one to two weeks late. The plants are generally thrifty and vigorous. The main cause of relatively low condition is want of size, which a few weeks of fine weather may remedy, yet a continuance of bad weather would now be disastrous beyond the Mississippi.

The general average of condition is 87, against 86 in June of last year and 89 in 1882. The figures by States are:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Virginia | 90 | Mississippi | 87 |
| North Carolina | 93 | Louisiana | 72 |
| South Carolina | 97 | Texas | 77 |
| Georgia | 96 | Arkansas | 85 |
| Florida | 99 | Tennessee | 92 |
| Alabama | 93 | Missouri | 90 |

The above statement of condition, compared with the reports for previous years, is as follows:

| Oak and Pine Uplands | 81 | 77 | 10 | 98 |

NOTE.—Metamorphic region embraces Chambers, Clay, Coosa, Cherokee, Lee, Talladega, Tallapoosa and Randolph counties. Prairie includes Barbour, Bullock, Dallas, Greene, Hale, Lowndes, Montgomery, Marengo, Macon, Perry, Pickens, Russell, Sumter and Wilcox counties. Coast and Drifting Valleys embraces Cherokee, Calhoun, Lowndes, St. Clair, Shelby and Talladega counties. Tennessee Valley includes Colbert, Franklin, Lawrence, Limestone, Lauderdale, Jackson, Madison, Morgan and Marshall counties. Longleaf Pine region embraces Butler, Baldwin, Conecuh, Covington, Crenshaw, Coffee, Clarke, Choctaw, Dale, Escambia, Geneva, Henry, Mobile, Monroe, Pike and Washington counties. Coal Fields includes Blount, Cullman, Tuscaloosa, Fayette, Lamar, Marion, Walker, Winston, Jefferson and De Kalb counties. Oak and Pine Uplands includes Autauga, Chilton and Bibb counties.

COMPARATIVE PORT RECEIPTS AND DAILY CROP MOVEMENT.—A comparison of the port movement by weeks is not accurate, as the weeks in different years do not end on the same day of the month. We have consequently added to our other standing tables a daily and monthly statement, that the reader may constantly have before him the data for seeing the exact relative movement for the years named. The movement each month since September 1, 1883, has been as follows.

| Monthly Receipts. | Year Beginning September 1. | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1883 | 1882. | 1881. | 1880. | 1879. | 1878 |

| Per'tage of tot. port receipts May 31 | 96·61 | 96·43 | 94·47 | 94·91 | 98·78 | |

This statement shows that up to May 31 the receipts at the ports this year were 1,062,921 bales less than in 1882-83, and 200,983 bales more than at the same time in 1881-82. By adding to the above totals to May 31 the daily receipts since that time, we shall be able to reach an exact comparison of the movement for the different years.

| Percentage of total port rec'pts June 14 | 97·38 | 97 62 | 95·42 | 95 67 | 99 11 | |

This statement shows that the receipts since Sept. 1 up to to-night are now 1,089,124 bales less than they were to the same day of the month in 1883 and 1,192,982 bales more than they were to the same day of the month in 1882. We add to the table the percentages of total port receipts which had been received to June 13 in each of the years named.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—There has been a fair demand for bagging since our last report and the market continues steady. The demand is of a jobbing character, but the aggregate is good for the season, and sellers are looking for a better demand later on and are not disposed to accept less than quoted rates, which are 9c. for 1¾ lbs., 10c. for 1¾ lb., 10½c. for 2 lb. and 11½c. for standard grades. The market has been rather quiet for butts, and only a few small transactions are noted. The prices are about steady, but buyers were disposed to hold off to see the result of the sale which took place to-day. The market closes at 2 1/16@2¼c. for paper grades and 2 3/16@2¼c. with some sellers asking up to 2½c. The offerings at auction were of 14,120 bales, and of the offerings 6,325 bales were withdrawn and the balance was disposed of as follows: For bagging 2·05c. for 1¾ lbs., 2·07c. for 2 lbs. and 2·80c. for bales, bringing fairly well up to market figures.

THE EXPORTS OF COTTON from New York this week show an increase, as compared with last week, the total reaching 17,106 bales, against 12,830 bales last week. Below are our usual tables, giving the exports of cotton from New York, and their direction, for certain periods. In the last column we show the exports and destinations since September 1, 1883, and in the last line the total for the same period of the previous year.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, P. M., June 13, 1884.

Flour has sold very slowly, and has remained more or less depressed in value. The supply is large, considering the smallness of the trade. To-day the market was dull and weak for all descriptions. There is a lack of new or interesting features.

Wheat some days ago sold freely for export, the business being largely in the spring cereal, but latterly the foreign transactions have at the best reached only a fair aggregate. The speculation has not been active, bulls showing no inclination to materially increase their holdings, and bears being timid about putting out any large lines of shorts. Prices for red wheat have declined. The outlook for the crop is favorable, not only in the United States, but in most of the other producing countries of the world. The receipts at Chicago are increasing, and new Southern wheat is already being marketed. It is said that harvesting will begin next week in the region of Kansas City, and that even in the far Northwest the outlook for the crop of spring wheat is exceptionally favorable. The favorable report in regard to the condition of the crop by the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, in conjunction with the other depressing influences, is said to be turning many former advocates of high prices at the West into operators on the short side of the market. To-day there was a moderate business here at a decline in red wheat of ¼ to ½c. No. 2 red sold at $1 01⅜ delivered, 99@99¼c. for June, $1 00⅝@$1 01¼ for July and $1 02¾@$1 03¼ for August Spring wheat was steady at 90c. for No. 3 and 96@97c. for No. 2; ungraded sold at as low as 75c. No. 3 red closed at $1 01½ delivered, 99c. for June, $1 00⅞ for July, $1 02⅞ for August and $1 04⅛ for September, showing a decline of 2c. during the week. There was some covering by the shorts this afternoon, and the close was steady owing to this fact.

Indian corn has been quiet on speculation, though at times fairly active for export. Prices have followed the wheat market downward. The slight decrease in the visible supply at the West is disappointing to the bulls, while the large receipts at Chicago, and the comparatively light shipment eastward, have afforded the opposite party arguments for lower prices. The favorable crop prospects, and some depression in the foreign markets, have likewise been dwelt upon. To-day the market here was irregular, corn on the spot being a fraction lower, while options advanced slightly. The supply of contract corn in Chicago is not excessive. No. 2 mixed closed at 62¾c. delivered, 63c. for June, 62⅜c. for July, 63⅝c. for August and 64⅞c. for September, showing a decline for the week of ½c. in June and 1@1¼c. in the later options.

Rye has been moderately active at firmer prices. Oats have sold slowly at declining prices. A large crop is expected this year. To-day No. 2 mixed sold at 37⅜c. for June, 37⅛c. for July and 35⅛@35¼c. for August.

CONDITION OF THE CROPS.—The agricultural Department at Washington, under date of June 10, issues the following report of the condition of the cereal crops on the 1st of the month:

The increase in the area of spring wheat appears to be nearly 900,000 acres, or 9 per cent. No part of the Pacific coast area is included as spring wheat. The largest increase is in Dakota, amounting to about 400,000 acres.

The condition of spring wheat averages 101 per cent, being up to the standard in nearly every district.

The condition of winter wheat continues high. The average is 98, against 94 a month ago. It was 75 in June of last year, and 100 at the same date in 1882. Since the last report the Illinois average has declined 11 points, Ohio 3 and Kentucky 3. Indiana, Michigan and some other States show higher condition.

The average of condition of principal States is:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| New York | 98 | Ohio | 82 |
| Pennsylvania | 100 | Michigan | 91 |
| Maryland | 99 | Indiana | 91 |
| Georgia | 93 | Illinois | 76 |
| Texas | 98 | Missouri | 90 |
| Kentucky | 96 | | |

The increase in area of oats is 4 per cent. The average of condition is 98. It was 96 last year and 101 in June of 1882. The average is highest as is usually the case, in the States north of the fortieth parallel, coming up to the standard in a few of the Western States.

The general average of rye has advanced from 86 to 97.

The barley average has fallen from 101 in May to 98. It was 97 last June and 91 in June, 1882. It is 97 in New York, 99 in Pennsylvania, 101 in Wisconsin, 100 in Minnesota, 97 in Iowa, 100 in Nebraska and 98 in California. These States usually produce four fifths of the crop.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., June 13, 1884.

The past week has developed very little change in the general condition of the dry goods trade. The demand at first hands continued light and irregular, neither jobbers nor the manufacturing trade having shown the least disposition to anticipate future wants. Business in jobbing circles was spasmodic, moderately active days having been followed by exceptionally quiet ones, owing to unfavorable weather at times. The main feature of the week was a peremptory auction sale of nearly 8,000 pieces fine 6-4 woolens and worsteds, the balance of production to date of the Conshohocken Woolen Mills, the Conshohocken Worsted Mills and the Norristown Woolen Mills. The goods were of a popular character and the terms of sale (six months' credit) were liberal. There was consequently a large attendance of the clothing trade and cloth jobbers, and the entire offering was quickly disposed of. The best standard goods, such as diagonals, tricots, &c., brought good average prices, but some lines of worsteds (not strictly desirable) sold low. As a whole, however, the sale was a marked success, taking into consideration the present condition of the market and the apathy lately manifested by buyers. Another large public sale of woolens (12,000 pieces) will be held next week, and its results are awaited with much interest.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of domestics for the week were 8,772 packages, including 1,630 to Great Britain, 325 to Peru, 141 to Hayti, 139 to U. S. of Colombia, 101 to Argentine Republic, 90 to Santo Domingo, &c. There was no substantial improvement in the demand for staple cotton goods at first hands, and the jobbing trade was quite moderate. Some inquiry was made for fair-sized parcels of brown goods, &c., by converters, but their offers were too low to be entertained by holders, and few transactions were therefore reported. Jobbers continued to gauge their purchases by positive wants, and altogether it was a very quiet week in this branch of the trade. Stocks are steadily increasing in first hands, but distributers are poorly supplied as a rule, judging by the constant re-order demands for small assorted lots. Print cloths were dull and nominal at 3⅜c. for 64x64s and 2⅞c. for 56x60s, and prints ruled very quiet; but lawns and woven wash fabrics were taken in small lots to a fair amount.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—As above noted, the event of the week was a large auction sale of fine woolens and worsteds. The sale brought into the market a large number of out-of-town clothiers, but their presence caused no material improvement in the demand for men's-wear woolens at private hands, the business of the week having been light and disappointing. Kentucky jeans were in moderate request, but satinets have become quiet, and there was only a limited movement in Jersey cloths and stockinettes. Flannels and blankets have met with rather more attention from intending buyers, but purchases have thus far been restricted to a few specialties. Worsted and all-wool dress fabrics were mostly quiet, and shawls and skirts were almost neglected by package buyers. Wool hosiery was in better demand, but shirts and drawers continued quiet in first hands, and no improvement in prices of the latter can be reported.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS have ruled very quiet in importing circles, as is invariably the case at this time of year, and only a moderate distribution of imported fabrics was made by jobbers, notwithstanding the continued activity of the retail trade throughout the country. Importers are beginning to make deliveries of certain fall fabrics on account of orders placed some time ago, but the movement in this connection has been moderate as yet. Staple goods are generally steady in price, but concessions on many summer fabrics of a fancy character are freely offered in order to stimulate trade.

AND PAID PROMPTLY IN NEW YORK EXCHANGE.

This is one of the few classes of securities that has not suffered any during the recent depression in financial circles.

We have had experience of several years in lending money on improved property, during which time we have placed large sums of money for Insurance Companies, Savings Banks, Trustees of Estates and capitalists, and the safety of these investments is evidenced by the fact that not one of our investors has ever lost a dollar of interest or principal when negotiated by us.

Loans are made only on very desirable, improved and productive property, after we have made a thorough personal inspection of the security and the abstract of title examined and approved by our Counsel. And in no case do we loan more than 33 1-3 per cent of the appraised value of the property.

Located as we are at Kansas City, the Metropolis of the Southwest, with a population of 100,000, we are able to select from the most desirable locations, and place money to a much better advantage for the lender than firms located in New York or Boston, where they cannot have a personal supervision of the investments. Satisfactory references will be furnished.

The borrowers pay us for our services, and interest is collected and remitted by us in New York exchange the day it falls due, with no charges to investors.

Write us, stating how much you would like to invest, and ask for particulars.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

All the conditions outside of Wall Street and the securities dealt in there, have become more favorable the past week. It could not be anticipated that general business should show any special signs of improvement as yet. This is always the dullest season of the year, more adapted to prolonging the lull after the storm than furnishing agencies for a speedy recovery. Still, all crops (except such as the frost has again injured in New England and this State) are developing very satisfactorily, seldom more so; even cotton in the Southwest has made a decided advance recently. Should the harvests therefore fulfil present anticipations, the motive power which drives all our industries will, before fall comes, be again in operation.

But the feature affording just now the greater promise, because more immediate in its remedial effect, is the downward tendency of the foreign exchange market, so far as it is influenced by our increasing exports. Prices of our products have been forced, as one of the results of the panic, to conform to the conditions of foreign markets, and again they are going out and exchange feels it. The figures of breadstuffs and provisions for May have been issued by the Bureau of Statistics this week, and though of course they are not the basis of the present supply of bills, they are strongly indicative of the turn in our trade which has been effected. We have prepared in a convenient form the following summary of these reports for three years showing the totals for May and for the eleven months to June 1.

* Oatmeal not stated previous to July 1, 1883.

It will be noticed that in both breadstuffs and provisions the May figures this year are larger than either in 1883 or 1882, and that together they are about $1,300,000 more than in 1883, and $3,200,000 more than in 1882. That is certainly a very satisfactory exhibit, and the Custom House returns for New York during later weeks have shown that a similar condition still continues. If, therefore, the import figures, when made up for June, indicate a falling off in our foreign purchases, a good start towards the improvement of our foreign trade will have been inaugurated. We have of late been buying too much and selling too little, and nations, like individuals, find such a process an exhaustive one. With that feature changed, and with the present promise respecting our crops realized, we may safely anticipate an improving condition of all our industries in the fall.

Another event which has contributed to the downward tendency of the exchange market this week was the reduction by the Bank of England, on Thursday, of the minimum rate of discount to 2 per cent. A still further influence, and obviously, under the changed condition of our foreign trade, the more immediate cause of the decline which occurred on Thursday and Friday, was the offerings of bankers' bills drawn by the Bank of Montreal against the Dominion loan of £5,000,000 negotiated in London, Wednesday. We have not seen any statement issued by the Canadian Government indicating the exact purposes for which this money has been obtained and where it will be paid out. The last Finance Report shows that on the 1st of January, 1885, there falls due at London of the consols-dated Canadian Loan less sinking fund $24,607,377, also certain debentures, &c., payable in London and Canada, which, with above, make a total of $29,548,923, then due. Besides that, there are several small items of debt maturing this year, all of which are in addition to the amount the Government promised in January last to the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company. For these various purposes it was stated when the Canadian Finance Minister sailed for England a short time since that he went there to negotiate a 50 million dollar loan. The announcement now made is that £5,000,000 have been taken, the loan bearing 3½ per cent and the minimum price being 91. Of course in view of what has been said it is not at all probable that exchange will be offered against all of this amount. We should presume that a considerable part of the money would be disbursed in England; certainly the debt due in London will be taken up in London, and much of the amount given the railroad will, we should suppose, be paid out there for railroad supplies.

These facts are of interest in themselves, but especially as affecting in some measure our exchange market for coming weeks, and possibly longer. It is perhaps reasonable to suppose that whatever bills this loan may afford, will be offered not all at once, but slowly to supply the current inquiry. The decided fall in rates that has taken place the last two days suggests a different policy. But it should be remembered, as stated above, that the changed relations of our trade are the primary cause for the change in the tendency of the market. And if our foreign trade retains its improved conditions, and the early export movement of breadstuffs should be free, as now appears likely, the bills from trade sources and those made against cotton later on, should keep exchange low enough at least to dispel all apprehension of further exports of gold for the remainder of this year.

In our stock market nothing has transpired to encourage operations or increase confidence, and consequently with occasional re-actions the tendency has been strongly downward all the week. Of course anything that improves the trade of the country improves railroad traffic and that ought to leave its mark on values. But, as we have many times said before, the source of the depression in securities, is as much, if not more, a question of good and honest management, as one of simple finance. A new source of danger to holders of bonds has appeared this week in the issue of receivers' certificates for floating debt of the Wabash Company contracted before the receivers were appointed. We have remarked upon this point in a subsequent column and need not enlarge upon it here. We trust our courts will see that this is a dangerous power to grant, and will reconsider their decisions and restrict the right. Another source of depression in values to the same system of roads, has been reports current that the Texas Pacific interest will not be paid. The determination of the coal companies to restrict production again in July has had an unfavorable effect on the coal carriers. This is accompanied with the announcement that prices will be raised twenty-five cents per ton on certain sizes with the beginning of the month. The experiment seems a little hazardous of raising prices at a time when business is so depressed. And yet, as the short time now is greater than last year, this two weeks' stoppage may enable the companies to secure better control of the market. A somewhat disturbing feature at the close of the week was the assignment of Commodore Garrison, after allowing notes bearing his endorsement to go to protest. The embarrassment followed from his connection with the Pittsburg Cleveland & Toledo and other new railroads in Ohio.

Union Pacific has also been the subject of no little comment due to a number of developments this week, most of them however of a favorable character. The much talked about report of the Government book-keepers has been made public. It of course presents some unsatisfactory features in the company's affairs, but hardly any that were not known before, and the frightful disclosures that were promised are altogether wanting. It is nothing new to hear that the earnings of the company have largely fallen off. The newspapers have teemed with statements to that effect for a long time past, and moreover the figures have been regularly published each month. But perhaps it will surprise some that this "startling" report actually shows that the company did not fail to earn its fixed charges We find that allowing for all charges in full, including the Government requirement for the period, sinking fund, $179,000 for new equipment, &c., together with a million dollars for the dividend paid in April, the deficit on the operations for the five months ended May 31 reaches $729,415. Had the dividend not been paid there would have been a surplus of $335,782. In other words, in a period including the winter months, when the result is of necessity always poor and this year was more so than ever, and when competition was very sharp and rates (since restored) below a paying figure, the company earned enough to meet its every charge and retain besides a balance applicable to stock of $335,782. We should say further that this is irrespective of the income from land sales, which is very large and which the report does not mention. According to the published figures, the land sales during these five months reached $3,369,256 on the Nebraska Division and $803,691 on the Kansas Division, or $4,172,947 together, the greater portion of which must be net, since the expenses can not be heavy. The land sales are practically equivalent to a reduction of the debt; the proceeds, if in cash, could be directly applied to this purpose, and if in notes the interest on the latter would act as offset to the interest on bonds.

As to the floating debt, this is given at $11,400,000 gross and $5,331,000 net, not counting fuel and materials as an offset. That does not seem to be so large as to be unmanageable, and the Government officers state that the company holds over $37,000,000 of securities of branch roads, a large proportion of which are "quick assets, and could be readily converted into cash." As so much has been said of the unprofitableness of these branch lines, it is interesting to note that they returned net in 1883 $2,442,822, and that their annual interest requirement was not much greater, namely $2,510,900, of which $1,595,791 was paid direct into the company's own treasury, the Union Pacific holding $23,615,730 of the $40,883,000 bonds outstanding. Thus there would appear to be nothing in these government figures to bear out the unfavorable predictions made in regard to them. As to the action of the directors in resolving to declare no further dividends this year, to pay the Government at once $718,814 on account of its demands, and the election of Mr. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., as president of the road, they must all be regarded as favorable features. The payment to the Government represents the amount claimed by the Secretary of the Treasury as being due for the year 1883 under the Thurman act. In regard to what is due for the years preceding 1883, we may refer to the company's last report, where, on page 15, Mr. Dillon says "that the total cash payment claimed by the Government "to Dec. 31, 1882, under the least favorable construction "of the term 'net earnings' under the act of 1878, is "$1,727,742 54. Against this balance claimed to be due "by the Government, the company has the claim above "referred to (for mails against the Post-office Department, "since Feb., 1876) of about 3½ million dollars." Mr. Adams' election has been hailed with general satisfaction; his integrity is above question, and that goes a great way in a time like the present.

New York Central's belated return for the quarter ended March 31, issued this week, is fully as favorable as had been expected. It is a well-known fact that the course of trunk line business has not been satisfactory, and that in the latter part of the period covered by the figures now furnished, rates were reduced to a point that did not cover the cost of transportation. At the same time, the Central has since the first of the year had to contend with its newly-constructed rival, the West Shore, and met that road's competition by at once making a large reduction of rates on local business, which is the most profitable business that railroads have. In view of all these adverse circumstances, therefore, it is a question whether a deficiency of only $692,000 in meeting the quarter's two per cent dividend is not really better than ought to have been anticipated. Of course, if we multiply this by four, as some of our contemporaries are inclined to do, we get a very large deficit for the year. But this is not a fair way of estimating the results for any given twelve months period. Different quarterly periods show very different results, and whereas one quarter may record a deficit, the succeeding and preceding quarters may both show a surplus. Indeed, to illustrate the difference, we may take the two quarters thus far furnished the Railroad Commissioners, and which constitute the first half of the company's fiscal year. Here is the result for each of those quarters, and for the two combined.

| New York Central. | Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, 1883. | Jan. 1 to Mar. 31, '84. | Total for Half-Year. |

| Remainder | $1,838,329 | $1,096,698 | $2,935,027 |
| Dividends | 1,788,609 | 1,788,609 | 3,577,218 |
| Surplus or deficit | sur. $49,720 | def$691,911 | def. $642,191 |

Thus, while there was a deficiency (in meeting dividends) of $642,191 for the quarter ended March 31, in the quarter ended December 31 there was a surplus of $49,720. It should be said further that the quarter ended with March, and the succeeding quarter (now coming to a close) are usually the poorest of the four. We have not the figures for last year or the year before, to prove this, since the company did not furnish any returns then, but from the monthly exhibits issued in 1878–9–80 we have made up the following statement of the gross earnings by quarters.

| Period. | 1879-80. | 1878-79. |
|---|---|---|
| 1st quarter, Oct., Nov. and Dec | $8,536,637 | $7,575,787 |
| 2d quarter, Jan., Feb. and March | 7,765,679 | 6,709,508 |
| 3d quarter, April, May and June | 7,976,800 | 6,448,400 |
| 4th quarter, July, Aug. and Sept | 8,896,797 | 7,662,828 |
| Total for year | $33,175,913 | $28,396,583 |

We here see that in the two intermediate quarters the earnings as a rule are from three-fourths of a million to a million and over smaller than in the first or the last quarter. But we also see that the first and the second quarter taken together do not differ very greatly from the third and fourth quarter taken together. If this should prove true in the current fiscal year, the above deficit of $642,191 for the half year would reflect a deficit for the full twelve months of about 1¼ millions—in other words, the company would earn about 6½ per cent on its stock, instead of the 8 per cent being paid. It should be remembered, however, that it is not at all likely that the same unprofitable rates for through freight now being charged will always prevail. Indeed, as our readers know, an advance of 5 cents per hundred pounds goes into effect next Tuesday, June 24, and a further advance of 5 cents is to be made July 21.

The Bank of England reports a gain of £266,000 bullion for the week. This represents £451,000 received from the interior and £185,000 sent abroad, being a further shipment to Canada via New York, to the order of the Bank of British North America. The Bank of France shows an increase of 4,146,000 francs gold and of 511,000 francs silver, and the Bank of Germany since our last report has gained 1,524,000 marks. The following indicates the amount of bullion in the principal European banks this week and at the corresponding date last year.

RECEIVERS' CERTIFICATES.

Prominent among the events of the week affecting investors' confidence in Wall Street values, has been the issue of receivers' certificates by the Wabash Railroad for its floating debt. This is not a wholly new legal procedure, as the courts have already passed upon cases somewhat similar; but that such a course is possible, is new to the large body of bondholders, and it has consequently disturbed the sense of safety and security hitherto felt by them. Shoving in new bond issues ahead of stock is a complaint of long standing—a well-known contingency; but shoving in, ahead of bonds, receivers' certificates for debt contracted before the receiver was appointed, is quite a new sensation to the average investor. Several questions arise out of this incident.

The first of them is eminently practical, directly affecting banks and individuals holding the endorsed notes of the Wabash Railroad. As is well known, such notes have for some time been out funding, and in considerable amounts. They carry on their back several well-known names, so that they are believed to be perfectly secure. But now the proposition is presented to the holders, of accepting, in place of the present obligations, receivers' certificates similarly endorsed. This would be a perfectly unobjectionable arrangement if the certificates are legal; and to some minds it may appear that in any event the new contract would be no less secure than the old one. The line of reasoning which one might adopt is that, as the responsibility of the Wabash Railway is of no account, and as the dependence is wholly on the endorsers, a new instrument which is claimed to be a first lien on the whole Wabash property, with the same endorsers, is at least equally good. That argument is probably without a flaw unless the courts should finally hold that these certificates are wholly void. In that case it is wise to remember that the original promise would virtually drop out of existence, and the endorsements would go with it—that is, the endorsers would be released. Of course, if the original notes are protested and still held, and the certificates taken simply as collateral security while extending time of payment, the danger would be avoided.

But it may be asked, is there any doubt about these certificates, their issue having been authorized by the Courts? Perhaps not, and perhaps also it is possible that even if the Courts should decide that the certificates are not a first lien, it might still be held that they constitute a legal contract sufficient to support an endorsement; that we say is possible, though we fail to see how such an instrument could be collected or what name would be given it, if its illegitimacy as an offspring of the Receiver is once established. Yet all things are possible in law, so we do not care to raise that question. It is immaterial, for no one wishes to run a risk if there is any, and we think there is in the present case. That is to say, we fail to understand how a certificate like this, to take the precedence of the mortgage lien, could be authorized in any proceeding in which the bondholders were not actually or constructively parties. Had the receivers been appointed in an action brought to foreclose the mortgage, then such officers would represent the interests of the mortgagees, and the idea under which courts have authorized such certificates would find nominal support at least. But as the case now stands it is certainly doubtful, what basis there is for the claim that these instruments are regular receivers' certificates forming a first lien on the Wabash property.

One single thought more we would like to present, and we do it in the interest of the investor, or more correctly speaking, in the interest of the country's development, because the inviolability of the investor's security is the inducement which brings capital here, and for railroad building we want all the capital we can get. The thought we had in mind is whether it is not about time that our courts put a more restricted construction on this power to issue receivers' certificates. The theory on which such instruments rest, is that their issue is made by a receiver who is the agent of the bondholder, and that it is done solely to conserve his interests, for they permit the paying of wages and the running of the road while the questions affecting the property under foreclosure are being adjudicated. To that extent it is obvious that they are perfectly proper; and yet even in such cases the exercise of this authority should be jealously guarded, for though in theory the receiver is the representative of the bondholder, in practice now-a-days it seldom is so.

But passing that point, it is difficult to see any justification for the ruling that floating debt incurred prior to the receivership proceedings should be in this manner made a first lien. We know of course the argument—it is only an extension of the principles noted above,, which support all such issues. Yet how wide such an interpretation of the law opens the door to fraud and how very precarious it makes the securities of a road which has dishonest managers. Suppose those who are in control of a property wish to make a few millions easily;—first they sell out all of the securities that they hold; next they sell them short; next they lavishly incur debt in what is called the management of the property, which is readily done and covered up so that it cannot be uncovered; finally, they secure the appointment of a receiver and procure authority for him to pay their debt in certificates. This plan well worked would permit the making of a snug little sum in a brief period. Of course also (which is the greater evil aside from the question of public morality) the bondholder's security is thus very greatly impaired, all the stock and bonds decline materially, and then, at the lowest figures, the old parties take hold again and reorganize the company.

We do not make these suggestions with reference to any particular road or men, or with reference to anything that has been hitherto done. It is sufficient for our courts to know that all this, and more, too, is possible under the wide, and, as we think, strained ruling they are giving to this principle. They thereby neither promote good morals, public rights. nor bondholders' interests, but contravene all of them. What sufficient excuse can be offered, therefore, for extending the principle back so as to cover debt contracted before the receivers' appointment?

ERIE'S EARNINGS AND FINANCIERING.

The statement of earnings and income for the second quarter of its fiscal year, which the Erie this week filed at Albany, appears to be attracting very little attention, and has occasioned scarcely any comment. Perhaps this is because the public think that by passing its June interest the company fulfilled the worst expectation entertained with regard to it, and that therefore for the time being its exhibits possess little further significance. But the bondholders at least who have had to forego their interest have the right to know whether the alleged reasons which the company gave for the default are the real ones, and how far the figures which the management now furnish justify the course pursued. In this sense the statement of the quarter's income merits unusual study, and we think that bondholders will be gratified at any attempt to enlighten them on this point.

It is not to be denied that the excuse which the directors gave for passing the interest—namely "the depre..ed

"condition of the business of the country and of the earnings of the company"—has not been accepted as wholly correct, while almost every one regards it as insufficient and unsatisfactory. It goes without saying, too, that the dissatisfaction with the management of the property, which has been growing for some time, has not been allayed by the action taken. Here is a company which, as we have several times before shown, in the fiscal year ended last September earned a surplus of $646,917 above all its charges and a 6 per cent dividend on its preferred stock, and a surplus of over 1¼ millions above the fixed charges alone, and which yet, having lost during the first six months only $578,256 (counting in this the loss on the Pennsylvania & Ohio lease) of the margin of 1¼ millions that it had to spare, at once proceeds to give up the ghost financially and go to default. Of course it might be that some other charges against earnings had to be allowed for this year that did not exist last year, though in an article in our issue of April 26 we demonstrated that the increase in the fixed requirements for the whole twelve months was not likely to be more than $100,000 altogether. Still, it is easy to be mistaken on such a point (not having any inside knowledge) so we have scanned the company's accounts of payments out of income with unusual care, only to find that as near as can be ascertained the increase over the previous year has been trifling in this respect. But to show what sort of an exhibit the company really makes, we give below the figures both for the quarter now furnished and the other quarter previously furnished, the two completing a half year period.

It should be said that in the above, "interest on the funded debt" includes in full the interest on the second consols which has now been passed, and it will be seen that on this basis there is a deficiency of $681,884 in meeting the half-year's proportion of the company's charges. At first sight, this would appear to sustain the position of the management in attributing the default to the depressed condition of the company's earnings. But our readers must guard against attaching too much importance to a report of a deficiency for a single half-year period—not only in the case of this road, but in the case of all others that are at present making a similar showing. It will not do to judge of the results for the last six months of the year by those for the first six months. The Long Island, for instance, depending chiefly upon passenger travel, earns twice and three times as much in summer as in winter, and any estimate of its business for the year based upon the operations of January, February and March would be wide of the mark. With the Erie the difference is not so great, but we have the company's own statement as authority for the remark that as a rule the business and earnings of the company are much less for the first half than for the second half of the year. How much less can be seen from the figures for the last fiscal year, when the net earnings were $2,887,666 for the period from October to April and $4,150,918 for the period from April to October or over a million and a half more. Moreover, the company's statement (made at the time of the default) also tells us that a deficiency is not unusual in the first half of the year so that the present deficiency loses most of its significance for that reason. The fact remains, then, that on the extinction of only $578,256 (that being the loss in net earnings for the six months) of the 1¼ millions which the company could lose for the twelve months as compared with the preceding twelve months, the directors found it necessary to omit the payment of their June interest.

Of course the "depressed condition of the company's earnings" was meant to refer to the future as well as the past, and the management intended to convey the idea that the outlook did not appear encouraging. We agree with them, the outlook does not at the moment look very encouraging. But we would suggest that that is a consideration which affects only the expediency of paying the coupon due next December, and most certainly should not at all have affected the payment of the June coupon. But we are given to understand that this June coupon had not been earned,—therefore it was passed. Is that correct? Of course the figures above show that it was not earned in the first six months. But those six months ended with the first of April, while the coupon did not mature till the first of June—in other words, the company had two months more in which to earn it. In those two months last year—April and May—the net earnings reached $1,100,026. We have not the figures yet for May this year, but in April there was a decrease of $76,506. If there should be an equal decrease in May, or a decrease nearly twice that amount, the net earnings for the two months would yet reach $900,000, while the deficiency in meeting the interest in the first six months was only $681,884. Hence it is clear that at the time the June interest on the second consolidated bonds matured, the company had earned it, and we are forced to conclude that it was not paid for entirely different reasons from those assigned by the managers.

What, then, occasioned the default? We are at once reminded of the failure of the Marine Bank and of Grant & Ward. Just what the Erie lost through that failure we do not of course know, but there is no doubt that the company was heavily involved. It is reported to have had 2½ millions of Chicago & Atlantic 2d mortgage bonds with Grant & Ward, 11,000 shares of Clev. Col. Cin. & Ind. stock, besides notes, &c., for several hundred thousand dollars. Furthermore, something unfavorable would appear to have been going on even before that failure. The stock and bonds of the company kept declining, apparently without cause, and the managers, till then noted only for their reticence, took repeated occasion to refer to the large accumulated surplus which the company carried and could fall back on, in case of adversity, &c. The failure of Grant & Ward did not occur till May 6, but on May 1, Erie stock sold as low as 18, against 28 at the beginning of the year. The latest earnings then known were those for February, and they had shown an increase. So it would seem that there must have been some other cause for the persistent decline in the company's securities. Impressed with this idea, we have made a very careful study of the company's balance sheet, which it is required to furnish with the quarterly exhibits, and find some striking changes. We give below a comparison of the different items in the balance sheet on March 31 and December 31. We might extend the comparison to September 30, the date of the company's report, but it is not necessary.

In examining the above figures, it should be borne in mind that the comparison covers dates only three months apart. Yet the differences are wide and important. We find that the items in what are termed current liabilities show an increase as a rule, while the offsets in the shape of "quick" assets pretty generally exhibit a falling off. The amount of the company's loans and bills payable shows an increase for the three months of $663,348, and interest due an increase of $265,528, or together $928,876, though on the other hand other items of current liabilities record a decrease of $635,400, making the net increase $293,476. Against this increase of nearly $300,000 in current liabilities, we find on the other side that in the same three months the cash held by the company (both here and in London) has fallen from $509,521 to $157,179, and that the amount due it "by agents and others" has shrunk from $8,176,499 to $7,033,663. Lest it may be supposed that this 7 millions represents that amount of available assets, we will say that the item "due by agents and others" is one of those occurring in the printed blank of the Railroad Commissioners, to which the railroads are required to conform, and that the Erie has evidently included under that head all advances made by it to its connecting lines as well as moneys due by station agents and others on current business, which it was probably intended by the Commissioners it should alone cover. The distinction between the two kinds of money due the company is certainly very great. We notice that on September 30 last the total of advances to auxiliary lines (which for the same or a different amount would be represented in the above item of 7 millions) was as much as $3,406,420. Independently, however, of the extent to which the item is available we have an increase of nearly $300,000 in the amount of current liabilities, accompanied by a decrease of almost a million and a half in cash and what are termed cash items—all this in the brief period of three months.

But the most important and a totally unaccountable change remains to be noted. It relates to the item of profit and loss, commonly called the surplus. This during the three months has been cut down in the remarkable sum of $1,428,712. We confess our inability to understand this very large decrease in this period. The deficiency for the quarter on the current operations of the road (counting in full the interest on the second consols which it was subsequently decided not to pay) was only $826,165, and to that extent the $1,428,712 decrease in surplus would be explained, but in what way except, say, by charging off bad debts, can the remaining $600,000 be accounted for? And if this is the true explanation, how did it happen that the company suddenly accumulated that amount of bad debts? The management certainly owe it to themselves, none the less than to their stockholders, that the true cause for this diminution in the surplus account be made known. If beside the Grant & Ward troubles, there were other troubles ante-dating them, as the decline in the company's securities and the above analysis of its balance sheet would indicate, let the facts be frankly declared and the true state of things revealed. It is also time that the company made public an exact statement of its losses through the recent failures, to the end that it may be determined what further shrinkage in the surplus account must be expected as a result of those disasters. What is the full amount? one million, two millions, or more, or less? Certainly no adequate reason for the late default can be found outside of these facts.

HOLLAND AND GERMANY.

For some weeks past it has been matter of public rumor that Prince Bismarck is working in a direction which seems to indicate a purpose to absorb Holland and make it part of the empire. The renewal of friendly relations between Germany and Russia has been interpreted from the point of view of this purpose; and the Prince is represented as making his movements so as to hinder or silence opposition, should an attempt be made to give the purpose effect.

The circumstances of the hour certainly lend importance to the question of succession to the throne of Holland. The reigning monarch, William III., is well advanced in life, having been born in 1817. His only surviving son, the heir-apparent to the throne, Charles Henry Frederick, is well known to be a confirmed invalid, and not likely ever to assume the reins of government. By a second marriage with a Princess of the House of Waldeck-Pyrmont, the King has an infant daughter some three years old. Among the rumors of the day, one is to the effect that King William has secretly affianced this daughter to Prince Baudoin, son of the Count of Flanders, and heir-apparent to the throne of Belgium, with a view to bring about a union of Holland and Belgium. Of course, it is a question whether the Dutch Estates would be willing to recognize the claims of the Princess, with or without such a union; and in the event of the claims of the Princess being set aside, it would be necessary to seek a male heir in the elder branch of the House of Nassau. The claims of this House were fully recognized by the famous treaty of Vienna, which established the Kingdom of the Netherlands, after the downfall of the First Napoleon, and in the arrangements which were made at a later date, when the Netherlands were divided and formed into the two separate Kingdoms of Belgium and Holland. It is thus regarded as a foregone conclusion, that, in the event of the death of the present King, and the failure to find an heir in his line, a fresh selection would have to be made from the existing members of the elder branch of the House of Nassau.

It is at this point where the hand of Germany is supposed to be detected. Naturally enough the head of this house is looked upon as the person having the prior claims in any such emergency as that supposed. The present head of that house is Duke William Augustus, the same whose Duchy of Nassau, like Hanover, Hesse Cassel and Frankfort, was gobbled up by Prussia in 1866, and who has since lived as a pensioner in Berlin, receiving a princely income from the Prussian Government in consideration of the loss of his hereditary duchy. It is understood that Bismarck presses the claims of Duke Augustus; and as it will be necessary for King William and the people of Holland to make up their minds at an early day as to the order of the succession, the subject is one which is of more than ordinary interest, because it concerns not only the welfare of the Dutch people, but the peace of Europe.

It is quite probable that Germany is represented as taking more interest in the general question than she really is. That Germany, however, has good reasons for pursuing such a policy it is not difficult to show. The inhabitants of Holland—of the Rhine delta generally—speak a language which is kindred to English and Low German; and for many generations and until the country was handed over to Philip of Spain by the Emperor Charles V., they were governed by the Imperial House of Austria and virtually formed a part of the old German empire. Since the time of her last consolidation as an empire, Germany has felt the need of a seaboard territory, giving her an easy outlet to the Atlantic. With Holland in her possession, she would have precisely what she wants. It is known that Bismarck has had a hankering after the little kingdom, and it is believed that in 1873, if it had not been for the firm and decided attitude assumed by Gortchakoff, he would have carried out his plans in that particular, as well as inflicted another damaging blow upon France. If King William of Holland could be induced to recognize the claims of the Duke of Nassau as heir-presumptive to his throne, it is believed by some that an important step would be taken in the direction desired by Prince Bismarck. Duke Augustus, it is thought, would be a willing and grateful friend, and would use his influence to bring Holland into the confederacy which forms the German empire. In such a case, Holland would resume her old German relationship; she would be represented in the Reichstag as she was formerly in the Diet; and, although she would cease to be an independent nation, she would be free to legislate on domestic questions as before.

Such is the general question; and such is the aspect in which we are now asked to look at it. To our thinking it is not at all so pressing a question as some would have us believe. It begs too much; it takes too much for granted. The King of Holland is still alive; and so is his heir apparent. So, too, is his infant daughter. Admitted that Duke Augustus were recognized as in the line of succession, or that he were actually on the throne, it is by no means certain that he would be a too willing tool in the hands of the German rulers; nor is it at all certain that even if he were willing to sell his kingdom to Germany, the people of Holland would allow any such arrangement. Bismarck might force the realization by entering and taking possession; but this would be a violation of the law of Europe, and would be regarded as a casus belli. We have no hope of a Union between Belgium and Holland. The unhappy and disastrous failure of the last experiment has not yet been forgotten. Between people who differ in race, language and religion there is really no common bond of union. The presumption, therefore, is that until after the next great European upheaval, Holland will remain as she is, and that the succession to the throne will be settled in harmony with such a state of things.

COTTON ACREAGE, STAND AND CONDITION

The cotton crop of 1883 has proved disappointing to many observers. This is almost always the case when a poor year like 1883 succeeds one as prolific as its predecessor (1882) was. In truth the season of 1882 was exceptional, the conditions being in general favorable throughout so that every agricultural product prospered; take the cotton States as a whole we may probably say that the acreage planted that year produced to about its full capacity. This latter remark is well illustrated by the fact that compared with 1881, on a decreased acreage of about 14 per cent, the crop of 1882 increased more than 28 per cent.

But in 1883 the surroundings seemed to combine in reversing the result. We should give little importance to the circumstance that that season was a late one, if subsequent conditions had been favorable, since experience shows that very prolific years not unfrequently have a late start. A point of more significance was that after delayed growth, came a rainy, grassy June over a very considerable section, a very hot July and a hot August with but little rain after the early part of the former month. Texas and portions of the Southwest did not get the excessive June rains; drought and a more prolonged high temperature did the destructive work there. We called attention to these features last November, noting the resemblance of 1883 to the very poor years of 1881 and 1871. As conclusions with regard to the current crop development are almost always reached through a comparison with the previous season, it is instructive to bring out again, and in this connection, the peculiarity which distinguished 1883. It was this—the same that marked the other two disastrous years specified—namely, very high temperature; its power for harm in those sections where it was less prolonged being greatly aided in 1871 and 1883 by excessive rains and grass in June, which weakened and enfeebled the plant. To illustrate the situation we give the following table showing for each State the highest, lowest and average temperature in June, July, August and September for the years 1871, 1880, 1881, 1882 and 1883, the first two years and the last year being the worst years we have ever experienced, 1882 being about the best, and 1880 being good.

Our weather stations for South Carolina have been too few to permit of any general conclusions.

We do not mean by what has been said that the years 1871, 1881 and 1883 were alike in all respects; we only mean that in the sections where the worst failure occurred, there was one notable condition of weather which prevailed. For instance, pass the eye over the figures as given above for the States of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, and it will seen at once that disaster is recorded by the thermometer, for high temperature was in each case concurrent with failure in the bad years, and lower temperature with productiveness in the good years. The other States do not in these general totals for 1871 and 1883 show the same fact so plainly, because in the years named, this peculiarity and crop disaster were not in those districts so universal, but more local, and hence in investigating such cases the State averages are not a good guide, a reference to the local reports being necessary; besides the length of the heated term was shorter in the Atlantic States, not generally extending in 1883 through August, and the loss to the crop there was therefore largely due to the further fact that the high temperature fell upon a plant pre-disposed to failure, because enfeebled by previous conditions of growth.

All this is very important to those who would not be misled, but secure whatever helps are possible to a correct judgment for the present and future seasons. Often, in times past, when severe drought has occurred, cotton has been able to endure it. Other crops have died, but cotton has pulled through. For this reason it is so frequently and properly called a dry weather plant. But here are three years, two of them recent, when this idea seems to have found contradiction, and nervousness over any drought is consequently becoming more prevalent. The facts we have set out show, however, and a more extended investigation would only confirm the position, that it is not simple drought that has killed the plant; in fact, the rainfall in many of the States does not appear to have been largely deficient for July and August; it was rather the "terrible heat" that burnt out the vitality, in some cases even in spite of a fair rainfall. An average thermometer in July and August, under or at least not materially above 80, seems to meet best the requirements of cotton, and at that degree of heat a well started plant can endure considerable dry weather without losing its vitality.

FORMER PRODUCTION AND ACREAGE.

The facts relating to weather and growth become of course in all cases most useful when studied in detail and then applied to the production of each State. A summary of the yield by counties would be even more satisfactory, as in that way each production district could be grouped under its weather stations. It is impossible, however, to give the figures with such detail here. The Census returns by counties were published by us July 16, 1881 (page 62), and reference to those figures will show the relative importance of the various districts. The State production, however, we give below as accurately as we can make it up, the figures for 1879-80 being the Census figures and the other years being our own compilation. We believe the results as given are a very close approximation to the actual facts.

A further point needed for comparison as the season advances is the acreage for previous years. This is shown for a series of years in the following, two lines being added, one indicating the increase or decrease in acreage and the other the increase or decrease in crop, both being simply the percentages for the whole country. Of course these are our own figures and represent, as we have reason to believe, the fact more accurately than any other compilation.

The production by States for 1883-4 we shall make up soon after the publication of the September crop report. We have estimated the total above at 5,850,000 bales, though as the receipts are running now it looks as if it would come short of that figure. The acreage figures for this season we give subsequently in this report.

COTTON ACREAGE AND STAND IN 1884.

As was the case last year, the general tendency in the South this season has been to increase the land given up to cotton. This fact is well developed by our reports. Of course no such inclination is ever universal or carried out to the same extent in the different sections where it exists. It is governed in good part by the inducements other crops hold out and by the ability of planters to indulge their wishes. In North Carolina, for instance, there is a tendency in some sections to give up more land to tobacco, while in other sections of the State wheat, and in others peanuts, are securing more attention. Moreover, we think the South as a whole has for some years been growing less disposed than formerly to devote attention exclusively to cotton. This remark is especially applicable to all the Atlantic States, and now we find the same point brought out in reports from Alabama and Arkansas. The truth is the South has been making great advancement during the last few years. To-day there is no section of the country which is better off, in spite of its short cotton crop, for it is raising to an extent so much greater than formerly its own food, and even last year in cereals it secured a pretty fair result. But before giving general conclusions in respect to either acreage or condition, we submit our usual details with regard to each State.

North Carolina.—Planting began in this State slightly earlier than last year, and was generally completed about May 20. The early-planted seed came up well, but the later-planted germinated slowly, being hindered by the cold and dry weather which prevailed during a greater part of May. Replanting was necessary, but only to a limited extent, and in a very few districts. June opened somewhat more favorably than the previous month, but the coolness of the nights still tended to check growth. On the whole, however, the plant is more forward than last season. The Stand is in general good, but owing to cold nights and the lack of rain the plant is somewhat small; still it has a healthy look, and is particularly well cultivated. Warm weather with occasional showers would be especially beneficial and assure an excellent condition. Acreage—We note a disposition at some points to go into grain and tobacco at the expense of cotton, and hence there has been a small decrease in the area under cotton in some of the productive counties. An increase, however, in other counties seems to about make up for this loss; so we call the area same as last year. Fertilizers—There has been a moderate growth in the use of commercial fertilizers, but the use of home-made manures is steadily and more rapidly being increased.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—In almost the whole cotton-growing region, planting was later this season than usual, and South Carolina proved to be no exception. The early spring was far from favorable, and in consequence the putting in of the seed was delayed in a majority of districts. In the lowlands a greater amount of re-planting than ordinary was found to be necessary, so that planting was not finally completed until quite late. The month of April and the first half of May was cold and rather too wet, but subsequently the weather changed for the better, and, with the exception of cool nights in some sections, has been very favorable. The seed came up well, except on the lowlands, as mentioned above, but somewhat irregular. Stands are reported as fair to very good, but the plant is small and backward; still it looks healthy and is now making rapid growth. The fields are clear of grass, and the condition generally is considered satisfactory—in fact, better than at this time last season. Acreage—As in North Carolina, there is a disposition in some districts to decrease the acreage devoted to cotton and to substitute grain, but other sections have enlarged the area so that there has been an average increase in the State of about 2 per cent. Fertilizers—There has been no increase in the takings of commercial fertilizers, but home-made manures have been more largely used.

GEORGIA.—Planting began late, being delayed by the wet, unseasonable weather early in the spring, and in consequence was not completed until from one to two weeks later than in early years. The weather subsequently, and up to near the close of May, was remarkably favorable for farm work and rapid growth. Since about the 27th of May, however, the nights have been rather cool, and at latest mail dates there was some complaint of too much rain. Stands are reported good—in many cases almost perfect—with the plant strong and healthy, but somewhat small, owing to cool weather. The fields were at latest mail dates in an excellent condition, being well worked and free from weeds. Acreage—There has been in some cases a moderate increase in the acreage, our reports, however, averaging not more than one per cent for the whole State. Fertilizers show an increase in both commercial and home-made, the increase in the former sort being in part due to the lower prices.

FLORIDA.—In this State as in the Carolinas and Georgia, planting started late but to a much less degree, the finish being but little behind last season. Seed came up very well, and with favorable weather the growth was rapid and satisfactory. The latter half of May the weather was rather too dry, yet not to such an extent as to in any way reduce the prospects. There has been considerable rain since June came in. Stands are very good and the plant healthy and vigorous. On the 10th of June reports state that the crop is making excellent progress, the condition being very satisfactory, and the fields unusually clear of grass. Acreage.—There has been a moderate enlargement of the area in cotton, almost the whole increase being made up of Sea Island, and reaching probably about 3 per cent. Fertilizers.—An increase in the use of both commercial and home-made fertilizers is reported.

ALABAMA.—The wet and unseasonably cool weather during the latter part of March and early April delayed farm work so that planting began generally a few days later than in 1883. Subsequent to the first week of April the conditions became quite favorable and excellent progress was made; the finish, however, being on the average about one week behind last year. The seed came up very well, and the start was quite satisfactory, although development was partially checked by the low temperature in April. The weather during May and early June was dry and very favorable—some say never better—still a few localities speak of cool nights and absence of rain. Latest advices, however, report an abundance of rain, and in some sections there are complaints that rain is making weeds troublesome. The Stand secured ranged from good to excellent, with the plant, June 5, very healthy and in fine condition. The fields at that time were exceptionally clear of weeds and well worked, owing to the dry weather which had previously prevailed; planters claiming that with seasonable weather from now on there was every prospect of a satisfactory year. Acreage.—There appears to have been an inclination in most sections to enlarge the area under cotton, very few counties reporting a decrease; still the increase has in no instance been particularly large, and we therefore estimate it for the whole State at 3 per cent. Fertilizers.—Our reports show that there has been a large increase in the takings of commercial fertilizers, the sales in one market having more than doubled those of last season. Home-made manures have also been more largely used.

MISSISSIPPI.—The same causes which served to delay planting in the Atlantic and Eastern Gulf States operated in Mississippi, only in a greater degree, so that although planting was generally completed by the last week in May, still in some portions of the lowlands it was yet in progress at the opening of June. During April and part of May the weather was unseasonably cool, killing some cotton and making re-planting necessary to some extent, and throughout the month of May the rainfall was excessive except in the eastern and northern sections of the State. In the favored districts the seed germinated well and the plant made good progress, but at other points the start was poor and cultivation has been interfered with by rain and floods, though latest advices are much more promising. The Stand is reported as generally good in east and north Mississippi, and ranges from poor to fair in the remainder of the State. With dry weather followed by occasional showers the plant is capable of decided improvement, though how permanent the injury done is, can only be determined later on. Acreage.—A general disposition was apparent early in the season to enlarge acreage. The adverse conditions over a considerable section have checked this inclination to an extent, but still we think there is some growth, and we put the average increase for the whole State at 2 per cent. Fertilizers.—A very gratifying increase in the use of commercial fertilizers is reported, and home-made sorts are being more largely employed.

LOUISIANA.—Planting began at about the usual time in Louisiana, but, owing to the cold and wet weather, was much delayed, so that the finish was from one to three weeks later than last year; in fact, in some of the overflowed districts it was only completed about the first of June. Much of the seed first planted came up poorly, and the continued excessive rains gave little opportunity for cultivation. The re-planting which was necessary was mainly in the Mississippi and Red River valleys, where some land is reported thrown out altogether; later advices, however, indicate more re-planting and much more favorable conditions, with the possibility that the harm done may not be largely permanent. Stand.—As one would imagine from such conditions, the fields were on the first of June badly in grass and greatly in need of working, which the planters could not give them until the rains ceased. Since the first week in June the weather as stated has been more favorable generally, and a change for the better has taken place in the prospects. Acreage—There was at the outset a disposition to increase the area in cotton, but the overflow has caused so much land to be abandoned, we estimate that there has been a decrease of about 2 per cent. Fertilizers are used but little.

ARKANSAS.—Planting in Arkansas began somewhat later than in 1883—ten days would be a fair average—and was finished about May 25. In the counties bordering on the rivers much of the cotton first planted failed to come up, owing to the overflow and cold weather, rendering necessary more re-planting than usual; and in some of those districts planting was not finally completed until June 1. Elsewhere the seed came up very well in general, but in consequence of low temperature and wet weather made only slow progress in development in many sections. The northern and western portions of the State suffered least in these particulars, and therefore, at the present writing, make a much more favorable showing. The Stand was reported as fair to good, and in rare instances excellent, although small and backward, yet generally healthy and of good color. In some sections where there has been an excess of rain grass is said to be troublesome, but elsewhere the fields are comparatively clean. Since June 1 and up to the present time the conditions have been more favorable, although there were scattered complaints of cool nights; but the planters are everywhere rapidly getting the fields in better condition. Acreage—As in previous years there seems to have been a general tendency to increase the area of land under cotton. We estimate the increased acreage for the State at 4 per cent. Fertilizers are but very little used, planters depending largely upon the natural richness of the soil; still there is a growing disposition to make the cultivation more thorough, and commercial fertilizers are receiving more attention.

TENNESSEE.—The same may be said of the start in Tennessee as in other States; it was late—say about two weeks. The seed came up only fairly well, and the early development was rather slow, owing to the low temperature and excess of rain, but with the opening of May the weather improved somewhat and the plant made better progress. Up to near the close of May, however, cool nights were a pretty general complaint. Since last of May the conditions have in general been more favorable. The Stand secured was in the main good, and the plant was fairly healthy, but small and backward. Fields generally clean and well worked. With the change in the weather the last week in May the growth became more rapid, and at the present time the crop appears to be in pretty good condition. The Acreage has been decreased in some districts and increased in others, but for the whole State the change has been quite small, averaging not over 1 per cent increase. Fertilizers of the commercial sort are but very little used, but more attention is being given to home-made manures.

TEXAS.—The outlook in Texas was June 1 less favorable than in any other section of the cotton-growing region. Planting began about one week later than last year, the average date being about March 15 in South Texas and April 1 in the Northern districts, and was generally completed by May 15 and June 1 respectively. The seed came up poorly, much of it rotting on account of the excessive rain. A great deal of re-planting was done, both in the bottoms and uplands, and on some portions of the land overflowed by the Sabine, Brazos, Trinity, San Bernard and Colorado rivers was not finished on June 8. From the middle of April up to last of May the rains were unusual, amounting in some cases to a flood, and in consequence a large amount of country was overflowed; the temperature was also lower than desirable. But beginning with the last of May the weather became more favorable, the overflows subsided, and excellent progress is now being made in clearing the fields of grass and weeds. The prospects are much better than at the opening of the month, and much better than thought to be possible then, and with dry weather, varied by occasional showers, there should be a chance of decided improvement. It is impossible to say at this time what has been the damage done or how far it can be made good. The Acreage expands largely from year to year in Texas, and the present season proves to be no exception; but as the recent overflows have probably thrown out some land, we estimate the increase for the State at about half of that of last season, or say 5 per cent. Fertilizers are used but little, if at all.

The foregoing details are necessarily brief, but sufficiently elaborated, we think, to convey a pretty clear idea of the situation about June 15 in each of the cotton States. We have, however, prepared our usual statement of rainfall and thermometer as a confirmation of the results reached above. These tables are made up from reports made to us by the Signal Service Bureau wherever they have stations in the South, but elsewhere they are data from our own correspondents, which have been largely increased in number during the past year.

The foregoing facts furnish sufficient data from which to draw intelligent conclusions upon the points covered by this report.

CONCLUSIONS.

They may be briefly stated as follows:

First.—As already remarked, an inclination to enlarge cotton acreage is apparent throughout the South this year The same condition was obvious last year also. It may surprise the reader, therefore, to find that the results we give to-day in that particular show the growth to be so much less than the percentage of increase given a year ago when it reached 5·18 per cent. There are several reasons for this. (1) The ability to enlarge cultivation is never so universal after a small crop as after a large one, and of course the ways and means control men's desires except where credit is good. (2) Southern planters, as well as Southern merchants and bankers, are of late rapidly developing prudence. This is indicated on the one hand by the fact that cotton is becoming more and more a surplus crop, food and divers other products gaining increased attention; on the other hand making cotton on credit is not nearly as popular as it once was among those having money to loan. Ideas like these fairly rooted necessarily grow. The Atlantic States, Georgia in particular, first illustrated the wisdom of such a policy, and although there is still very great room for improvement, the prudential element has a wider development this year than ever before. (3.) Finally, the acreage has been lessened somewhat by the floods in the Southwest; had it not been for them the percentage would have been a little larger. These influences have together tended to restrict this year the disposition to put in more cotton. And yet, as cotton is more nearly the equivalent of money than any other crop, and as Southern soil and climate are peculiarly adapted to its growth, there can be no permanent check to its cultivation;—it will go on developing in the future as in the past, concurrently with the growth of the world's consumption of cotton goods. This year, according to the foregoing analysis of the States, the changes in acreage have been as follows:

|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Increase. | Decrease. | Acres, 1884. |
| North Carolina | 1,072,000 | ..... | ..... | 1,072,000 |
| South Carolina | 1,654,000 | 2 per cent. | ..... | 1,687,000 |
| Georgia | 2,977,000 | 1 per cent. | ..... | 3,007,000 |
| Florida | 270,000 | 3 per cent. | ..... | 278,000 |
| Alabama | 2,813,000 | 3 per cent. | ..... | 2,897,000 |
| Mississippi | 2,440,000 | 2 per cent. | ..... | 2,489,000 |
| Louisiana | 940,000 | ..... | 2 per cent. | 921,000 |
| Texas | 3,102,000 | 5 per cent. | ..... | 3,257,000 |
| Arkansas | 1,184,000 | 4 per cent. | ..... | 1,231,000 |
| Tennessee | 886,000 | 1 per cent. | ..... | 895,000 |
| Other States & Ters. | 111,000 | ..... | 10 p. cent. | 100,000 |
| Total | 17,449,000 | 2·21 per cent. | ..... | 17,834,000 |

This shows an average increase in acreage for the whole South of 2·21 per cent. In the opening of this report we have given the total production of each State since 1873-74. With that table and the above acreage table, the following becomes of use, indicating as it does the yield per acre of each State.

| States. | Pounds per acre. | | | | | | | | |

| Average | 194 | 144 | 187 | 180 | 171 | 177 | 169 | 173 | 151 |

Note.—For the purposes of this table we have taken the average net weight of bales, which in 1882-83 was 461 lbs.; in 1881-82, 447 lbs.; 1880-81, 457 lbs.; 1879-80, 452 lbs.; 1878-79, 445 lbs.; 1877-78, 451 lbs., and for previous years, 440 lbs.

Second.—As to maturity, cultivation and condition of the plant, the conclusions reached are as follows:—

(1) As to maturity, the crop (June 1) was evidently what is called a late one. The spring season was cold and backward, so that the seed germinated slowly, in some cases had to be re-planted, and the plant when started made slow progress. In the Southwest the floods have delayed farm work and made re-planting in that section necessary over a wide area. Since June 1, the progress has been quite rapid everywhere, and now in the Atlantic States and, in fact, everywhere except in the Southwest, there is no special difference in this particular from a year ago, when a similar condition prevailed; but in the latter sections a considerable portion of the crop is still more backward than it then was.

(2) Cultivation up to June 1 was good to very perfect in almost all sections except the Southwest. Development was slow and rains were not so frequent as to interfere with farm work. In most sections of the Atlantic States, even up to this date, the crop may be said to be doing unusually well. Alabama, the eastern portions of Mississippi, the most of Arkansas and Tennessee are also in good condition. Louisiana, Texas and Western Mississippi are the sections which have fared worst, the rains interfering with work and the floods making in many instances re-planting necessary. Since the last of May, however, even in those sections, there has been a steady progress towards recovery.

(3) Condition of the plant now is, therefore, with local exceptions, good to very good in the Atlantic States, in Alabama, in eastern Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas. Elsewhere it is impossible at this writing to speak definitely. With such conditions as have for instance surrounded the crop in Texas, everything depends upon future weather. A drought could do great harm to a plant the early life of which has been passed amid such excessive rains. And yet it should be remembered that the rains were not continuous, keeping the ground everywhere saturated, but marvelous showers, in one case a fall of between five and six inches being measured in a few hours. These storms of course are largely destructive, but not in the way that uninterrupted, wet sultry weather is. We should say that a favorable result is possible even yet in the Southwest, and that since the last week in May a very material improvement has taken place.

For the purpose of enabling the reader the more accurately and readily to compare the early weather conditions (that is, the conditions up to the last of June) with previous seasons, we have prepared the following:

1878. April, like March, was satisfactory for getting in the crop and securing a good start. May was also generally extremely favorable, so that the plant made splendid progress; more rain than needed, and a grassy condition of crop, was reported in a few sections, but the general condition at the close of month was excellent. June, too much rain in parts of all the States, but especially in the Southwest; otherwise generally favorable.

1879. March and April were generally favorable for farm work, but in the Atlantic States and upper latitudes of other States, down to almost the second week of May, the temperature was far too low for vegetation, heavy frost being reported as late as the 4th and 5th of April. The first half of May was also, in some sections, too cold for the best development, but since that date the weather has been generally favorable everywhere, the main exception being drought in the lower counties of Texas, and at some other points, and cold nights in certain sections for about ten days or more in June.

1880. The spring opened early and the ground was well prepared. March and April were, on the whole, both favorable for farm work, and May and the first half of June were also favorable. The main exception to this has been that in a portion of the Gulf States and the Mississippi Valley there was too much rain. Since the first of June, take the whole cotton section together, the conditions have been very satisfactory, except that there is a small section of the Gulf States where the complaint still is, too much rain.

1881. The spring opened fully two weeks later than last year, temperature everywhere being lower. April, however, showed a decided improvement, though in the later sections there were cold turns down to the middle of April. Since then, with the exception of a drought of three weeks in Atlantic States during May, and too much rain during the same weeks in Texas, Arkansas, part of Louisiana, and other limited sections, the weather has been everywhere very hot and forcing.

1882. Planting began more than two weeks earlier than last year and the seed came up well. May was remarkably cold, and the growth was checked during that month, but in general there was no excess of rain, so that the fields were kept well cultivated and clean. About the last of May and first of June it turned warm, the plant began to grow rapidly, and the latter part of that month the condition became quite promising.

1883. There was great delay, more especially in the Atlantic States, in getting in the seed. March and April were cold and wet, and May was dry over a considerable section. Altogether, therefore, the start was a very late one. The latter part of May the surroundings grew more favorable, and on the first of June the fields were clean and the condition of the plant was good, though still backward.

1884. Spring was late, but in the Atlantic States no more backward than a year ago. Early progress was, however, slow everywhere, and cold weather made re-planting necessary in many cases. Still, the surroundings the middle of June are better than a year ago in almost all sections except the Southwest, where rains and floods have both prevented work, and over a considerable area made re-planting necessary. Since the last week in May the Southwestern conditions have greatly improved, and opened up the possibilities of a good season even there.

With such early conditions, the later history of each year may be briefly stated as follows:

| Year | Stand. | July to Sept. | Sept. to Dec. | Year's results. |
| 1878. | Stand excel'l'nt in most States and very early, but grassy in sections, especially lower Miss'sippi Val. | Too much rain in June, especially in the Mis'sippi Valley, but subsequent weather generally very favorable. | Pick'g season good. Yellow fever in Mississippi Valley delayed market'g. Killing frost Oct. 31 to Nov. 12. Picking closed Dec. 1 to 15. | Yield, 5,073,531. Increased crop 5·45 per cent. Increas'd acreage 8 per cent. |
| 1879. | Stand good to very g'd. From 7 to 14 d'y's late in Atlantic States, p'rt of Ala. and a less part of Miss. Elsewhere, as forward as prev. yr. | Season fairly favorable. In Texas bad drought, confined in chief severity to central belt of counties and region west of Brazos. | Pick'g and matur'g seas'n never bett'r. Top crop abund'nt and matured almost everywhere. Killing frost in a limited sect'n Oct. 20 to 24. Killing frost more general about Nov. 20. Picking closed Dec. 15 to 24. | Yield, 5,757,000 Increased crop 13·4 per cent. Increas'd acreage 9·0 per cent. |
| 1880. | Very good and early almost everywhere; too much rain in a small section of Gulf States. | Complaints of too much rain in Southwest, more espec'lly in July. Also caterpillars in Texas, Louisiana, Miss. and Ala., without much damage. | Picking season extremely rainy and cold; never worse. Killing frosts general from Nov. 5 to Nov. 27. Picking closed generally subsequent to Jan. 1. | Yield, 6,589,320 Increased crop 14·4 per cent. Increas'd acreage 11·7 per cent. |
| 1881. | Stand late ev'ywhere but with April conditions turned av. only too dry & hot in June | Great drought and extreme high temperature all through the summer in the larger portion of the South. | Picking season extremely hot and generally dry. Killing frosts from Nov. 1 to Nov. 25. Picking clos'd from Nov. 20 to Dec. 20. | Yield, 5,435,845 Decreased crop 17·5 per cent. Increas'd acreage 4·51 per cent. |
| 1882. | Stand good but somewhat back w'rd, owing to cold Apr. & early M'y but subsequ't warm seasonable weather caused very rapid imp'vem't. | Season favorable, though there were at times complaints of too much rain and at other times of drought in portions of the South. | Picking season generally very favorable. Killing frosts Nov. 13 to 30. Picking closed about Dec. 31. | Yield, 6,992,234. Increased crop, 28·6 per cent. Decreas'd acreage 1·55 per cent. |
| 1883. | Stand late but fairy good June 1. Excessive June rains in Atlantic States and some other sections. | Great drought and excessive temperature in Texas all summer. Same conditions elsewhere only in most cases less prolong'd. | Picking season generally excellent for gathering in the crop. Killing frost Nov. 1 to Dec. 1. Picking closed about Nov. 15 to Dec. 5. | Yield, 5,850,000, estimated. Decreased crop, 16·3 per cent. Increas'd acreage 5·18 per cent. |

[From our own correspondent.]

LONDON, Saturday, June 7, 1884.

Partly in consequence of the holidays, which are at this period of the year very popular in the north of England and in Scotland, business, both commercially and financially, has been very quiet during the past week, and no features of an encouraging nature have presented themselves. The wool trade has shown fair signs of buoyancy, but all other departments of our commerce have been exceedingly quiet. The unfortunate position is that the prospects of improvement are decidedly remote. Not only are manufacturers and the wholesale houses operating with great caution, but the public generally are exceedingly careful, and are buying strictly to supply actual wants. This careful policy on the part of consumers naturally restricts the wholesale trade; but it is quite certain that the business doing is sound and legitimate, and that there is little reason to apprehend commercial trouble. This, however, is not the feeling which exists with regard to Stock Exchange and financial affairs. Money is certainly cheap, and seems likely to remain at about 2 per cent, but the general public have been too much entertained of late years with Stock Exchange investments, and are now buying very little stock, notwithstanding that prices are so low.

A decidedly favorable feature is that the somewhat protracted drought has given place to a copious fall of rain. The country had become somewhat parched, and rain was much wanted for the pastures, the late-sown crops, and also for the root crops. The dry weather suited the wheat plant immensely, and it was generally reported that that crop never looked better. On the other hand, nearly all the other crops had depreciated from want of rain; but the generous rainfall, if followed by the warm sunshine, which we look forward to in June, cannot but add largely to the agricultural wealth of the country. The prospect of a continuance of reasonable prices for food is again a substantial one, and one which should give encouragement to trade; but of late the influence has been a negative one—that is to say, although no activity has been produced, any serious relapse has been prevented. Cheap food and cheap money have, therefore, exercised a considerable, if not a powerful, influence, and have tended to raise our commerce from a position of some anxiety to one of comparative confidence.

The Bank of England return is less satisfactory, the demand for gold coin having been considerable, owing to the Canadian demand (which has absorbed £200,000) to the holiday requirements and to the payment of Government salaries. The result has been that the proportion of reserve to liabilities, which was last week rather more than 48 per cent, is reduced to 46·73 per cent. The comparison is, however, with 35·75 per cent last year, and an improvement of as much as 11 per cent is therefore indicated. The decrease in the supply of bullion amounts to £631,503, and there is an increase of £336,755 in the note circulation. The falling off in the total reserve is £968,258. The supply of gold held by the Bank is now £24,507,463, against £20,826,982; while the total reserve is £14,583,758, against £10,943,667 in 1883.

The Clearing-House return on the last settling day on the Stock Exchange shows total clearings to the extent of only £40,962,000, against £57,472,000 on the corresponding day last year—showing a decrease of as much as £16,510,000. This falling off may be attributed in the main to a diminution in Stock Exchange business, and it fully accounts for the complaints which are made.

Without being active, the money market, both as regards loans and discounts, may be considered to have been rather firm during the week. There has been no distinct tendency, and nothing has transpired to produce an effect. There is no expectation of any great change taking place in either direction. At this period last year the rate was 4 per cent. The discount houses yesterday advanced their rates of interest for deposits one half per cent.

The following are the quotations for money and the interest allowed by the discount houses to-day and same day of the previous five weeks:

In reference to the state of the bullion market during the past week, Messrs. Pixley & Abell remark:

Gold has been in strong demand during the week, but the arrivals have been extremely limited, the total imported being £5,730 from Brazil and Australia. The "Moselle" takes £10,000 to the West Indies and the P. & O. S S. "Mirzapore" £35.000 to Bombay. £130,000 have been withdrawn from the Bank of England, of which £100,000 are for Canada via New York, and the rest is for South America. The "Peshawur," sailing to-day, takes £7,000 to Bombay and £10,000 to Calcutta.

Silver.—Business has been limited. and the price has been maintained in the absence of large arrivals at 50 13-16d., at which rate the specie ex "Delambre," &c., was fixed. To-day, however, with a Continental inquiry, business has been done at 50⅞d., and we give this as the quotation. The arrivals are £22,380 from the River Platte and £21,200 from New York. The "Moselle" takes £10,000 to the West Indies; the "Mirzapore" £77,860 to Bombay and £15,000 to Calcutta. The "Peshawur," sailing to-day takes £32,000 to Bombay.

Mexican Dollars are steady at 49 13-16d., and as supplies are scanty, business has been nominal. The only arrivals are £9,720 from New York. The P. & O. Steamer takes £115,500 to China and the Straits.

Tenders for £1,300,000 Treasury bills were opened at the Bank of England on Wednesday, and the whole amount was allotted in three months' bills. Tenders at £99 11s. 4d. will receive about 61 per cent and above in full. This is equivalent to a discount rate of £1 14s. 8d per cent. The average rate is officially given at £1 14s. 8d., 89 per cent.

Messrs. Morton, Rose & Co. are prepared to receive applications for £138,000 five per cent sterling debentures of the city of Winnipeg, Manitoba, in sums of £100 each.

A loan for £250,000 for the corporation of Leeds is announced. The bonds will bear interest at 3½ per cent, and the minimum price at which tenders will be received is £100 per £100 stock.

The opportune fall of rain has naturally had its influence on the Corn Exchange; but it has chiefly affected the department for feeding stuffs. These were rising in price, in consequence of the drought, but this "dripping June" weather has naturally altered the prospect, and we have now reason to expect not only green pastures during the hot summer months, but also fair average crops of barley, oats, beans and peas, as well as of roots and potatoes. To a large meat-consuming country like this, an abundance of cattle-feeding stuffs is of paramount importance, more especially as we experience no difficulty in procuring ample supplies of breadstuffs, even in indifferent seasons. Our imports of wheat have been very moderate during the last few weeks, but the deliveries of British farmers are still rather considerable, being nearly 200,000 quarters weekly. Millers buy wheat, therefore, chiefly to meet actual requirements, and are unwilling to pay higher rates, even for superior white sorts. They seem to be keeping their stocks at an average working point, and no doubt this is a judicious course to pursue.

The following are the quantities of wheat, flour and Indian corn estimated to be afloat to the United Kingdom, Baltic supplies not being included:

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS FOR THE WEEK.—The imports of last week, compared with those of the preceding week, show an increase in dry goods and a decrease in general merchandise. The total imports were $8,023,423 against $7,974,367, the preceding week and $8,575,163 two weeks previous. The exports for the week ended June 17 amounted to $6,389,200, against $8,435,075 last week and $5,254,394 two weeks previous. The following are the imports at New York for the week ending (for dry goods) June 12, and for the week ending (for general merchandise) June 13; also totals since the beginning of first week in January:

Of the above imports for the week in 1884, $1,000 were American gold coin and $4,614 American silver coin. Of the exports during the same time $67,000 were American gold coin.

Boston & Lowell—Boston Concord & Montreal—Northern of New Hampshire.—The leases of the two last-named roads to the Boston & Lowell have been approved at meetings of stockholders of the respective corporations.

Louisville & Nashville.—President Smith, of the Louisville & Nashville, says that the representative of foreign stock and bond holders will arrive here next Monday, when the plan of issuing $5,000,000 collateral trust debenture bonds will be acted upon.

Oregon Railway & Navigation and Auxiliary Companies.—At Portland, Oregon, June 16, the annual elections of the Oregon Railway & Navigation, Oregon Trans-Continental, Oregon Improvement, and the Northern Pacific Terminal companies, were held. The following directors were elected:

Oregon Railway & Navigation Company—T. Jefferson Coolidge, William Endicott, Jr., and S. P. Hallowell, Boston; Logan Smith, New York; Charles L. Colby, Milwaukee; John H. Hall, New York; and W. S. Ladd, Henry Failing, H. W. Corbett, C. A. Dolph, C. H. Prescott, L. Brook and C. H. Lewis of Portland. The only changes from the old board are Messrs. Colby and Hall, who succeed A. H. Holmes and W. H. Starbuck.

Oregon & Trans-Continental Company—Elijah Smith, T. J. Coolidge, William Endicott, Jr., Charles L. Colby, M. C. Whitney, Brayton Ives, N. P. Hallowell, J. J. Higginson, C. H. Prescott, Henry Failing, D. H. Lewis, C. J. Smith, C. A. Dolph, W. S. Ladd, R. Koehler, Joseph Simon and William Ladd. The only changes from the old board are M. C. Whitney in place of Horace Porter, who declined to serve, and William Ladd in place of Paul Schultze.

Oregon Improvement Company.—William Endicott, Jr., N. P. Hallowell, J. J. Higginson, Elijah Smith, John Muir, C. H. Prescott, C. J. Smith, D. F. Thompson, William S. Simon.

Northern Pacific Terminal Company.—Edward D. Adams, Robert Harris, T. J. Coolidge, Henry Villard, C. H. Prescott, Henry Failing, C. H. Lewis, R. Koehler and C. A. Dolph.

Philadelphia & Reading.—The U. S. Circuit Court has authorized the receivers of this company to borrow $3,000,000 and issue certificates therefor. On June 1 Messrs. Drexel & Co. advanced $580,000 to pay the coupons on the consolidated mortgage bonds, and it may seem to some to be an extreme view of the legitimate use of receiver's certificates that they should be issued in part for the re-payment of that money. The order of court read

"It is ordered and decreed that the receivers of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company and [illegible] are hereby authorized and empowered to borrow a sum not exceeding $2,000,000 for the purpose, first, of retiring the coupons and interest falling due upon the 1st instant [illegible] secured by the consolidated mortgage dated June [illegible], secondly, for the payment of the wages due to the employés of the said Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company and the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company; and to issue certificates therefor in the form recommended by the master, bearing interest at a rate not exceeding 6 per cent per annum for the money borrowed to pay wages, and not exceeding 5 per cent for the money borrowed to retire and pay the said coupons and interest. And the receivers of the said Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company and the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company are authorized and empowered to issue certificates bearing interest at not exceeding 4 per cent per annum to the creditors of the said companies holding claims for materials and supplies furnished since April 1, 1884, in the form recommended by the master, provided that the aggregate amount thereof shall not exceed the sum of $1,000,000."

Pittsburg Southern.—At Pittsburg, June 13, a decree was made in the Common Pleas Court in the case of John D. Scully and others, representing the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, against the Pittsburg Southern Railroad, declaring the mortgages executed by the defendants to the plaintiffs first liens, and directing the sale of the company's property, corporate rights and franchises to satisfy mortgages aggregating $1,042,000. The Baltimore & Ohio Company holds the mortgages and has operated the road.

Wabash St. Louis & Pacific.—The bondholders of this company ought to take measures immediately to protect themselves against the issue of a large amount of receivers' certificates to pay off floating debts held by the directors and friends of the company. When a railroad goes into the hands of a receiver the effort is often made to get such certificates issued by the Court for the purpose of paying off notes of the company held by officers and directors, which are nothing more than plain floating debt and have no right to a preference over the old mortgage bonds. Let not bondholders suppose that certificates once issued will be held to be secondary to the mortgages; the only way to prevent them from being prior liens to the mortgages is to oppose their issue from the start for any purposes except the acknowledged legitimate uses of paying for wages, supplies, &c., to meet current expenses of the property. The Times says:

"The proposed issue of receivers' certificates to take care of the floating indebtedness of the Wabash Company is exciting much discussion in certain financial quarters. Some of the bondholders are disposed to dispute the assumption that the prospective certificates will have priority over the first mortgage bonds as liens upon the property. It is admitted that receivers' certificates usually take precedence over all other liens, but in this case it is argued that as the Wabash was not put into receivers' hands at the institution of bondholders nothing can take the place of the first mortgage lien. The receivership proceedings were instituted by persons holding some of the obligations belonging to the floating debt. One gentleman said: 'The floating debt creditors certainly have no legal right to step in and protect themselves in preference to the bondholders, but that is just what Jay Gould evidently proposes to do. He can afford to take up the outstanding notes bearing his own indorsement, together with that of Sage, Dillon and Humphreys, if the receiver can be induced to raise money on certificates to reimburse him.'"

—The Homestake Gold Mining Company of Dakota has declared its seventieth dividend (for May), amounting to $25,000. Dividend is payable in San Francisco, or at the New York agency of Lounsbery & Haggin.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1884—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—At the close of last week, on Saturday, June 14, the bank statement was particularly favorable, and, owing to the decrease in deposits and the gain in specie and legal tenders, the surplus reserve above the legal requirement was $6,986,500—a gain of $5,645,000 from the previous week.

In London the ease in the money market is shown by the reduction in the Bank of England rate to 2 per cent, which is promising for an investment demand for American securities, whenever the condition of our market may invite their purchases.

To-day the markets were unsettled and confidence again shaken by the announcement that Commodore Garrison had made an assignment.

Congress has but a short time to sit, and therefore its capacity for evil legislation is becoming limited. From the present outlook it does not appear likely that any important bill affecting trade, currency, finance or railroads will become a law this session. One of the important features this week was the agreement made between the Judiciary Committee of the Senate and the officers of the Union Pacific Railroad, by which all matters in controversy are put over till December, on the company's now paying over to the Government the sum of $718,814. The managers of the Thompson bill, which passed the House June 19, and might be entitled "a bill to confiscate the Pacific Railroads," claim that such settlement was unauthorized and that they will endeavor to push their bill through the Senate; but it is highly improbable that they will succeed.

The situation in the stock market has been dull and much depressed, not from any new development of facts, but rather from the general lack of confidence, the continued attacks of the bears, and most of all from the entire lack of strong support of prices from any quarter except for the two Gould specialties (Mo. Pac. and West. Union Tel.), and for Del. & Lackawanna. The anthracite coal companies have decided to suspend mining for two weeks in July and to make a slight advance in the prices of stove and nut coal.

In the money market rates for call loans have ranged at 1 to 3 per cent, according to the collateral. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 5½@6 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in specie of £266,000, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 46⅞, the same as last week; the discount rate was reduced to 2 per cent. The Bank of France gained 4,146,000 francs in gold and 511,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of June 14 showed an increase in surplus reserve of $5,645,000, the total surplus being $6,986,500, against $1,341,500 the previous week.

The following table shows the changes from the previous week and a comparison with the two preceding years in the averages of the New York Clearing House banks.

Exchange.—Sterling exchange was dull but steady during the week till Thursday at 4 86 and 4 88 as the posted rate for prime bankers', while some drawers quoted at 4 85½ and 4 87½. On Thursday rates weakened on the reduction in the Bank of England's discount rate, and on Friday again declined on a free offering of bills. To-day, on actual transactions, bankers' prime 60 days sterling sold at 4 83½@4 83¾ and demand bills at 4 85½@4 85¾; cables 4 86@4 86¼, and Continental bills as follows: Francs 5 20@5 20⅝ and 5 17½@5 18⅛; reichsmarks 94⅜@94½ and 94⅞@95; guilders 39¾@39⅞ and 40@40⅛.

United States Bonds.—Government bonds have been moderately active during the week, at trifling fluctuations. There were no transactions to-day, but the bids at 12 o'clock showed a net advance compared with a week ago of ¼ for the 4s and ¾ for the 4½s.

The closing prices at the N. Y. Board have been as follows:

State and Railroad Bonds.—Very little business has been done in State bonds, and quotations show steady prices.

Railroad bonds have not been active, but have developed further decided weakness for nearly all classes. This continued and unreasonable decline in bonds also has a depressing effect on stocks and the financial situation generally. There appears to be very little common sense among holders, and they are as willing to throw overboard the best 6 and 7 per cent bonds between 90 and 100 as the defaulted bonds between 40 and 50. West Shore 5s have been conspicuously weak, selling as low as 38⅛. On the other hand, Erie consols have been fairly steady for the week, within a moderate range of fluctuations.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—On Saturday, the 14th, stocks showed some tendency toward improvement, and prices generally were a little higher, the excellent bank statement and an improvement in the general situation having a good effect. Since then, however, great dulness has prevailed, accompanied by extreme depression and weakness, the principal exceptions to this rule being Missouri Pacific, Western Union Telegraph and, until Friday, Lackawanna. Missouri Pacific is scarce in the market, and it is held up by Mr. Gould with the assistance of this short demand. The market has been almost entirely under the control of the bears, whose best point is in the circumstance that there is no strong party in opposition to them. With the exception of the stocks named above, there has been no healthy resistance to the decline.

The Vanderbilt stocks have been especially weak, New York Central selling to-day at 98 and Lake Shore at 75½, Michigan Central at 64¼ and Canada Southern at 33½. It is said that Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt gives no support to his stocks, and it is concluded that he only waits to buy them at lower prices. Lake Shore has undoubtedly lost much money this half-year, and probably not earned its dividend, and in the face of this the fact that it has earned 8 per cent most of the time during the past eight years is allowed to count for nothing. Mr. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., was elected President of the Union Pacific, and the report of the Government expert on the company's financial condition was made public, and though it was more favorable than expected, the stock declined in sympathy with everything else; the announcement of the suspension of dividends for the present had already been discounted.

To-day the market developed an exceedingly weak tone on sharp attacks made by the bears on the Vanderbilt stocks, Lackawanna and some others. So far as the Vanderbilt specialties are concerned, it is well known that they have lost heavily in income during the current half-year, and it is also rumored that Gould is a bear on them to re-pay Mr. Vanderbilt for his late refusal to give any assistance to oppose the recent long and heavy decline in stocks.

Many stocks were to-day at or near the lowest point yet reached. But the market simply knocks itself down by its own rumors, bear attacks, unloading of weak holders and general lack of support. The decline has not been forced this week by any new facts of a discouraging nature; on the contrary, the outlook is better in several important particulars—the crop reports are much better North and South; the Union Pacific status has decidedly improved; trunk line rates have been advanced; the coal companies hold their combination firmly; and railroad earnings are in most cases making a fair comparison with the immense receipts of 1883. The tone and temper of the market is more generally bearish at present figures than when prices were 50 to 100 per cent higher.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton.

(For the year ending March 31, 1884.)

At Cincinnati, Ohio, June 17, the annual meeting of the stockholders of this railroad company was held. The following directors were elected, viz: Messrs. H. J. Jewett, C. C. Waite, E. A. Ferguson, John Carlisle, F. H. Short, George R. Blanchard, J. M. Adams, Wm. A. Procter and Wm. Hooper. The only change in the board was the substitution of Mr. Procter for Mr. Hanna. The board organized by the election of all the old officers. 21,313 shares voted. From the brief report submitted at the meeting, as given by the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, the figures below for 1883-84 have been made up in comparison with last year's statement:

| | 1882 83. | 1883 84. |
|---|---|---|
| Gross receipts | $3,088,407 | $3,042,161 |
| Operating expenses (incl. taxes & insur.) | 2,100,016 | 2,083,705 |
| Net earnings | $988,391 | $958,755 |
| Deduct— | | |
| Interest on bonds | $512,093 | $509,810 |
| Dividends on Dayton & Mich. stock | 132,015 | 132,015 |
| Miscellaneous | 7,630 | 6,185 |
| Total deductions | $651,741 | $648,040 |
| Net surplus | $336,650 | $310,715 |

For the fiscal year 1883-84 it thus appears that the surplus over all obligatory charges was $310,715. From this deduct also dividends which have been paid during the year upon the outstanding preferred and common stock of Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton Railroad, viz:

|---|---|
| Six per cent on pref. stock | $26,483 |
| Six per cent on common stock | 210,000 |
| Total | $236,483 |
| Balance surplus | $74,232 |

This surplus when divided up to the different roads was distributed as follows:

|---|---|
| Credit C. H. & D., surplus earnings | $147,766 |
| Credit C. R. & C., surplus earnings | 43,066 |
| Total | $190,832 |
| Debit C. H. & I. RR. Co., loss in operating | 116,600 |
| Balance | $74,232 |

Mr. Jewett's report says: "As compared with the results of the previous year, there was an increase of $46,610 in the passenger receipts and a decrease of $87,226 in the freight receipts, caused by the suspension of traffic during the floods at Cincinnati and the reduction in rates during the latter part of the year; a reduction of $45,946 in the gross earnings, of $20,140 in working expenses and of $25,806 in the net earnings from traffic.

"There have been very general repairs and extensive renewals and purchases made during the year, much improving the condition of the properties, while there has been a favorable reduction of expenses in all departments of maintenance. There was a net revenue of $18,993 in the operation of the elevator properties, while the benefit of these improved facilities is shown by the increase of traffic.

"In accordance with the provisions of the consolidated mortgage, the funded debt has been decreased during the year $28,000.

"There were 1,011 shares of preferred stock sold during the year, and the following expenditures made and charged to construction, equipment and real estate:

|---|---|
| Extension of double track | $95,974 |
| Additional side tracks C. H. & D. RR. | 5,113 |
| Additional side tracks D. & M. RR. | 2,243 |
| Additional side tracks C. H. & I. RR. | 7,009 |
| Additional side tracks M. D. & T. RR. | 56 |
| Completion of round-house and turn table at Indianapolis | 1,344 |
| | $109,939 |
| Balance paid on passenger cars and for real estate | $40,353 |
| Total construction, equipment and real estate | 155,94 |
| Amount realized from sale of preferred stock | 101,10 |
| Balance advanced from earnings current year | $54,842 |
| Balance advanced from earnings last year | 148,447 |
| Total advanced from earnings since 1882 | $203,289 |

Toledo Ann Arbor & Grand Trunk Railway Co.

(For the year ending Dec. 31, 1883.)

The board of directors have submitted their third annual report of the operations of the company. The gross earnings for 1883 (a large proportion of which is from local traffic) shows an increase of 17·86 per cent over the year 1882, with the same mileage, motive-power and rolling stock. The gross earnings and operating expenses for the year 1883 are as follows:

| EARNINGS. | | EXPENSES. | |
|---|---|---|---|
| From freight | $147,865 | For conducting transportation | $75,[illegible] |
| From passengers | 37,191 | For motive power & cars | 14,12 |
| From mail | 2,973 | For maintenance of way | |
| From express | 2,584 | and buildings | 4,002 |
| From rentals | 39,612 | For miscellaneous | 13,67 |
| From miscellaneous | 10,021 | | |
| Total | $240,067 | Total | $[illegible] |
| Total net earnings for 1883 | | | $[illegible] |
| Per cent of net earnings | | | 42·5 |

INCOME ACCOUNT FOR 1883.

|---|---|---|
| Balance from 1882 | | $4,138 |
| Gross earnings 1883 | $240,067 | |
| Less expenses | 120,696 | [illegible] |
| | | $[illegible] |
| Interest on first (and only) mortgage bonds | | [illegible] |
| Balance carried to 1884 | | $21,926 |

"The operating expenses for the year are 57 46 per cent, being a slight decrease for 1883 over 1882, notwithstanding the extraordinary expenses caused in part by the February floods, the total destruction of our trestle work along the Maumee River, and the consequent suspension of all business—one of our depot connections, with the Pennsylvania and the Hocking Valley roads at Toledo—and the long and unusually hard winter. But for these extraordinary expenses, our operating expenses for the year would not have exceeded 51½ or 52 per cent, as estimated in our last report. This low ratio of operating expenses is owing to the large proportion of earnings received from other companies who use portions of this line with their own motive power—the amounts received from this business entailing no corresponding expense. These conditions can be regarded as permanent, and it is believed that a rate of operating expenses of 50 per cent will enable us to maintain in a thorough manner the property of the company." * * *

"The coal tonnage handled in 1883 was 121,298 tons, showing an increase as compared with 1882 of 52,944 tons, or 77·45 per cent. It is estimated that this percentage of annual increase will continue for many years to come, thus securing to this company a large and profitable coal traffic for delivery at all points in Michigan and Canada west of London, Ont." * *

"The admission of this company into the 'Great Eastern Fast Freight Line,' and the working over our road of the 'Hoosac Tunnel,' the 'Commercial Express,' and the 'West Shore,' fast freight lines (this road being the only route by which these lines can do a Toledo business) assures us of a rapid and profitable increase in our traffic." * * *

"The 'Michigan Air Line' division of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada was completed last fall, via South Lyons to Jackson, but little business, however, was done before the end of December. Traffic is now being exchanged between the Grand Trunk and this company at South Lyons for all points in Canada and New England." * * *

"Since our last report the Pontiac Oxford & Port Austin has been completed, and we shall this year receive from that company a fair traffic in lumber and salt south and deliver to it a return traffic in coal and merchandise north." * * *

"On the 27th of November, 1883, the board of directors approved and ratified a lease by the President of this company to the Michigan & Ohio Railroad for the joint use of our tracks, side tracks, station houses and transfer grounds, between Toledo, Ohio, and Dundee, Michigan, a distance of twenty-two miles. This lease is mutually advantageous to both companies, and secures to the Michigan & Ohio Company railroad connections at Toledo more desirable than any which it could otherwise command except by an expenditure of money which, owing to the difficulty of getting an entrance into Toledo, is not easily estimated." * * *

"The early completion of the new Toledo Belt Road, which is now secured, will give to this company, in addition to our present Pennsylvania and Hocking Valley connections, competitive connections of great value with all the railroads on the south side of the Maumee River, which are now, or which may hereafter be built." * * *

"The extension of the 'North Michigan' from South Lyons, via Owosso, to St. Louis and Mt. Pleasant, is being pushed with energy, and we now expect the division between Owosso and St. Louis to be completed and ready to operate by the 15th of May." * * * "In our last annual report it was stated that the terms and conditions of consolidation of this company with the North Michigan had been agreed upon; it was subsequently determined to postpone the question of consolidation until that portion of the 'North Michigan' road between Owosso and St. Louis was completed, after which the proposition for consolidation will be submitted to a vote of the stockholders, as provided by the laws of the States of Ohio and Michigan."

Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company.

The annual statement of this company says: "The total production of coal from the mines of the company for the year was 2,245,062 tons, and in addition 93,770 tons were purchased. 1,530,330 tons were shipped to Port Johnston, and the balance distributed from the mines for other points on lines of Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Co. and beyond. The amount of $275,273 expended on colliery improvements, and for other new work has been charged to the expenses of the business.

"The mortgage debt was reduced during the year $406,605, exclusive of the $34,015 deposited with trustees for redemption of Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co. bonds of 1894. In addition to the above, was paid in January, 1884, $88,000 of the New Jersey Coal Company purchase money bonds, and a further sum of $50,000 of the Nottingham Coal Company purchase money bonds will be due and payable April 1. In May last the sterling bonds drawn in 1881 and 1882 were paid, leaving only the drawing of 1883, amounting to $75,000 unpaid. This, with the drawing of 1884, not yet advised, should be paid in May next, leaving only the regular drawings to be provided for annually. Of the $500,000 five-year mortgage bonds which matured July 1, $200,000 have been extended four years, and the sinking funds continued for the redemption of same. Of the loans on which interest is payable only if earned, there was paid the regular interest on the income bonds issued for funding consolidated coupons, and 2½ per cent on the $6,116,000 consolidated bonds held by the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey.

"The property of the company has been kept up to the best standard, and its facilities enlarged and improved.

"The matter of lease to the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company, referred to in circular of 15th September last, received favorable responses from a large number of stockholders, but no definite proposition, however, for your consideration was reached, and the subject is not likely to be considered at the annual meeting."

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

Arkansas R. R. Bonds.—In the Arkansas railroad cases, involving the liability of the Little Rock & Fort Smith and the Little Rock Mississippi & Texas railroads, Mr. J. R. Dos Passos says that Judge Caldwell has filed an elaborate opinion at Little Rock in favor of the legality of the bonds, and declaring them to be a lien on the roads. The attitude of the case now is that one court has declared that the bonds are a valid lien on the roads, and another that they are not, and the case will go to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Connotton Valley.—A Boston report says that all the differences in the matter of the reorganization of the Connotton Valley Railroad have been harmonized, and the larger bondholders and stockholders, including Sidney Bartlett, have signed the reorganization agreement. Over $4,000,000 of bonds and securities have been deposited with the International Trust Company.

Georgia Pacific.—The following statement is made by this company for May and the eight months of its fiscal year from Oct. 1 to May 31 :

| | May. | Eight months. |
|---|---|---|
| Earnings | $47,014 | $377,829 |
| Expenses | 29,523 | 249,024 |
| Net earnings | $17,491 | $128,805 |
| Per cent of expenses | 62·8 | 65·9 |

The company is now operating 275 miles of road. Work is progressing on the gap west of Birmingham, Ala., on main line.

Grand Rapids & Indiana.—The debenture bondholders of the Continental Improvement Company met recently in Philadelphia, and resolved to issue $16,000,000 of bonds, with which to pay off the claims of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and re-adjust the debt of the company generally. The meeting was called to consider the report of the committee appointed on May 15 to present a plan for re-adjusting the debt and settling with the Pennsylvania Railroad. The committee's report stated that the debt of the Grand Rapids road was $11,419,349, of which $5,500,000 was first mortgage bonds, $3,119,349 was due to the Pennsylvania Railroad and Pennsylvania Company, $2,500,000 was income bonds and $300,000 represented the cost of the Mackinac extension. The committee proposed to issue a fifteen year second mortgage six per cent bond, redeemable at any time within ten years, to the amount of $3,000,000, of which $2,700,000 should be paid on account of the indebtedness due the Pennsylvania and $300,000 should re-pay the debt incurred in constructing the Mackinac extension.

Besides this loan another one of $13,000,000, bearing interest at 5 per cent, and running forty years, was to be made. Of this $5,500,000 was to be reserved to pay the first mortgage, $3,000,000 to be reserved to pay the mortgage mentioned above, $500,000 was to pay the balance due the Pennsylvania, $2,500,000 to pay the income bonds of the company, and the balance, $1,500,000, was to be reserved in the treasury was an extension and improvement fund. The report stated that this arrangement would be acceptable to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and after some discussion the report was adopted by a unanimous vote. A committee consisting of John N. Hutchinson, H. H. Houston and Thomas D. Messler, was appointed to carry out the agreement between the several companies.

Minneapolis Union.—The Minneapolis Union Railroad Company applies to the Stock Exchange to list $650,000 of its first mortage 6 per cent 40-year gold bonds, dated March 1, 1882, due July 1, 1922; the trustees to be the Central Trust Company. This is part of the $3,000,000 issue of June 14, 1882; $1,500,000 bonds were then listed.

Nashville Chattanooga & St. Louis.—The gross and net earnings for May, and for the eleven months ending May 31, in 1882-83 and 1883-84, have been as follows:

| | May. | | July 1 to May 31. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1884. | 1883. | 1883-4. | 1882-3. |

| Operating expenses | 105,432 | 95,121 | 1,221,179 | 1,187,962 |
| Net earnings | $85,319 | $75,958 | $988,951 | $924,900 |
| Interest and taxes | 55,080 | 54,167 | 607,815 | 596,811 |
| Surplus | $30,239 | $21,791 | $381,136 | $328,089 |

Railroads Operated in New York State (Quarterly Reports.)—The following abstract has been specially compiled for the CHRONICLE from returns made to the Railroad Commissioners of this State for the quarter ending March 31, 1884:

Ogdensburg & Lake Champlain.—A dispatch from St. Albans says: "The result of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Ogdensburg & Lake Champlain Railroad Company, at Ogdensburg, is a surprise. The old board of directors, with three exceptions, were ousted, and the election was carried in the interest of the Passumpsic and St. Johnsbury roads. The change in the company is a radical one, and the roads are to be run in the interest of the stockholders and for the development of business and traffic for the line.

Union Pacific.—The affairs of this company have assumed a much more hopeful aspect. Mr. Dillon, whose health was much shattered, has resigned as President, and Mr. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., has been elected as his successor. The company has very wisely determined to pay no more dividends during 1884, and it is obvious that it would have been wretched policy to attempt to pay such dividends until the company is thoroughly overhauled, its pending issues with the Government adjusted, and its floating obligations brought entirely under control. The only serious mistake that appears to have been made in the financial management was the payment of the dividend in April last.

Mr. Adams has effected a settlement with the U. S. Senate Judiciary Committee which is good now, and may lead to an ultimate adjustment of all the questions at issue, by permitting this company, as well as the Central Pacific, to extend their whole indebtedness in a sixty-year 3 per cent bond, on which annual interest should be regularly paid. If this should be done, the U. S. Government would have a good security, and, considering the incidental benefits to the country by the construction of the Pacific roads, the Government might fairly point to its subsidies granted them as the most profitable investment it had ever made. The present adjustment is shown in the statements following. The Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee has sent to the Secretary of the Interior a letter informing him of the adoption of the following resolution in regard to the Union Pacific questions which the Committee has had under consideration for some time:

Resolved, That this committee will postpone until the first Monday in December, 1884, the further consideration of the matters arising under the act of May 7, 1878, relating to the Union Pacific Railway Company, if the said company shall immediately carry out the offer of Mr. Adams, as stated in his communication dated June 17, 1884, addressed to the Hon. George F. Hoar, and on the express understanding that this action of the company and of the United States in receiving the money and security in said communications mentioned, shall have no effect on any penalty or forfeiture or other right of the United States incurred or arising, or to occur or arise against the said company or any of its officers; but that all rights, penalties and forfeitures shall stand as if these acts had not been done.

Following is the communication of Charles Francis Adams, Jr., as delivered to Mr. Hoar:

Referring to what passed at your meeting with certain directors of the Union Pacific Railway Company, in Boston, on the 16th inst., I would state that the following was there proposed as the basis of temporary settlement with the Government, pending action of the courts on claims now in dispute:

First—No further dividends shall be paid on the stock of the company during the present year.

Second—Until the questions now pending in court are decided and a settlement between the Government and the company effected, the Government shall retain in the treasury all earnings now due, or which may hereafter become due, not only on the subsidized lines of the company, but also on the non-subsidized portion of its lines specified in President Dillon's letter of June 5, addressed to the Secretary of the Interior.

Third—Saving all its legal rights on points in litigation, the company will forthwith pay into the Treasury on account of the sinking fund the sum of $718,814 60, being the amount demanded by the Secretary of the Treasury as payment under the Thurman act for the year ending Dec. 31, 1883; said sum to be treated as a payment on account should more hereafter prove to be due to the Government, and as a payment in advance of amounts in future to become due should less prove now to be due.

Fourth—The sum of $92,359 83 deposited in the Treasury July 26, 1881, shall be carried to the credit of the sinking fund, as set forth in President Dillon's letter of June 5, 1884, already referred to.

The above proposition, it is submitted, affords the Government ample security for payments which shall become due when the matters at issue in the construction of the Thurman act shall have been decided by the courts. According to the contention of the company (supplemental statement June 6, page 5), the balance now due which this proposal would leave unpaid (supposing the demand by the Secretary of the Interior was otherwise correctly computed), would be only $59,3,146. As security for the payment of this sum the Government holds in its hands the adjusted (unadjudicated) though in large part not disputed claims of the company against it to the amount of $1,360,596, and also the amounts assumed to be due for services rendered on the subsidized portion of its lines, which will before the close of the year amount to some $300,000.

The Commissioner of Railroads has transmitted to the Secretary of the Interior a report of the financial condition of the Union Pacific Railway company, as recently ascertained by the bookkeepers of the railroad office, from the general books of the company at Boston. The first statement of the report shows the earnings and expenses of the entire system from January 1 to May 31, 1884. The figures for April and May are partly estimated, and, accepting these estimates, the total earnings for the five months to May 31, 1884, would be $9,222,765, and the total expenses, $6,184,893, leaving a surplus of $3,037,872, which is less by $1,983,255 than the surplus during the corresponding period in 1883 (leaving out the St. Joseph & Western Railroad.)

Statement No. 2 shows the revenue and expenditures of the company for the five months ended May 31, 1884, as follows:

|---|---|
| Gross earnings | $9,222,765 |
| Operating expenses, entire system | $6,184,893 |
| Discount and interest | 77,237 |
| Interest on first mortgage bonds | 1,057,000 |
| Interest on other funded debt | 8 5,000 |
| United States requirement, 5 per cent and 25 per cent | 301,874 |
| Company's sinking fund | 162,090 |
| New construction | 32,612 |
| New equipment | 146,364 |
| Expenses land department | [illegible] |
| Dividend (1¼ per cent) April 1, 1884 | [illegible] |
| Total expenditures | [illegible] |
| Gross earnings | [illegible] |
| Deficit for month | $[illegible] |

[But omitting the $1,364,107 for April dividend, the net earnings in these unfavorable months exceeded all charges by $835,754.]

Statement No. 3 shows the financial condition of the company on March 31, 1884. The total floating debt amounted to $11,400,099, made up as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Bills payable | $5,8[illegible] | Cash [illegible] available assets | |
| Accounts payable | 1,14[illegible] | Cash in hands of [illegible] | $340,377 |
| Pay rolls and vouchers | 2,4[illegible] | Cash in hands of [illegible] | 418,699 |
| Dividends unpaid | 1,14[illegible] | Cash & assets [illegible] | [illegible] |
| Coupons unpaid | 328,[illegible] | Bonds and stocks | 2,071,084 |
| Called bonds | 116,000 | | |
| Total floating debt | $11,400,099 | Total | $[illegible] |
| | | Net floating debt Mar 31, 1884 | $5,141,305 |

The report adds: "Were the item of fuel, material and stores on hand—$2,622,777—deducted, as is often the practice of accountants in estimating net floating debt, this sum would be reduced to $2,708,618; but this office does not regard it as an available offset to the floating debt when the road is in active operation, and has therefore excluded it."

The total debt of the Union Pacific Railway Company on March 31 was $163,107,389, and the total stock and debt aggregated $223,975,889. The total assets were $239,200,573, leaving a surplus, including land sales, of $15,224,685, or, excluding land sales, of $4,311,639.

The Commissioner says that a large portion of the floating debt is a gradual accumulation from expenditures made out of surplus current earnings of the company in the construction of branch lines, the stocks and bonds of which in whole or in part are held by the company to the amount of $37,008,869, and are available as a set-off against the floating debt or for any other debts of the company. A large proportion of these stocks and bonds are "quick" assets, and could be readily converted into cash. Many of the branch lines are wholly the property of the company.

The assets of the company on March 31, were made up of the following items:

|---|---|
| Cost of road and equipment | $157,504,513 |
| Fuel, material and stores on hand | 2,622,777 |
| Cash on hand | 340,377 |
| Stocks and bonds owned | 2,071,084 |
| Sinking funds (cost) | 116,000 |
| Bills and accounts receivable | 3,038,262 |
| Bonds and stocks of other companies (cost) | 37,008,869 |
| Miscellaneous investments | 241,510 |
| Interest re-paid United States by transportation | 7,134,251 |
| Due from United States for transportation | 8,616,722 |
| Land contracts and land cash | 10,913,045 |
| Advances payable in bonds and stocks | 6,823,773 |
| Sinking funds, cash | 1,507 |
| Sinking funds in United States Treasury | 2,270,000 |
| Total | $239,200,573 |

Statement No. 4 shows the condition of the branch lines operated by and in the interest of the company. The total earnings were $8,758,452; expenses, including taxes, $6,315,630; surplus, $2,442,821; bonds outstanding, $40,883,000; annual interest, $2,510,900; bonds owned by Union Pacific, $23,615,730; annual interest, $1,595,791; bonds owned by others, $17,267,269; annual interest, $915,108.

—The June report of the Land Department of the Union Pacific Railway Company shows sales in the five months of the present year of 1,647,025 acres in the Nebraska Division, for the sum of $3,369,256, and of 167,450 acres in Kansas for $803,691. These land sales go mainly to cancel bonds bearing 6, 7 and 8 per cent interest, and thus in five months the sales have been sufficient to cancel an interest charge on the company of about $250,000 per year.

At the company's office the following official statement in regard to the Kansas Pacific consolidated mortgage bonds was made:

The bonds have become a first lien (the old land grant bonds having been paid and canceled) upon all the company's lands adjacent to the first 380 miles of its road in Kansas, of which there remain unsold over 1,500,000 acres, and which at $4 50 per acre (the average within these limits for last year's sales) are worth more than $6,750,000. These are held by the trustees as further security for these bonds about $2,000,000 in notes which have been received for lands sold. In addition to the unsold lands and the settlers' notes, there are bonds of auxiliary lines amounting at par to $3,158,000 and stocks amounting at par to $1,780,000. The bonds thus held in trust have been issued to and represent the entire amount of funded debt of various tributary and feeding lines, aggregating 227 miles of railway. Under the terms of the consolidated trust indenture the income from these securities (which in 1882 amounted to $6 275 and in 1883 to $141,705) is employed within and is applicable to all the purposes of the trust. The consolidated bonds have a further lien—subordinate, however, to any issue of $3,012,000 of so-called Denver extension bonds—upon a part of 1,700,000 acres of land lying west of the 380th mile post. They are also further secured by a lien upon the 630 miles of railway between Kansas City and Denver, and upon the branch from Leavenworth to Lawrence, 41 miles, in all 673 miles, subject nevertheless to the divisional first mortgages on the entire line and the Government's lien, in the character of a second mortgage, on 394 miles of the line in Kansas.

The trust indenture provides, among other things, that all moneys received by the trustees (from the proceeds of land sales and the income from the securities held in the trust) shall be applied by the trustees from time to time to the payment of any interest which may be due on the bonds, and also in redeeming or buying in the bonds at the lowest price for which they can be had, not exceeding principal and accrued interest.

The value of the mortgaged property and the provisions of the trust indenture, laying aside the general obligation of the Consolidated Union Pacific Railway Company, are ample and adequate reasons for the prompt payment of the interest as it becomes payable, and the payment of the principal when it becomes due.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, June 20, 1884.

The weather this week has generally been very favorable for the growth of the crops. Business is of a midsummer character, and speculation in staples of agriculture has been quite uniformly toward lower prices, the decline in some cases being quite important, and promoting a much freer export movement. To reduce stocks on hand and force speculative holders to liquidate seems to be urged on all sides, in deference to the position of the banks, a process which must soon give values a very solid basis.

Lard has been greatly depressed, under the increased arrival of swine at Western markets, and to-day the market was almost panicky, closing weak at 7·56c. for July, 7·71c. for August, 7·82c. for September and 7·90c. for October, a decline for the week of about ¾c. per lb. Spot lard is also decidedly lower, with a somewhat unsettled closing at about 7·50c. for prime city, 7·75c. for prime Western and 7·90c. for refined for the Continent. Pork is weak and nearly nominal at $16 50@$17 for mess. Bacon quoted at 9@9¼c. for long clear. Cut meats have sold fairly, at prices showing some degree of steadiness; pickled bellies 7½@8c., shoulders 7¼c. and hams 12@12¼c.; smoked shoulders 8@8¼c., hams 13¼@14c. Dressed hogs quoted at 6⅞@7c. Beef dull; plain mess $12 and packet $13 per bbl.; India mess $18@$19 per tierce; beef hams $28@$29 per bbl. Tallow has been more freely offered at 6½c. Stearine quoted at 9¼c., and oleomargarine 8¼c. Butter did not fully sustain the recent improvement; creamery, 17@23c.; Western factory, 10@14c. Cheese active but weak at 6@10c. for factory. Eggs, 16½@18c.

Rio coffee has been moderately active and steady on the spot of late at 10c. for fair cargoes; options have been quiet and without marked change, though within a few days they have become weaker; the close, however, though quiet, is steady at 8·10@8·20c. for June, 8·20@8·25c. for July, 8·40@8·45c. for August, 8·50@8·55c. for September and 8·55@8·60c. for October, bid and asked; mild grades have been fairly active and steady. Tea has been very dull and at the close is weak on the spot. Spices have been quiet. Rice has sold moderately at steady prices. Foreign green fruits have been in fair demand and steady; dried have been dull and nominal. Molasses has been quiet and unchanged. Raw sugar has been more active and closes more steady at 4¾c. for fair refining and 5⅝@5 11-16c. for 96-degrees test centrifugal; options have advanced and sales were made to-day at 4·57½c. for July and 5@5·02½c. for September, though the close is weak at these figures; refined has been firmer at 6¾c. for granulated, 7⅜@7½c. for powdered, 7⅝c. for crushed and 6⅜c. for standard "A."

Kentucky tobacco has been quiet on the spot and the speculation has been almost trifling; lugs are quoted at 7¾@8¼c. and leaf at 8½@9¾c. Seed leaf has remained quiet but steady. The sales for the week embrace 950 cases, including 350 cases crop 1882, Pennsylvania, 5@13c.; 200 cases crop 1881, Pennsylvania, 7@10c.; 200 cases crop 1883, Wisconsin Havana, 11½@28c.; 50 cases crop 1882, Wisconsin Havana, 30@40c.; 150 cases crop 1883, New England, 12½@30c.: also 400 bales Havana, 80c.@$1 15, and 200 bales Sumatra, $1 20@$1 60.

In naval stores the movement both legitimate and speculative has been insignificant and to-night prices are only about steady; spirits turpentine, 31½c.; common to good strained rosins, $1 25@$1 32½. Refined petroleum has been depressed by the severe decline in crude certificates; 70-Abel test sold to-day at 7¾c. for all July delivery. Crude oil certificates were broken from 66⅝ to 58¾c. under the report of the financial embarrassment of two directors in the Standard Oil Company. Hops have had a sharp advance to 33@35c. for the best State 1883s; stocks are small and the English crop is blighted.

In ocean freight room a better movement has been noticed in both grain and oil tonnage, and rates show a slight improvement. To-day Liverpool steam grain room was quoted at 3¼d.; cotton taken at 5-32d., cheese 40s., butter 40s., bacon 17s. 6d. London steam grain quoted 3½d., do. to Glasgow 4½d., do. to Bristol 3¾d. afloat, do. to Avonmouth 3½d, do. to Bremen 60 pfennigs; refined petroleum from Philadelphia to Hamburg 2s. 6d.; do. hence at 2s. 3¾d., do. to Konigsberg 3s., do. to Antwerp 2s. 3¾d., do. to London or Bristol 2s. 4½d.; grain by steamer from Philadelphia or Baltimore to Cork for orders, 3s. 1½d.

Friday, P. M., June 20, 1884.

The Movement of the Crop, as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night, is given below. For the week ending this evening (June 20), the total receipts have reached 4,725 bales, against 8,409 bales last week, 12,584 bales the previous week and 8,129 bales three weeks since; making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1883, 4,777,380 bales, against 5,881,551 bales for the same period of 1882-83, showing a decrease since September 1, 1883, of 1,104,171 bales.

The failures at New Orleans and the return of good weather at the South caused a pressure to sell, under which prices steadily gave way from the opening on Saturday last till near the close of Wednesday's business, in which the decline from the previous Friday in cotton for future delivery at this market was 23@26 points for June and the distant months, and 31@37 points for the early months other than June. Holders lost confidence and the process of liquidating "long" contracts was active and general. On Wednesday toward the close there was some recovery from the lowest figures of the day, and yesterday a moderate advance took place, a natural re-action after an important decline. But the demand was not sustained, and to-day, with weak advices from both Liverpool and Manchester, and good crop reports, there was renewed pressure to sell, prices giving way rapidly, closing weak at 16@20 points decline for the day and 33@46 points for the week. Cotton on the spot has been more freely offered, and, meeting with only a moderate demand for export and home consumption, prices have declined. Quotations were marked down 1-16c. on Tuesday and again on Wednesday. Then came a steadier feeling, based on the rapid reduction of stocks on hand. To-day there was a further decline of 1-16c., middling uplands closing at 11 3/8c.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 754,300 bales. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 12,438 bales, including 9,306 for export, 3,132 for consumption, — for speculation and — in transit. Of the above, — bales were to arrive. The following are the official quotations for each day of the past week.

THE VISIBLE SUPPLY OF COTTON to-night, as made up by cable and telegraph, is as follows. The Continental stocks, as well as those for Great Britain and the afloat, are this week's returns, and consequently all the European figures are brought down to Thursday evening. But to make the totals the complete figures for to-night (June 20) we add the item of exports from the United States, including in it the exports of Friday only.

☞ The imports into Continental ports this week have been 36,000 bales.

The above figures indicate a decrease in the cotton in sight to-night of 212,707 bales as compared with the same date of 1883, an increase of 122,368 bales as compared with the corresponding date of 1882 and a decrease of 127,572 bales as compared with 1881.

AT THE INTERIOR TOWNS the movement—that is the receipts for the week and since Sept. 1, the shipments for the week, and the stocks to-night, and the same items for the corresponding period of 1882-83—is set out in detail in the following statement.

* This year's figures estimated.

The above totals show that the old interior stocks have decreased during the week 4,071 bales, and are to-night 38,880 bales less than at the same period last year. The receipts at the same towns have been 4,715 bales less than the same week last year, and since September 1 the receipts at all the towns are 702,474 bales less than for the same time in 1882-83.

RECEIPTS FROM THE PLANTATIONS.—The following table is prepared for the purpose of indicating the actual movement each week from the plantations. Receipts at the outports are sometimes misleading, as they are made up more largely one year than another at the expense of the interior stocks. We reach, therefore, a safer conclusion through a comparative statement like the following. In reply to frequent inquiries we will add that these figures, of course, do not include overland receipts or Southern consumption; they are simply a statement of the weekly movement from the plantations of that part of the crop which finally reaches the market through the outports.

The above statement shows—1. That the total receipts from the plantations since September 1, 1883, were 4,774,158 bales; in 1882-83 were 5,953,306 bales; in 1881-82 were 4,627,611 bales.

2.—That, although the receipts at the outports the past week were 4,725 bales, the actual movement from plantations was only 304 bales, the balance being taken from the stocks at the interior towns. Last year the receipts from the plantations for the same week were 1,872 bales and for 1882 they were 3,298 bales.

AMOUNT OF COTTON IN SIGHT JUNE 20.—In the table below we give the receipts from plantations in another form, and add to them the net overland movement to June 1, and also the takings by Southern spinners to the same date, so as to give substantially the amount of cotton now in sight.

|---|---|---|---|---|
| Receipts at the ports to J'ne 20 | 4,777,380 | 5,881,551 | 4,611,199 | 5,646,168 |
| Interior stocks on June 20 in excess of September 1..... | *3,222 | 71,755 | 16,412 | 52,392 |
| Tot. receipts from plantat'ns | 4,774,158 | 5,953 306 | 4,627,611 | 5,698,560 |

* Decrease from September 1.

It will be seen by the above that the decrease in amount in sight to-night, as compared with last year, is 1,264,365 bales, the increase as compared with 1881-82 is 323,314 bales, and the decrease from 1880-81 is 770,934 bales.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—The weather has in general been very favorable at the South during the week, and in consequence the crop is now making excellent progress.

Galveston, Texas.—It has rained on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and forty-four hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 82, the highest being 90 and the lowest 72.

Indianola, Texas.—We have had welcome showers on two days of the week, but hardly enough. The rainfall reached fifty-five hundredths of an inch. Crop accounts are more favorable. The thermometer has averaged 83, ranging from 73 to 93.

Palestine, Texas.—It has been showery on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching seven hundredths of an inch. A good rain would be beneficial. Crop accounts are more favorable. The thermometer has ranged from 68 to 91, averaging 77.

Huntsville, Texas.—We have have had a shower on one day of the week, and want more. The rainfall reached ten hundredths of an inch. Crops are doing reasonably well. Cotton blooms are reported. Average thermometer 81, highest 93 and lowest 66.

Luling, Texas.—We have had no rain during the week, and need some. Crop accounts are more favorable. The fields are clean. The thermometer has averaged 84, the highest being 96 and the lowest 72.

Brenham, Texas.—We have had one splendid shower during the week, and just as needed, the rainfall reaching one inch and fifty hundredths. Crop accounts are more favorable. A good corn crop is assured. The thermometer has averaged 81, ranging from 68 to 94.

Belton, Texas.—It has been showery on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching eighty hundredths of an inch. Crops of all sorts are doing well. The thermometer has ranged from 67 to 97, averaging 82.

Weatherford, Texas.—We have had showers on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and fifty-two hundredths. No serious damage has been done. Young crops look promising. Average thermometer 78, highest 95 and lowest 65.

Dallas, Texas.—It has rained on three days of the week, harder than desired, but probably no serious damage has been done, as most sections had begun to need rain again under the hot sun. The rainfall reached two inches and two hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 80, the highest being 100 and the lowest 67.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—It has rained on six days of the week, the rainfall reaching three inches and sixty hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 78.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—The weather has been very fine and clear during the week, with a rainfall of seven hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 69 to 93.

Vicksburg, Mississippi.—Telegram not received.

Meridian, Mississippi.—The early part of the week we had rain, but the latter portion has been clear and pleasant, and at the close very favorable to cotton.

Greenville, Mississippi.—Telegram not received.

Columbus, Mississippi.—We have had rain on four days of the week, the rainfall reaching two inches and forty-two hundredths. Average thermometer 74, highest 90, lowest 60.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—It has been cloudy on two days of the week, with good showers on each day, the rainfall reaching ninety-five hundredths of an inch. Cotton, though small, has improved greatly in the past three weeks and the fields are all clean. The thermometer has averaged 78, the highest being 87 and the lowest 64.

Pine Bluff, Arkansas.—We have had showers on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching twenty-one hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 77, ranging from 66 to 86.

Fort Smith, Arkansas.—It has rained on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching seventy-five hundredths of an inch. The cotton plant looks strong and healthy and the fields are clear of weeds. The thermometer has ranged from 51 to 90.

Helena, Arkansas.—We have had light showers on four days, and the remainder of the week has been pleasant. The rainfall reached twenty-six hundredths of an inch, but in the neighborhood there have been heavier rains. The days have been warm and nights cold, but at the close of the week there is a favorable change. Good progress is being made in clearing the fields of weeds. Average thermometer 76, highest 87 and lowest 69.

Newport, Arkansas.—Telegram not received.

Memphis, Tennessee.—We have had light showers on five days of the week, the rainfall reaching twenty-seven hundredths of an inch. The crop, though late, is developing promisingly. The thermometer has averaged 76, ranging from 68 to 91·5.

Nashville, Tennessee.—It has rained on four days of the week, the rainfall reaching ninety-three hundredths of an inch. Good progress is being made in clearing the fields of grass and weeds. The thermometer has ranged from 63 to 89, averaging 74.

Mobile, Alabama.—We had rain on four days in the early part of the week (one day severe), but the latter portion has been clear and pleasant. The rainfall reached one inch and twenty-five hundredths. Crop accounts are less favorable, as we are having too much rain, and weeds are becoming troublesome, but at the close of the week the weather is more favorable. Average thermometer 76, highest 95 and lowest 66.

Montgomery, Alabama.—We had rain on four days in the early part of the week, but the latter portion has been clear and pleasant. The rainfall reached two inches and nine hundredths. The crop is developing promisingly. The thermometer has averaged 72·9.

Selma, Alabama.—It has rained on three days, but at the close of the week there is a favorable change in the weather. The rainfall reached fifty-five hundredths of an inch. The crop is developing promisingly. The thermometer has averaged 72, ranging from 64 to 87.

Madison, Florida.—The early part of the week we had rain, but the latter portion has been clear and pleasant. The rainfall reached three inches and six hundredths. The crop is developing promisingly. The thermometer has ranged from 66 to 95, averaging 83·5

Macon, Georgia.—It rained on four days in the early part of the week, but the latter portion has been clear and pleasant, and good for crops. Average thermometer 71, highest 85 and lowest 61.

Columbus, Georgia.—We have had rain on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and ninety-four hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 76, the highest being 90 and the lowest 65.

Savannah, Georgia.—It has rained on three days, and the remainder of the week has been pleasant. The rainfall reached eighty hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 75, ranging from 64 to 86.

Augusta, Georgia.—We have had light rains on three days, and the remainder of the week has been pleasant. The rainfall reached forty-nine hundredths of an inch. The weather has been very favorable to cotton, and the crop is developing finely. Stands are perfect, the fields are clear of weeds and at present the outlook is very flattering. The thermometer has ranged from 91 to 71, averaging 74.

Atlanta, Georgia.—It has rained on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching two inches and thirty-five hundredths. The weather is quite warm; good growing weather. Average thermometer 69, highest 89 and lowest 60.

Charleston, South Carolina.—It has rained on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and seventy-five hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 74, the highest being 87 and the lowest 67.

Columbia, South Carolina.—Telegram not received.

The following statement we have also received by telegraph, showing the height of the rivers at the points named at 3 o'clock June 19, 1884, and June 21, 1883.

| | | June 19, '84. | | June 21, '83 | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | Feet. | Inch. | Feet | Inch |
| New Orleans | Below high-water mark | 3 | 6 | 2 | 5 |
| Memphis | Above low-water mark | 20 | 7 | 30 | 2 |
| Nashville | Above low-water mark | 9 | 5 | 8 | 10 |
| Vicksburg | Above low-water mark | 32 | 8 | 39 | 5 |

New Orleans reported below high-water mark of 1871 until Sept. 9, 1874, when the zero of gauge was changed to high-water mark of April 15 and 16, 1874, which is 6-10ths of a foot above 1871, or 16 feet above low-water mark at that point.

INDIA COTTON MOVEMENT FROM ALL PORTS.—We have re-arranged our India service so as to make our reports more detailed and at the same time more accurate. We had found it impossible to keep out of our figures, as cabled to us for the ports other than Bombay, cargoes which proved only to be shipments from one India port to another. The plan now followed relieves us from the danger of this inaccuracy and keeps the totals correct. We first give the Bombay statement for the week and year, bringing the figures down to June 19.

BOMBAY RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS FOR FOUR YEARS.

| Year | Shipments this week. | | | Shipments since Jan. 1. | | | Receipts. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Great Brit'n. | Continent. | Total. | Great Britain | Continent. | Total. | This Week. | Since Jan. 1 |
| 1884 | 13,000 | 3,000 | 16,000 | 443,000 | 555,000 | 998,000 | 40,000 | 1,161,0 0 |
| 1883 | 11,000 | 9,000 | 20,000 | 370,000 | 733 000 | 1,103,000 | 25,000 | 1 490 0 0 |
| 1882 | 17,000 | 25,000 | 42,000 | 665,000 | 519,000 | 1,184,000 | 30,000 | 1,4[illegible] |
| 1881 | 22,000 | 24,000 | 46 000 | 239,000 | 457 000 | 696,000 | 34 000 | 1,049,0 0 |

According to the foregoing, Bombay appears to show an increase compared with last year in the week's receipts of 15,000 bales, and a decrease in shipments of 4,000 bales, and the shipments since January 1 show a decrease of 195,000 bales. The movement at Calcutta, Madras and other India ports for the last reported week and since the 1st of January, for two years, has been as follows. "Other ports" cover Ceylon, Tuticorin, Kurrachee and Coconada.

| | Shipments for the week. | | | Shipments since January 1. | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. | Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. |
| Calcutta— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 87,500 | 41 200 | 128,700 |
| 1883 | 2,000 | ..... | 2,000 | 63,000 | 10,000 | 78,000 |
| Madras— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 13.000 | 4,600 | 17,600 |
| 1883 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 4,500 | 1,000 | 5,500 |
| All others— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | 1,600 | 1,600 | 13,500 | [illegible] | 19 100 |
| 1883 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 4,000 | 2,000 | 6,000 |
| Total all— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | 1,600 | 1,600 | 114,000 | 51,400 | 165,400 |
| 1883 | 2,000 | ..... | 2,000 | 76,500 | 13.000 | 89,500 |

The above totals for the week show that the movement from the ports other than Bombay is 400 bales more than same week last year. For the whole of India, therefore, the total shipments since January 1, 1884, and for the corresponding periods of the two previous years, are as follows:

EXPORTS TO EUROPE FROM ALL INDIA.

| Shipments to all Europe from— | 1884. | | 1883. | | 1882. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | This week. | Since Jan. 1. | This week. | Since Jan. 1. | This week. | Since Jan. 1 |
| Bombay | 16,000 | 998,000 | 20,000 | 1,103,000 | 42,000 | 1,184,000 |
| All other ports | 1,600 | 165,400 | 2,000 | 89,500 | 6,300 | 187,900 |
| Total | 17,600 | 1,163,400 | 22,000 | 1,192,500 | 48,300 | 1,371,900 |

This last statement affords a very interesting comparison of the total movement for the three years at all India ports.

ALEXANDRIA RECEIPTS AND SHIPMENTS.—Through arrangements we have made with Messrs. Davies, Benachi & Co., of Liverpool and Alexandria, we now receive a weekly cable of the movements of cotton at Alexandria, Egypt. The following are the receipts and shipments for the past week and for the corresponding week of the previous two years.

| Alexandria, Egypt, June 18. | 1883-84. | 1882-83. | 1881-82 |
|---|---|---|---|
| Receipts (cantars*)— | | | |
| This week | ..... | 1,000 | ..... |

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Exports (bales)— | | | | | | |
| To Liverpool | 1,000 | 250,060 | 1,000 | 232,000 | 2,000 | 244,700 |
| To Continent | 1,000 | 134,000 | 1,000 | 86,000 | 1,400 | 176,271 |
| Total Europe | 2,000 | 384,000 | 2,000 | 318,000 | 3,400 | 420,971 |

* A cantar is 98 lbs.

This statement shows that the receipts for the week ending June 18 were —— cantars and the shipments to all Europe 2,000 bales.

MANCHESTER MARKET.—Our report received from Manchester to-night states that the market is quiet. We give the prices of to-day below, and leave previous weeks' prices for comparison.

COTTON ACREAGE REPORT.—In our editorial columns will be found to-day our annual cotton acreage report, with an account at length of the condition of the plant in each section of the South, together with our rainfall and thermometer record.

FIRST BLOOM IN ALABAMA.—The Mobile Price Current of the 14th inst. says:

"The first cotton bloom was reported this season June 3d in Montgomery County, Ala. The first bloom last season was reported June 7th in Wilcox County, Ala. The first bloom in 1882 was reported May 26th in Clarke County, Ala. The first bloom in 1881 was reported June 5th in Perry County, Ala."

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE.—At the meeting on the 16th inst. for discussing the by-laws relative to calls of print cloths, a letter was read from Mr. Frank A. Rhodes of Providence, a print cloth broker, who objected to storing in New York the print cloths for delivery on contracts, and he suggested, in order to accommodate manufacturers, Boston, Providence and Fall River would be the proper places for storage. He also recommended some change in the wording as to the quantity to be dealt in and to be delivered. Mr. Geo. Moore, a prominent member of the committee for framing the laws, fully and satisfactorily explained the inexpediency of both these changes, how the rules respecting cotton had been taken as a pattern, and as they worked well the same result might be expected as regards their application to print cloths. The larger price difference in dealing in the latter Mr. Moore considered an improvement, and he was in hopes of seeing yet an equal difference adopted for cotton futures. Mr. Moore recommended the laws to be passed as they had left the committee. Much care and deliberation had been bestowed upon them. Let them have a fair trial, and if some alterations or additions should be found requisite, they could then be made. It was resolved to let the question be decided as usual by voting, and on the 19th inst. the members gave complete evidence of their approval of the laws, only two votes being cast in the negative, against 134 in favor of adopting the proposed Chapter V of the by-laws in relation to print cloths, and the amendments to the old by-laws relating to the same subject. Now it only remains for the board of managers to arrange the machinery for carrying out the call of print cloths.

INDIA COTTON CROP PROSPECTS.—By cable from Bombay to-day we have advices which state that the rainfall has been very favorable for the cotton crop up to this date.

THE CROP IN TEXAS.—The Galveston Daily News of the 16th inst. publishes reports from the agricultural districts of Texas on the crop prospects. There are 200 replies of date June 14, which cover seventy-six counties. The reports indicate that while the crops in the lowlands was much damaged by the heavy rains of May, those on the uplands were benefitted. There had been, morever, a great improvement in the condition during the two or three weeks preceding the date of the replies, and the prospect was considered good for an average crop, though not, of course, up to the full capacity of the acreage planted.

GEORGIA AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S REPORT FOR JUNE 1.—Commissioner Henderson issued on the 12th inst. his report for the month ended May 31st. On cotton the report says:

"The stand of this crop the first of June compared to a good stand, in northwest Georgia is 97, in middle Georgia 96, in southwest Georgia 97, in east Georgia 93, in southeast Georgia 91, and in the whole State 97. The condition compared to an average in north Georgia is 92, in middle Georgia 96, in southwest Georgia 97, in east Georgia 91, in southeast Georgia 97, and in the whole State 96. The stand and condition is six per cent below the report for the month of May, 1883. The crop has been generally well worked, but the growth has been retarded and the stand impaired by the low temperature of the month."

SOUTH CAROLINA AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S REPORT.—The report on the condition of crops in South Carolina June 1 was issued on the 12th inst., and refers to cotton as follows:

"With the exception of the latter part of May the month was very favorable for cotton. The rains were not sufficient to interfere with the working of the crop, and farmers were enabled to free it of grass, so that it was in the best possible condition to get the greatest benefit from the June rains. Some re-planting has been necessary. The latter part of May was cold and unfavorable and the growth of the plant was checked, but no serious injury has been reported from this cause. The crop is ten days to two weeks later than last year, but the 'stands' are good, and with favorable seasons in June, it is expected that the crop will reach an average by the first of July. The condition is reported: In northern Carolina 96, middle Carolina 95 and lower Carolina 97."

COMPARATIVE PORT RECEIPTS AND DAILY CROP MOVEMENT.—A comparison of the port movement by weeks is not accurate, as the weeks in different years do not end on the same day of the month. We have consequently added to our other standing tables a daily and monthly statement, that the reader may constantly have before him the data for seeing the exact relative movement for the years named. The movement each month since September 1, 1883, has been as follows.

| Monthly Receipts. | Year Beginning September 1. | | | | | |
| | 1883 | 1882. | 1881. | 1880. | 1879. | 1878. |

This statement shows that up to May 31 the receipts at the ports this year were 1,062,921 bales less than in 1882-83, and 200,983 bales more than at the same time in 1881-82. By adding to the above totals to May 31 the daily receipts since that time, we shall be able to reach an exact comparison of the movement for the different years.

This statement shows that the receipts since Sept. 1 up to to-night are now 1,099,352 bales less than they were to the same day of the month in 1883 and 171,801 bales more than they were to the same day of the month in 1882. We add to the table the percentages of total port receipts which had been received to June 20 in each of the years named.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &c.—The market has been rather active and more business doing, since our last report in a job bing way, but little business has been transacted in large parcels. Prices are without change, but are steadily maintained by dealers, who do not care to accept less than quoted rates for the parcels moving, and we do not hear of anything less quoted than 9½c. for 1⅓ lbs., 10c. for 1¾ lbs., 10¼c. for 2 lbs. and 11½c. for standard grades. Jute butts are rather slow, and beyond a few small transactions we hear of no business. The market is dull and quotations are nominal at 2¼@2½c. for paper grades and 2⅝@2¾c. for standard grades.

SHIPPING NEWS.—The exports of cotton from the United States the past week, as per latest mail returns, have reached 36,195 bales. So far as the Southern ports are concerned, these are the same exports reported by telegraph, and published in the CHRONICLE last Friday. With regard to New York we include the manifests of all vessels cleared up to Thursday night of this week.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, P. M., June 20, 1884.

Flour has at times sold more freely at rather firmer prices, but as a rule the demand has been light and the market more or less depressed. The supply is still quite liberal. To-day the market was dull and weak.

Wheat has met with a fair demand for export, but in a speculative way has been comparatively quiet. Until more definite information can be obtained as to the probable magnitude of the present crop there seems likely to be only a moderate degree of activity in the purely speculative branch of the market. Prices advanced some days ago but latterly the tendency has been downward. Small receipts, less favorable weather at the West and some demand from the shorts caused some advance on Tuesday. But since then the trading both here and in Chicago has been unusually light and, with more favorable weather, prices have, as intimated, been slowly declining. Reports that considerable damage had been done to the crop in California by rain are now said to have been greatly exaggerated; the crop almost everywhere throughout the wheat belt seems to be in a fine condition and a marked increase in the yield this year is generally expected. Dry weather is now considered the best for the crop in most sections, and reports of rain have a tendency to advance prices. The weather at the West is now hot and forcing. Latterly harvesting has been reported in Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Missouri, Kentucky and further south. To-day the market was quiet and slightly lower for future delivery. No. 2 red closed weak at $1 01 delivered, 99c. for June, 99⅝c. for July, $1 01⅜ for August and $1 02¼ for September, showing a decline for the week of ⅛c. on the spot and 1¼c. to 2c. for future delivery, the later months showing the greatest depression.

Indian corn has advanced, and there have been reports of manipulation in Chicago with a view to cornering July contracts. The supply of contract corn there has not been very liberal for some little time. Latterly, however, in sympathy with wheat this cereal has declined somewhat. The crop is said to promise well. Corn is considered to be in a stronger position than wheat, judged from the statistical standpoint, but there is apparently not much disposition to speculate just now, either here or at the West. There has been only a fair export demand here. To-day the market was quiet and ⅛c. to ¾c. lower. No. 2 mixed sold on the spot at 61c. delivered, No. 3 at 57¼@58c. Contract mixed corn is the best sustained. Yellow and white are not plentiful and are to a great extent nominal. No. 2 mixed closed weak at 63¼c. delivered, 62c. for June, 62½c. for July, 63⅝c. for August and 64¼c. for September. As a rule these are the prices of a week ago, though cash corn is ½c. higher than then.

Rye has been moderately active at steady prices; prime Canada has sold at 76c. and Western to arrive at 73½c. Oats have been quiet at lower figures. No. 2 mixed sold to-day at 36⅝@36⅞c. for June and July and 34¼c. for September. No. 2 mixed closed weak at 36¼c. for June, 36⅜c. for July and 34½c. for August, showing a decline of 1 to 1½c. during the week.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., June 20, 1884.

As a whole the dry goods trade was very quiet the past week, but a fair business for the time of year was done in some departments. Package buyers from the South and Southwest have appeared in the market in considerable force, but they have thus far restricted their operations to a few descriptions of goods adapted to the coming season, as flannels, jeans, hosiery, &c., deferring their general purchases until later on. Western and near-by jobbers continued to govern their purchases by actual wants, and the manufacturing trade bought sparingly. The event of the week was another large auction sale of over 14,000 pieces clothing woolens, which attracted a great many buyers. All the goods were promptly disposed of, but the prices obtained were low and unremunerative to the manufacturers. The failure of the large wholesale clothing house of Carhart, Whitford & Co., with probable liabilities of over one million dollars, was announced in the trade, and caused a somewhat disquieting effect in woolen goods circles, although it is believed that the embarrassment of the firm will prove to be only temporary.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods for the week were 1,476 packages, of which 337 were shipped to Great Britain, 350 to U. S. of Colombia, 213 to Brazil, 205 to Hayti, etc. There was a somewhat more frequent demand for small parcels of brown, bleached and colored cottons at first hands, but transactions were light in the aggregate. Cotton flannels were in rather better request, and a steady trade was done in wide sheetings, while there was a fair movement in Victoria and India lawns. Plain and colored cottons of the most desirable makes are nominally steady in price, but stocks are large, if not redundant, and slight concessions would probably be granted to buyers of "round lots." Print cloths were more active, with considerable transactions on the basis of 3 3/8c., less ½ per cent, for 64x64 "spots," 3 3/8c. flat for 64x64 "futures to September," and 2 7/8c. for 56x60s. Prints continued dull, but lawns and wash fabrics (ginghams, seersuckers, chanbrays, &c.), were in steady, if moderate, request.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—The demand for men's-wear woolens was spasmodic, irregular and light in the aggregate amount, the recent large auction sales having made buyers exceedingly cautious. Cassimeres, worsteds and overcoatings were severally quiet in first hands, but there was a fair movement in leading makes on account of back orders. Satinets were dull, but Kentucky jeans were in better request, and there was more inquiry for repellants. Ladies' cloths, tricots and Jersey cloths were in light demand, and cloakings were mostly quiet. Flannels were a trifle more active, some fair sales having been made to Southwestern jobbers, but blankets were sluggish, owing to the announcement that a public sale of 3,000 packages will be made the coming week. Worsted and all-wool dress goods were lightly dealt in, but prices remain steady. Wool hosiery was more active, and a slightly improved business was done in shirts and drawers.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There was a very limited demand for foreign fabrics at first hands and the jobbing trade continued quiet, but a liberal distribution was made by retailers throughout the country. Stocks of seasonable goods are in pretty good condition as a rule, and prices of staple fabrics are fairly steady, in spite of the late lull in the demand.

Importations of Dry Goods.

AND PAID PROMPTLY IN NEW YORK EXCHANGE.

This is one of the few classes of securitie that has not suffered any during the recent depression in financial circles.

We have had experience of several years in lending money on improved property, during which time we have placed large sums of money for Insurance Companies, Savings Banks, Trustees of Estates and capitalists, and the safety of these investments is evidenced by the fact that not one of our investors has ever lost a dollar of interest or principal when negotiated by us.

Loans are made only on very desirable, improved and productive property, after we have made a thorough personal inspection of the security and the abstract of title examined and approved by our Counsel. And in no case do we loan more than 33 1-3 per cent of the appraised value of the property.

Located as we are at Kansas City, the Metropolis of the Southwest, with a population of 160,000, we are able to select from the most desirable locations, and place money to a much better advantage for the lender than firms located in New York or Boston, where they cannot have a personal supervision of the investments. Satisfactory references will be furnished.

The borrowers pay us for our services, and interest is collected and remitted by us in New York exchange the day it falls due, with no charges to investors.

Write us, stating how much you would like to invest, and ask for particulars.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The value of a security has apparently little to do just now with Wall Street fluctuations. We have had a week of general disturbance of prices, in many cases quotations dropping much lower than during the panic, and yet there has been literally nothing new developed affecting the real worth of the properties chiefly depressed. The truth is, there are at present very few buyers of stocks, our money-lenders not encouraging speculative transactions, and as each decline wipes out a few more margins or exhausts the hope and patience of still other holders, the street supply of certain important securities is constantly being added to, although a few are still scarce.

An influence which, more than anything else, has served the purposes of those who were endeavoring to force further liquidation, has been the reports circulated affecting the credit of many of the roads, one at least of our banks, several of our leading banking houses and some other prominent firms. We do not remember a week as prolific as this in such rumors, and yet there seems to have been very little or no foundation for them. The failure of Commodore Garrison last week, and that of M. Morgan's Sons this week, have been claimed as suggestive of the condition of almost every house on the street specially interested in any property the securities of which have largely declined. There is just enough plausibility in this idea to give it a kind of self-propelling power in the present excited state of the public mind. If a stock has fallen twenty-five, fifty or a greater per cent, it is argued that the working capital of these financial agents has shrunk correspondingly, and that another dip will wipe it all out. Such an argument would of course be conclusive in case of small assets, large risks and forced sales, but has no application whatever to our conservative banking houses. Their situation finds a good illustration in a remark of Mr. Vanderbilt in an interview with a Times reporter this week, when he says very properly that he has lost no money during this decline, for he has sold none of his stocks and does not intend to. Those who can hold on to good properties will meet the recovery sooner or later; those who can buy with discretion now, will scoop in the profits; only the overburdened who have to let go their load when the tide must be very near its ebb, lose. Of course there is poor stuff on the market even yet, worth less than it is selling for. We are only writing with regard to productive properties that have declined largely.

While the street is being fed, yes stuffed, with these dolesome rumors, the recuperative forces which we have on previous occasions referred to, are continuing to make favorable progress. A very copious rain has this week visited all Eastern and Western sections where the frosts and drought of the past few weeks had made it such a necessity. This will give the new plantings a start and probably ensure a fair harvest throughout New England. Cotton in the Southwest (the section in which the early growth was so hindered by rains and floods) now sends up far more favorable accounts, while elsewhere in the South, with limited exceptions, the present outlook is for a large yield. And as to the great West and Northwest, it is a long time since we have had a year of so much promise. Another week and the reapers will be gathering the crop in the winter-wheat belt where both in quantity and quality the outturn is likely to be very satisfactory, while for spring wheat and corn the weather and development have hitherto been all that could be desired. Surely surroundings such as these are not fit conditions for cultivating melancholia.

Another feature which should relieve all lingering distrust is the restored condition of our banks. When we remember the insecure and dangerous situation they presented so short a time ago as the middle of last month, and compare it with the present position of strength and ease in money, the change appears almost incredible. It proves at least that the disturbance we passed through was a surface disorder, not indicating any deeper malady. A history of the period is best summed up in the movement of the Clearing House Certificates. The total issued before the disturbance was arrested was $24,915,000; the total actually cancelled up to noon of yesterday was $15,105,000; another amount of $2,175,000, though issued, has never been used, leaving now in actual use only $7,635,000, of which $6,800,000 are on account of the Metropolitan Bank, and being cancelled now at the rate of about $100,000 daily. Thus, outside of the Metropolitan, there are at this date less than one million of these certificates in use. In other words, the banks are virtually back to a normal state and in a very strong condition. Money is g loaned freely by them, and though of course they have been made more cautious, as they should be, no one with good security finds any difficulty in obtaining all the funds he needs.

Furthermore, the panic has surely done the country a very good service in correcting our foreign trade. Banks and money lenders generally are forcing speculators to liquidate, so we are no longer the best market the world has to sell in and the poorest to buy in, as we have been for so long a time; instead of stacking up our productions at home we are marketing them, and instead of dredging the world for something to buy we are retrenching. The effect of this change we remarked upon last week, but the following statement of the imports and exports at New York for the last three weeks this year and last year indicates the tendency very plainly up to the present time.

| Week ending— | New York Imports. | | Week ending— | New York Exports. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1884. | 1883. | | 1884. | 1883. |
| June 20.. | $8,881,891 | $10,296,242 | June 24.. | $7,771,171 | $6,407,662 |
| June 13.. | 8,023,423 | 10,430,279 | June 17.. | 6,389,200 | 7,153,823 |
| June 6.. | 7,974,367 | 7,033,370 | June 10.. | 8,434,075 | 5,988,727 |
| Tot. 3 wks | $24,879,681 | $27,759,891 | Tot. 3 wks | $22,594,446 | $19,550,212 |

This shows that at New York our imports have fallen off on the average about a million a week and our exports have increased in the same amount for the last three weeks. Of course we have lost much by our foolish speculations which currency inflation has nurtured (wheat for instance instead of bringing the country about $1 15 is netting less than a dollar now); still we are being benefited by this forced liquidation, though coming so late as to rob it of a considerable percentage of its value. On the other hand as this with our other speculations, extravagances and expenditures has made us poor by trenching too largely upon our floating capital, economy with new production marks the only road there is for recovery, and hence the smaller imports furnish such a promising feature at the present time.

With so material a change in our foreign trade, it is not surprising that foreign exchange should, under the pressure of drafts against the Dominion loan and other bills, continue to exhibit a declining tendency. Rates have dropped this week three cents per pound sterling, and the market is still unsettled and weak, with a fair prospect of declining to points which will admit of an import of gold. Besides the loan bills mentioned, there are drafts made by bankers who, finding it almost impossible to employ their funds at satisfactory rates of interest abroad, are using them here on time contracts on stock and bond collateral, securing good rates of interest, the low grade properties being taken on ample margin. The presence of a few bills drawn against anticipated shipments of cotton has also been noticed, but the low rates ruling for sterling have checked liberal offerings of this class of bills.

Aside from the unfavorable rumors afloat, already referred to, the special feature of the stock market this week has been the attempt to arrest the decline and change the tendency of prices by forced buying to cover short contracts, mainly in Lackawanna, Western Union and Missouri Pacific, about the only stocks now which are controlled by cliques, and therefore readily manipulated. Still the daily hammering the market has had, with a constant dribble of long stock thrown over by exhausted holders, has been sufficient to keep the tendency downward, while under the false rumors circulated and unsettling news, there have been occasional breaks of more importance. Chicago & Northwestern was unfavorably influenced by the rumor, which was confirmed Thursday afternoon, that the directors would issue 14 million of new common stock for the purpose of paying for the Blair system of roads which has been absorbed by the company. St. Paul sympathized to some extent with the decline in Northwestern, but was further affected by reports of inside selling by capitalists largely interested in oil, the speculation in which has recently involved some operators in heavy losses. Rock Island fell because of the conviction that Mr. Vanderbilt's holdings have been reduced to a minimum since his failure to procure larger representation in the board of direction. N. Y. Central declined by reason of reports that there had been liberal sales by insiders of this property since Mr. Vanderbilt's return from Europe, and also on the belief that dividends are to be reduced. Northern Pacific preferred and Oregon & Trans-Continental fell sharply on Thursday, under the report that large blocks of the former held as collateral for loans, had been marketed. Western Union was upheld early in the week, but it subsequently fell, and singularly enough the decline closely followed a report that a large loan had been made upon the stock at 30. The suspension on Tuesday of Matthew Morgan's Sons had only a temporary effect upon the market, for their interests in it were comparatively small. The suspension on Thursday of Stout & Co. will, it is believed, be only temporary, but it caused a sharp decline in Canada Southern and Michigan Central.

In our article last week on the Erie Railroad, in commenting on several important changes in the company's accounts as disclosed by the balance sheets of December 31, 1883, and March 31, 1884, we were led among other things to refer to the large diminution of $1,428,712 in the company's surplus account during the three months, which we deemed inexplicable in view of the fact that the deficit on the quarter's operations was only $826,165, leaving a decrease of over $600,000 unaccounted for. Mr. Stephen Little, the Auditor of the road, now informs us that the reduction is explained by the "amounts charged off in "January, 1884, as against the surplus of the year ending "September 30, 1883, for dividend on preferred stock and "interest on income bonds." That would appear to clear up the mystery. We omitted to take notice of that item for three several reasons. In the first place we were comparing the accounts of March with those of December, and not with those of September. Had we done the latter, then it would have been incumbent to make allowance for the dividend subsequently declared. In the second place, in using the figures of surplus for December 31 we supposed, of course, that those figures had been made up after taking out the dividend on the preferred stock, declared in the previous November. Finally, as the dividend fell due in the succeeding January, we imagined that the company would treat it as a current liability, and that therefore it must be regarded as having been included in one of the items of accounts due and accrued. It appears, however, that such was not the case, and that the company keeps its books on a different plan. The following is Mr. Little's detailed account of the decrease in surplus.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Profit and Loss - | | |
| Surplus December 31, 1883 | $7,364,505 08 | |
| Surplus March 31, 1884 | 5,935,792 53 | |
| Decrease | | $1,428,712 55 |
| Composed of | | |
| Deficit for January, February and March, 1884 | | 826,165 36 |
| Amounts charged in January, 1884, as against the surplus of year ending Sept. 30, 1883 - Dividend on preferred stock | $488,208 00 | |
| Interest on income bonds | 30,480 18 | |
| | | 518,688 18 |
| Accounts not included in monthly nor quarterly profit and loss | | 107,857 78 |
| | | $1,452,711 62 |
| Less miscellaneous | | 23,999 07 |
| | | $1,428,712 55 |

We also alluded in our article to the increase that had taken place in current liabilities, concurrently with a decrease in current or available assets. We did not, of course, suppose that that could not be explained. The company very likely added correspondingly to its permanent accounts. Mr. Little now takes the item of current assets which showed the the largest decrease—namely, "due by agents, other companies and individuals"—and says the contraction in it is "caused mainly by $1,195,000 Chicago & Atlantic Rail-"way Company notes received and credited to the account "of advances to that company." Mr. Little further adverts to differences in two other items to which we did not refer because the reasons for the changes were quite apparent. In the period from December to March, the company completed the final payment on account of one of its car trusts, and the full amount of that car trust being transferred to equipment account, caused a large increase in the item of "cost of road and equipment," and a simultaneous diminution in the amount "paid on "account of equipment." As to the losses by the Grant & Ward failure, a statement of which we thought should be furnished the stock and bondholders, Mr. Little says nothing, the matter not being within his province.

Pennsylvania Railroad's exhibit of earnings and expenses for May makes, all things considered, a very good showing both on the eastern lines and the western lines. On the former there is only a small decrease in gross, and this being accompanied again by a decrease in expenses, we have a slight improvement in net over a year ago. On the Western lines, where the comparison with 1883 has heretofore been very unfavorable, we have this time a falling off of only $38,696, there being a deficiency in meeting all liabilities for the month of $47,754, against a similar deficiency of $9,058 in 1883 and $75,586 in 1882. The most important feature in the statement is the renewed evidence it gives of the possibility of reducing expenses in a corresponding, or even greater, ratio than the decline in business. This is a point that cannot be given too much prominence. The decrease already effected would appear to be nothing compared with what may be effected in the future under a rigid enforcement of a policy of general retrenchment. The expenses for May are smaller only than in 1883; otherwise they are heavier than in any other preceding year. They are, for instance, about a million greater than in the same month of 1879, during which time gross earnings have risen a million and a half. What a railroad can do when it determines to cut down expenses is shown in the semi-annual reports of both the Lake Shore and the Michigan Central submitted this week, the former reporting the smallest expenses since 1879 and the latter since 1880. The Pennsylvania's business for six years past is set out in the subjoined exhibit.

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and Michigan Central & Canada Southern have this week, as usual, issued their semi-annual statements for the current half year, and we give the figures in our investors' column on another page. It is scarcely necessary to say that they do not make favorable exhibits. Anybody who has watched the course of trunk line traffic, the state of general business, and has noted the demoralized condition of rates culminating in March last in a reduction of the tariff to figures that scarcely paid the cost of operating, knows that this has been to them a very poor period for making profits. It is, therefore, not surprising to see that the Lake Shore, as compared with the corresponding half year of 1883, has lost nearly $1,900,000 in gross earnings, and nearly $700,000 in net, and that after reducing the dividend for the second quarter to 1½ from 2 per cent, making 3½ for the half-year, there is a deficiency of $715,827 in meeting the dividend requirement, against a deficiency of only $231,858 in 1883, after 4 per cent had been paid. Further, that the Michigan Central and Canada Southern should have lost $1,100,000 gross and over $750,000 net, so that their surplus in excess of the amount needed for fixed charges is hardly more than nominal ($107,000), while in 1883 it was $939,000, sufficient to pay 3 per cent on Michigan Central stock and 2 per cent on Canada Southern stock.

Still, notwithstanding all this, it is to be said that these exhibits are not without encouraging features. In the first place, it is gratifying to note that both in the case of the Michigan Central and the Lake Shore, the net, though small, are larger than they were in the half year of 1882. The gain is over $200,000 on the Lake Shore, and $300,000 on the Michigan Central and Canada Southern, over that year. It is satisfactory to note this increase, because though in the half year of 1882 traffic had been reduced to very small dimensions (as a result of the exceptionally short harvest of 1881), the conditions on the whole would appear to have been much more favorable then than now, for there were not as many lines competing for the business, and rates were higher than in the present half year. Looking to see how the increase in net was brought about, we find that it is wholly the result of a reduction in expenses, indicating a policy of retrenchment and economy which offers much hope for the outcome of the immediate future, should there be only a small improvement even in the traffic conditions. The gain of $200,000 in net on the Lake Shore, for instance, occurred in the face of a decrease of over $600,000 in gross, showing that expenses have been diminished over $800,000. The surplus remaining for the stockholders, however, was not as large in 1884 as in 1882, because there has been an increase of about $300,000 in the charge for interest, &c., on the Lake Shore (though not on the Michigan Central lines) in the interval. The surplus on the Lake Shore in the current year is $1,015,500, or 2·03 per cent on the amount of the company's stock. As two per cent had already been paid in the first quarter, it is claimed that nothing should have been declared for the second quarter, instead of the 1½ per cent now announced. But the company meets this objection by showing that in the second half year the earnings are usually much heavier than in the first half, and that therefore the deficiency of the current six months may be expected to be made good in the succeeding six months. Thus there remained for the stock in 1882, $1,076,000 in the first half and $3,064,000 in the second half, and in 1883, $1,747,000 in the first half and $2,266,000 in the second half. It is hardly probable that the company can earn as much for the stock in the ensuing six months as in the same six months of 1882, which was a very profitable period, but if it should earn no more than in the last six months of 1883, which was not a good period, it would just about make enough to cover the 6½ per cent paid for the year.

Money has been a little more active at the Stock Exchange this week and brokers' balances loaned at 15 per cent on Monday and at 6 per cent on Tuesday. But this was on collateral which is not favorably regarded, and therefore these rates do not represent the condition of call loans there. Each day the rate fell to nominal figures after the urgent demand ceased, and borrowers with acceptable collateral had no difficulty in supplying their wants at any time during the day at from 3 to 4 per cent. The following statement made up from returns collected by us exhibits the week's receipts and shipments of gold and currency by the New York banks.

The above shows the actual changes in the bank holdings of gold and currency caused by this movement to and from the interior. In addition to that movement, the banks have gained $2,000,000 through the operations of the Sub-Treasury. Adding that item, therefore, to the above, we have the following, which should indicate the total gain to the N. Y. Clearing House banks of gold and currency for the week covered by the bank statement to be issued to-day.

The Bank of England reports a gain of £389,000 bullion during the week This represents £445,000 received from the interior and £56,000 sent abroad. The Bank of France gained 3,518,000 francs gold and 1,280,000 francs silver, and the Bank of Germany, since our last report, shows an increase of 1,625,000 marks. The following indicates the amount of bullion in the principal European banks this week and at the corresponding date last year.

FEATURES OF THE ROCK ISLAND REPORT.

The report of the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Railroad for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1884, issued this week, commands attention for several reasons. It gives us an idea of the course of business in that section of the country—a section where the general business depression is supposed to have affected railroad earnings less than anywhere else. It shows moreover how the Rock Island is faring under the multiplication of new roads—its Omaha line being one among five now, against one among three a few years ago—and the increased competition thus produced.

Our readers will remember that it is four years since the consolidation of Rock Island with its branch roads, when occasion was taken to double the capital stock, giving shareholders two shares of new stock for one share of old. The company was paying 10 per cent on the original stock, and made the rate (since maintained) on the new 7 per cent, equivalent to 14 on the old. At the time of the doubling of the stock, railroad business was in an exceedingly flourishing condition. The crops were large, immigration was heavy, general business active, and wide sections of new territory were being opened to settlement. Furthermore, the competition of new lines was not yet a feature of any importance. Since then, many changes in the railroad situation have been witnessed, poor harvests, decreased immigration, business depression, and railroad competition through the new lines built, having put to its severest test the previous policy of inflation and expansion. The reports of the company's business therefore possess unusual interest, and merit careful study to determine how far the earnings and income of the road have justified the course of increasing the dividend requirement by enlarging the stock. To this end, we give the following brief summary of the company's business for eleven years past.

† Carried to sinking fund.
‡ After paying $35,276 in settlement of U. S. income tax.
§ Against this the new company (formed at time of doubling of stock) received $705,672 cash assets from the old company.

We here see that in the first two years of the consolidation—namely, in 1880–1 and 1881–2—the company made large gains in its income. Gross earnings rose from 11 millions to over 13¼ millions, and net from 5¼ millions to nearly 6 millions. The last two years however show a different result; and though owing to somewhat better crops in 1883, there has been an increase in business the past year, net earnings are nevertheless smaller than they were in the year 1879–80—before the consolidation. But the dividend requirement is now $850,000 greater than then, and interest and rentals also call for about $275,000 more, making an increased charge of over a million dollars, The result is seen in a surplus (above all requirements) of only $819,071 in 1883–4, against $1,953,979 in 1879–80. This is independent of the receipts from land sales, which would swell the surplus in 1883–4 to $1,289,071, and to $2,303,979 in 1879–80. Obviously, however, this surplus is, in a sense, nominal, not real. Like the Burlington & Quincy, the Chicago & Alton, the Illinois Central, and other roads, the Rock Island finds it necessary to devote a certain portion of its income to the making of improvements, additions, &c. In the past year, for instance, of the surplus of $1,289,071, all but $89,071 had to be so used; and the $1,200,000 spent for this purpose was smaller in amount than in any other year since 1879–80.

Of course, within certain limits, it is optional with the company to employ net earnings in this way, and to that extent the cost of improvements should not be considered a constant charge, the same as interest or dividends, and yet experience seems to demonstrate that well-managed American railroads find it expedient, if not imperative, to set aside a certain portion of their earnings regularly each year for this purpose. The amount to be used in any one year cannot be definitely fixed, and may with reason be adjusted to the company's financial needs and abilities for the time being. But some allowance, large or small, apparently must be made. The Rock Island appears to have varied the amount in precisely the way mentioned. For instance, while in 1883–4, of a surplus so called of $1,289,000, $1,200,000 was spent for improvements, in 1882–3 of a surplus of $1,300,942, $1,300,000 was spent, and in 1881–2 of a surplus of $2,253,684, $2,215,000 was used in that way. In 1880–1 the amount thus spent was even greater, being $2,285,689. The feature disclosed by these figures, aside from the fact that the outlay has been adjusted to meet the company's yearly earnings, is, that in the last two years the amount devoted to improvements, &c., has been only about one-half what it was in the two years preceding. We suppose that the outlay might be still further contracted if the necessity existed, and yet only the company's officials can tell. We have raised the question, not to answer it, but simply to show its importance, for it is clear that just to the extent that this renewal or improvement fund can be cut down, has the company a margin of profit that bad business or earnings can encroach on. As bearing upon the same point, however, it may be well to note that $470,000 of the $1,200,000 charged to improvements in 1883–4 was contributed by the Land Department. The Land Commissioner states that only 22,605 acres remain unsold. At $10 an acre these would yield no more than $226,000. The bills receivable the Commissioner reports at $1,129,172. So that altogether a million and a-half would seem amply sufficient to cover all possible future contributions by the Land Department.

It will be asked, does the falling off in the company's earnings during the last two years (which, of course, is the chief reason for the smaller surplus that remains) indicate a corresponding falling off in the volume of traffic, and if so, is such contraction in the traffic the result of smaller crops, or of the depression in business? In reply, it may be said that the decrease in earnings is the two-fold result of a decrease in traffic and a reduction in rates, and that the latter is the outgrowth of the construction of new lines and competition, while the former follows from both smaller crops and depression in business. We give below the company's freight and passenger statistics for fourteen years.

*Includes freight carried for company's use, for which nothing is charged, and which, therefore, adds nothing to the receipts.

As compared with a tonnage mileage of 151 million tons in 1870–1, the company has now a tonnage mileage of 764 million tons, or over five times as much. Yet the revenue from this freight was only 8 million dollars in 1883–4 as against 4 millions in 1870–1, or but twice as much. This is explained by the fact that the rate per ton per mile had in the interval been cut down from 2·64 cents to 1·10 cents. But we need go no further back than two years to illustrate our point. It will be noticed that in 1882–3 the tonnage mileage, which in the preceding year had been at its maximum at 788 million tons, fell off to 761 million tons, but that in the late year the total recovered to 764 million tons. Yet, though as between 1883–4 and 1881–2, there is a falling off of only 24 million tons one mile, or less than 4 per cent, in the freight earnings there is a decrease of over $1,600,000, or 16 per cent, and the explanation is, that in this period of two years the rate per ton per mile has diminished from 1·28 cents to 1·10 cents, or 15 per cent. In passengers there is a slight increase in the average rate received in the last year over the previous year, but this is caused by an increase in the number of first-class passengers carried, and not by any increase in charges. It should also be said that the decrease in the number of passengers carried in the last year reflects a decrease on through traffic, local traffic having gained. The fact remains, however, that besides the reduced rate at which freight had to be carried there was also a diminution in the actual amount of business offering, and to show what items in the company's traffic record a falling off, and what an increase, we have prepared the following summary for five years. We have arranged the items in two classes, the first embracing traffic moved mostly eastward, being agricultural products chiefly, and the second, traffic carried west in great part.

The wonderful changes worked by the varying yield of the crops is here clearly brought out. Take, for instance, corn. Note how the company carried 1,397 million pounds of the cereal to market in 1880–81, and only 837 million pounds in the late fiscal year, after having carried but 680 millions in 1882–3. Note also the fall in hogs (the supply of which depends upon the yield of corn) from 356 million pounds in 1880–81 to 223 millions in 1883–84. On the other hand, it is easy to see how the company has strengthened its position with regard to flour by the connections with the flour mills at Minneapolis, which the Minneapolis & St. Louis and the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern roads afford it. It is also interesting to observe how "ore and bullion"—presumably from points west of the Missouri River—has diminished from 114 million pounds in 1881–82 to 32 million pounds in the late year. Equally significant are the gradations in the items of west-bound traffic, which reflect the fluctuations in general business. Thus, merchandise freight (both east and west, mostly the latter) jumped from 573 millions in 1878–79 to 1,249 millions in 1881–82, and is now back again to 973 millions. Lumber ran up from 535 to 959 millions, and is down to 805 millions now. Railroad ties, after touching 175 million pounds, from 90 million, has fallen back to 97 millions. Iron, which counted for only 166 millions in 1878–9, and for 447 millions in 1881–2, is now at 378 million pounds. So almost all materials that play part in the development of general industries show a falling off, after a large previous increase, the highest figures having as a rule been reached in 1881–2, when we were at the height of the prosperous wave. But the coal traffic of the road is larger than ever before, and so is the quantity of agricultural implements carried.

Thus the above figures are useful, first, in showing the extent to which the company's earnings have been affected by good or bad crops in the past, and secondly, in disclosing the possibilities of an increase in them at any time in the future under another large harvest like that of 1880. It is hardly probable that the tonnage resulting therefrom would prove as profitable as that of 1880, since the reduction in rates which has taken place must be regarded as more or less permanent, but it would presumably increase net earnings materially. The changes in general and miscellaneous traffic, as indicated in the items of what we call west-bound freight, because the greater part of it is moved in that direction, are hardly less instructive than those in agricultural products, for they make it apparent how important a part business prosperity or adversity plays in the company's earnings. They are also useful in making estimates as to the future, for they contrast a period of great prosperity (1881–2) with a period of much depression just preceding and another now succeeding.

[From our own correspondent.]

The week just concluded has been one of considerable uneasiness and anxiety, notwithstanding that the weather has been very propitious for the growing crops, and the money market is in an easy condition. Many sinister rumors have been in circulation, especially in connection with United States railroad companies but they have not been confirmed, and there is now a very general belief that the reports have been circulated with a dishonest motive. These rumors have naturally an adverse influence, as they keep the public away from the markets, and restrict business to a very material degree. It is, however, a satisfactory feature that, although the general public are not buyers, they are not heavy sellers. The recent arrangement of the account indicates this in a prominent manner, heavy charges having been made for the loan of stocks in nearly all departments. This augurs well for the future, and it would seem that there is even now an opportunity of making profitable speculative investments. Many, nevertheless, contend that we have not yet reached the lowest points of value; and it is quite certain that there are no indications of immediate improvement. A wasting policy may be regarded, therefore, as a safe one to pursue, and that course is, no doubt, being adopted. A feature giving encouragement is that during the semi-panic which is, and has been, in existence, no serious failures have been recorded either commercially or financially. Still, interested parties on the Stock Exchange contend that much unsoundness exists. But they proclaimed hat many months ago, and although we have had failures, they have been few for a great community like that which exists in England. Week after week, the value of securities has been depreciating, and yet there is no actual break-down. The profits of late years, notwithstanding opinions to the contrary, must have been very great, for had they not been so, we could not have borne the heavy strain upon our resources. If the present condition of things continues, a critical moment may arrive, but there is reason for believing that the worst has been encountered, and that the future may be looked forward to with some confidence.

The money market has been easier in tone, and the supply of floating capital has increased. Even the Stock Exchange settlement has exercised but little influence, and short loans are now obtainable at 1 per cent. A fair quantity of mercantile bills has been sent up from the country for discount, and it is therefore presumed that more mercantile business is in progress. Manufacturers are becoming busier in connection with the autumn trade, and especially so in the department for wool. The Board of Trade returns are indicative of improvement, and the crop prospects being very favorable, there is no reason why we should not work upon substantial bases. The weakest point is that the country is not confident regarding the political situation. The state of Egypt has gone from bad to worse, and we are quite at a loss how to define the future. This is a great incubus to business, and its removal would be the dispersion of a very threatening cloud.

The Bank of England return is satisfactory, and it indicates that there is a larger supply of unemployed money than had been anticipated. There is an opinion, therefore, that the discount houses committed an error when they raised last week their rates of interest for deposits to the extent of a half per cent. During the current month gold coin will be returning from provincial circulation, and the money market will be easy. The discount houses, therefore, will not be able to employ their deposits to any great advantage. The following are the present quotations for money:

In reference to the state of the bullion market during the past week, Messrs. Pixley & Abell remark:

Gold.—With a good demand for Spain and inquiries for India, gold continues strong in price. All arrivals have been disposed of without difficulty, except £40,000, which being of too low an assay was sold to the Bank of England. The totals reported are: Per "Valetta" from Sydney, £7,610; "Don," from West Indies, £8,160; "Tongariro," New Zealand, £30,000; total, £40,800. The Bank has sold £171,000, of which £100,000 for New York and £50,000 for Lisbon; and the P. & O. steamer takes £48,000 to Bombay.

Silver improved from 50⅞d., at which the market closed last week, to 50 5/16d., at which price the amount ex Ch ll steamer was sold. The order being filled, and the market also being influenced by the weak allotment at the Bank, caused a relapse to 50⅜d., and the "Mozart" arriving to-day has been fixed at this rate. The amounts to hand are: From Buenos Ayres, £48,800; New York, £10,000; Chili, £48,000, West Indies, £12,200; total, £106,000. The "Clyde" takes £117,200 to Bombay.

Mexican Dollars.—A few have been sold to-day at 49⅞d., but there are no large amounts on the market, pending the arrival of the "Ville de Bordeaux" due to morrow or Saturday. She is stated to bring £120,000, chiefly in coin.

Messrs. Baring Brothers & Co. and Messrs. Glynn, Mills, Currie & Co., announce that they are authorized to receive subscriptions to an issue of £5,000,000 3½ per cent stock or bonds of the Dominion Government of Canada. Tenders will be received at the offices of Messrs. Baring & Co. on or before Wednesday the 18th inst., the minimum price fixed being 91 per cent. The money is required for the various financial purposes of the Dominion Government and to meet the charges placed on the consolidated revenue fund in connection with the Canadian Pacific railway.

The Board of Trade returns for May, and the five months ended May 31, have been issued this week. They are more favorable than had been anticipated, there being a small increase in the exports of British and Irish produce and manufactures, and a further diminution in the imports of food. The following are the totals:

The recent fall of rain was copious, and its effects are still visible. The soil, being parched, absorbed it rapidly, and as it was succeeded by dull weather, it exercised its full effects, and is being productive of great benefits. It did not come sufficiently early to materially augment the grass crops, at least in the South of England; but all the late-sown crops have been benefitted by it, and agriculture is now making very satisfactory and encouraging progress, the weather being bright and warm, with every appearance of a continuance. It may, indeed, be said that this is a great season for production, and the results must be satisfactory if the weather continues as propitious as it is now.

The trade in cereal produce has been in a very dull and inanimate state. Liberal supplies from abroad and British farmers' deliveries being satisfactorily maintained, together with the favorable prospects, must needs compel buyers to operate with caution and only to supply actual wants. Hence, sales in all descriptions of produce progress slowly, but prices being at a low point, no change of importance has taken place. The supplies of new produce arriving from tropical countries are of good quality. From the Continent the agricultural reports are more than usually hopeful.

The following are the estimated stocks of wheat, flour and Indian corn afloat to the United Kingdom. Baltic supplies are not included:

Commercial and Miscellaneous News

U. S. Bonds Called.—On June 26 the Secretary of the Treasury issued the one hundred and twenty-ninth call for the redemption of bonds. The call is for $10,000,000 3 per cent bonds issued under the act approved July 12, 1882. Notice is given that the principal and accrued interest of the bonds will be paid at the Treasury of the United States on Aug. 1, 1884, and that the interest on the bonds will cease on that day. Following are the descriptions of the bonds:

Fifty dollars, original No. 315 to original No. 344, both inclusive; $100, original No. 2,363 to original No. 2,795, both inclusive, and original No 9,484 to original No. 9,513, both inclusive; $500, original No. 1,151 to original No. 1,338, both inclusive, and original No. 3,994 to original No. 4,003, both inclusive; $1,000, original No. 11,089 to original No. 12,374, both inclusive, and original No. 22,813 to original No. 22,857; $10,000 original No. 20,302 to original No. 21,170, both inclusive; total, $10,000,000.

Imports and Exports for the Week.—The imports of last week, compared with those of the preceding week, show a decrease in dry goods and an increase in general merchandise. The total imports were $8,881,891, against $8,023,423 the preceding week and $7,974,367 two weeks previous. The exports for the week ended June 24 amounted to $7,771,171, against $6,389,200 last week and $8,435,075 two weeks previous.

Wabash St. Louis & Pacific.—Judge Treat of the United States Circuit Court of Missouri has issued the following order modifying his original order regarding the issue of receivers' certificates for the Wabash:

"Inasmuch as the original order of May 31, 1884, was intended to and does reserve for final determination all the legal and equitable rights and obligations of the several parties in interest, and consequently the receivers' obligations issued under the order do not of themselves operate as prior or distinctive liens, yet in order to exclude any erroneous conclusion with respect to the force and effect of the original order, the foregoing modified order will be entered on record:

"The application for this order was made by the Central Trust Company in order to fix the status of the several obligations of the company These will consequently rank in the following order: 1. Receivers' certificates, $2,000,000, to pay mechanics' liens and taxes; 2. General mortgage bonds, $17,000,000, held by the Central Trust Company; 3. Receivers' certificates, $2,200,000, issued to take up certain promissory notes secured by first mortgages on terminal facilities."

The Evening Post says: "The officers of the Central Trust Company say that of the $50,000,000 of general mortgage bonds authorized by the Wabash only $17,000,000 have ever been issued. This amount was issued, sold, and the proceeds used for improvements, etc., on the Wabash road. The remaining $33,000,000 were set aside specifically for the purpose of taking up the old bonds of the various companies consolidated into the Wabash St. Louis & Pacific, but no part of this $33,000,000 has been issued, and no exchange of old bonds for general mortgage bonds has been made. The $2,200,000 of receivers' certificates which are placed in the third class are supposed to represent the notes of Messrs. Gould, Sage and Humphreys, given to take up the floating debt of the Wabash."

—At a time like this, when it is difficult to decide what securities are safe and desirable for investment, the reader can find something of interest in the advertisement of The First National Bank of Corning, Iowa, to be found in the Investors' Supplement and in the Chronicle. This Bank makes a specialty of negotiating farm mortgages in Iowa and other Western States, for capitalists and private investors. The President of the bank (formerly of the firm of Geo. W. Frank & Darrow) has had many years' experience in placing these loans in the choicest farming sections of several Western States and with excellent success. The Bank invites correspondence, and refers to well-known banks and others.

—The interest due July 1 on different issues of bonds of the St. Paul Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway will be paid on that date at the office of the Company, 63 William Street.

—We call attention to the large list of stocks and bonds elsewhere in this paper, on which Messrs. Winslow, Lanier & Co. will pay interest and dividends on and after July 1.

—The Trustees of the Manhattan Savings Institution have just declared their usual dividend on deposits, particulars of which will be found in our advertising columns.

—The Ontario Silver Mining Co. has declared its usual dividend of $75,000 for the month of May.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1884—3 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The Bank statement of June 21 was decidedly good, showing a further gain of $3,033,575 in the surplus reserve. The amount of Clearing House certificates outstanding June 26 (exclusive of Metropolitan Bank) was only $3,310,000, of which only $1,885,000 were in actual use.

There has not been a positively unfavorable event this week in the stock market, except the suspension of Matthew Morgan's Sons on Tuesday and the small failure of Stout & Co. on Thursday. All the depression has been engineered on rumors, false and malicious reports of failures, by exciting the fears of weak holders, and by trading on the cumulative effect of the low prices already made. The depression in prices has been greater than at any previous time. The fact seems to be overlooked, however, that about three-fourths of all the active stocks have reached such low figures that there is little inducement to sell them short. The whole active list embraces only some twenty-five stocks, as shown in the following table giving the highest and lowest prices made during the present year on each, and even a moderate pessimist might say that at least eighteen of these stocks, at their lowest prices this week, offer little promise in selling them short.

The money market was unsettled by the shifting of loans on stock collaterals and on Saturday and Monday high rates were made on call loans to stock brokers, the extreme prices reaching as high as 12 per cent per annum on Saturday and 18 per cent on Monday, since which time rates have been easier, only exceeding 5 per cent in exceptional cases.

Rates for call loans during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged at 1 to 18 per cent, and to-day at 2 to 4 per cent. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 5½ to 6 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in specie of £389,000, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 46⅞, the same as last week; the discount rate remains at 2 per cent. The Bank of France gained 3,518,500 francs in gold and 1,280,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of June 21 showed an increase in surplus reserve of $3,033,575, the total surplus being $10,020,075, against $6,986,500 the previous week.

The following table shows the changes from the previous week and a comparison with the two preceding years in the averages of the New York Clearing House banks.

Exchange.—The decline in exchange noted in our last report was followed by still lower figures, and with a dull market rates became unsettled and very weak, the figures on actual business being sometimes much below posted rates. The heavy decline in securities and large demand for money here and the purchase of stocks for foreign account were reported as the principal causes for the lower prices for bills.

The posted rates of leading bankers on Friday are as follows

| June 27. | Sixty Days Demand. | |
|---|---|---|
| Prime bankers' sterling bills on London | 4 82 | 4 84 |
| Prime commercial | 4 79½ | ..... |
| Documentary commercial | 4 78½ | ..... |
| Paris (francs) | 5 21⅞ | 5 19⅜ |
| Amsterdam (guilders) | 40⅜ | 40⅝ |
| Frankfort or Bremen (reichmarks) | 94⅜ | 94⅝ |

United States Bonds.—The transactions in Government bonds have been small the past week, and prices show a gradual weakening under the sharper demand for money and the necessity of realizing on good securities. The Treasury has issued the 129th call for bonds, embracing $10,000,000 of the 4 per cents, to be redeemed on Aug. 1. The closing prices compared with a week ago show a decline of 1 per cent for the 1⅛'s, 1¼ for the 4s and ⅝ for the 3s.

The closing prices at the N. Y. Board have been as follows:

State and Railroad Bonds.—The sales of State bonds have been very few, and the quotations of to-day are given on another page. Railroad bonds have not been specially active, but prices have generally been still weaker than last reported. The West Shore Railroad bonds are rather an exception to the rule, and were steady to-day at 38½ to 38¾. The Erie seconds were subjected to further attacks, and depressed to 45¾ this afternoon, part of the selling supposed to be for London account. The inferior bonds that are tainted with suspicion of default have naturally been weak and fluctuating; but in addition to these many choice 6 per cent gold bonds are selling at very low prices, for the simple reason that there is no strong buying.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The condition of the stock market beggars description, and without any present or impending disaster, such a weakness from mere liquidation and bear attacks has hardly been seen before. Perhaps the most hopeful feature (provided no important failures are caused) is the very circumstance that the decline in prices is forced so rapidly. What might occur as the shrinkage of months of bad business and decreased railroad earnings, is brought about in a single week by the pressure on the market from the causes above indicated. If there was one quarter of the vitality behind certain stocks which exists in ordinary times, it might be thought that the present oversold conditions would place the shorts in a most dangerous position where prices might be jumped up 15 or 20 points in a day or two; but as it is there is little use in predicting anything about the course of prices, since the parties who in times past have usually supported their respective stocks now generally abandon them. The only stocks recently supported have been the two Gould specialties—Missouri Pacific and Western Union Telegraph—and Delaware Lackawanna & Western.

Among the weakest stocks of the past few days have been the Vanderbilts, which have declined since the semi-annual statements issued on Wednesday, and the reduction of the Lake Shore quarterly dividend to 1½ per cent and the passing of the dividends on Michigan Central and Canada Southern.

The Lackawanna report for the six months shows net earnings applicable to dividends of 4 20-100 per cent and its usual 2 per cent quarterly dividend was declared.

In the Gould stocks all attention is concentrated on the two above named, and the rest are allowed to go where they will. M. K. & T. sold to-day at 9½, closing at 10; Texas & Pacific sold down to 5½, closing at 6¼.

In the Granger stocks both Northwest and St. Paul touched low prices to-day, Northwest closing at 82½ and St. Paul, after selling at 58¼ in the morning, closing at 59¼. Neither of these stocks have had a vigorous support, and in the case of St. Paul the bears freely charge that when the President comes to New York it is a signal for weakness in the stock.

The Northern Pacifics have been sold down on false rumors of financial wants, and probably on the report of the Senate Committee favoring the cancellation of the land grant on those lines not yet constructed.

Erie has been weak on attacks made in the London newspapers and consequent sales for London account.

Central Pacific was knocked off by reports sent from California, apparently false and sent for the purpose of damaging the company.

To-day there are some indications of a better undertone and steadier feeling, although prices were weak in the last half hour of business.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Chicago Rock Island & Pacific.

(For the year ending March 31, 1884.)

Mr. Cable, the President, states that of the $1,800,000 bonds reported as assets in the last annual report, $1,200,000 have been sold at the market rate, and the avails invested in stock and bonds of connecting and other railroads for the protection of the company's interests.

The main line and branch railroads operated April 1, 1884, were 1,384 miles, of which 263 miles were leased.

The total number of passengers carried increased 28,605, or 1 03-100 per cent. The movement of passengers one mile decreased 4,315,120, or 3 24-100 per cent. To the increase in first-class and way passengers and the decrease in emigrant and through passengers is attributable the slight increase in rate per passenger per mile, from 2·591 cents the previous year to 2·572 cents the past year—there having been no increase in tariff rates during the year. Passenger earnings decreased 0·59 per cent during the year.

The increase in freight earnings was 1 61-100 per cent.

The movement of freight, as compared with the previous year, shows an increase of 4 78-100 per cent, while the rate received per ton per mile has decreased from 1 17-100 cents the previous year to 1 10-100 cents for the past year, or 6 per cent.

"The increase (nearly 10 per cent) in revenue from through freight indicates that your company is maintaining its position with its competitors, and when abundant crops and prosperous seasons return to the section of country traversed by your lines of road, a marked increase of revenue may be safely predicted at even the present low rates."

Gross earnings show an increase of 2 83-100 per cent and net earnings an increase of 3 10-100 per cent. Operating expenses increased 2 56-100 per cent, and taxes 4 87-100 per cent.

The amount charged to construction and equipment account for the year was $746,751.

"An important change of line has been made near Floris, Iowa, by the construction of about three miles of new road, thereby reducing heavy grades and excessive curvatures, at the same time dispensing with high and long wooden trestles and substituting permanent structures of iron and stone.

"Work of a similar nature is also in progress between Bureau and Pond Creek, Ill., and a short distance east of this improvement the channel of Bureau Creek has been changed, whereby two wooden trestle bridges, aggregating 470 feet in length, have been dispensed with. These changes have been made preparatory to laying the second track now in process of construction." * * *

"A branch road has been built from Wilton, Iowa, in a northerly direction towards Tipton, the present terminus being at extensive lime kilns, 5 2-100 miles from Wilton."

LAND DEPARTMENT.

"There have been sold, by deeds or contracts of warranty, during the year, 12,851 49-100 acres of land, for the total sum of $123,794, realizing thus an average price of $9·63⅝ per acre. Quit-claim deeds have besides been made for 280 acres, for which $350 were received. The bills receivable now on hand and unpaid amount to $1,129,172. The collections of interest on bills receivable for the year were $89,628." * * *

"There have been remitted during the year, from the collections of this office, to the Treasurer of the company in New York, a total sum of $470,000.

"The lands now remaining unsold amount to only about 22,605 acres. These are mostly in Audubon and Guthrie counties, and mostly consist of rather hilly land, better suited for pasturage than tillage. As the surrounding lands are all taken up and, generally, in cultivation, these will be in good demand by local purchasers, as soon as the effects of the past year's unfavorable crops pass away. Should the coming harvest prove remunerative to farmers, undoubtedly the greater portion will be disposed of during the current year."

The statistics of operations and financial condition in the past four years, compiled in the usual form for the CHRONICLE, are as follows:

Denver & Rio Grande Western.

(For the year ending December 31, 1883.)

This company owns a railroad which is located in a most interesting position as a key to traffic in an important section of western country. It is at present leased for thirty years to the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company, and forms the connecting line for that road from the Colorado border to Ogden, the point of junction of the Central Pacific, Union Pacific and Utah Northern roads. There are at least four great companies, any one of which might like to own or control the Denver & Rio Grande Western. There is, first, the Denver & Rio Grande, which is a narrow gauge road, and the parent company for which the D. & R. G. W. was built, and to which it is now leased for thirty years at a rental of 40 per cent of the gross earnings. But the lease is under litigation, and the lessee seeks to have it annulled. Secondly, the Union Pacific might well like to control this road and thus resume its former position as arbiter of rates west of Denver. Next is the Central Pacific, which might find the D. & R. G. W. Road a convenient through connection to the East via Denver. Then comes the Chicago Burlington & Quincy, which could by a short western extension from Denver connect at the Colorado line with the D. & R. G. W., and thus form a line from Chicago to Ogden, and compete more sharply than ever with Union Pacific. Therefore, if the present Denver & Rio Grande Western lease should be annulled, it hardly seems probable that the road would long remain "out in the cold" as a property not wanted by any one.

The report of Mr. W. J. Palmer, the President, is for the year 1883, but his remarks are dated as late as May, 1884. Mr. Palmer naturally gives his own views of the controversy between this company and its lessee the Denver & Rio Grande.

The Denver & Rio Grande Western Railway, under the lease to the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company, turned over 368 miles of road, as follows:

| AUGUST 1, 1882. | Miles. |
|---|---|
| Salt Lake City to Coal Mine, located in Pleasant Valley | 105·70 |
| Bingham Junction to Bingham | 16·30 |
| Bingham Junction to Alta | 18·20 |
| Clear Creek Station to P. V. Junction | 14·40 |
| | 154·60 |
| APRIL 8, 1883. | |
| P. V. Junction to Colorado line | 175·94 |
| MAY 21, 1883. | |
| Salt Lake City to Ogden | 37·46 |
| Total miles | 368·00 |

Mr. Palmer remarks: "The lease of this road to the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company took effect August 1st, 1882, when 155 miles were turned over. By the 1st of June, 1883, the whole line, from the Colorado border westward to Ogden, amounting with branches to 368 miles, began operation. The average distance worked during the 17 months from the beginning of the lease, August 1st, 1882, to December 31st, 1883, was 263 miles. The gross earnings (after deducting those from construction material) were $965,299, equivalent to $2,591 per mile per year, of which 40 per cent rental amounted to an average of $1,036 per mile per year. The interest per mile, which eventually is to average 6 per cent upon $16,000 per mile of bonds, to-wit, $960 yearly per mile, is temporarily (by reason of uncompleted line) up to $1,125 per mile.

"The above result includes 10 months which elapsed before the completion of the through line. Since reaching a connection with the Central Pacific Railway at Ogden about June 1st, 1883, the gross earnings have been $622,332, or at the rate of $2,899 per mile per annum. The rental during the same period, $248,932, or at the rate of $1,160 per mile per annum.

|---|---|
| The rental earned was therefore at the rate of (per year) | $126,740 |
| Total interest per annum on guaranteed bonds | 407,880 |
| Total interest per annum on all bonds issued | 414,000 |

"Although the rental earned slightly exceeds the interest, the results for these first 7 months are not so important of themselves as from the indication they afford of the earning capacity of this line under normal circumstances. The line being new, the business of course had to be entirely organized and developed." * * *

"In the lease between the two companies, provision was made for vesting the actual management of the leased property in a manager to be selected and appointed by the Trustees of the Western Railway bonds, unless the lessor and lessee should, within a reasonable time, agree upon a person mutually satisfactory. They did, however, so agree at the beginning, and appointed Col. D. C. Dodge, of Denver, one of the ablest and most highly respected railroad managers in the Western country, with twelve years railroad experience in the Rocky Mountains." * * *

"In violation of this condition of the lease, the new President of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company, on the 3d day of March, this year, issued his order undertaking to appoint Mr. Ricker General Superintendent," * * * "and the executive of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway company undertook to force his Superintendent on the Western Railway until enjoined by the Utah courts from interfering with the authority of Col. Dodge under the lease." * * * "The lessee now asks in the pending legal proceedings that the lease be declared void and not binding upon it." * * * "The President of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Co. claims, in his recent annual report, to have expended towards finishing the Western road, 'in accordance with the contract,' to Dec. 31st, 1883, the sum of $656,370." * * * "The report of General Manager Dodge, accompanying that of the referees appointed by the lessor and lessee companies, will show in detail the condition of the road when and as turned over to the Denver & Rio Grande Company under the lease, and the amount required to be expended to put it in good order and condition. This amount was found to be $172,088, which has been charged by the Western Railway Company to the Construction Company, and credited by the Western Railway Company to the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company. Undoubtedly a certain amount has been expended by the lessee since possession, in making improvements and betterments, as it was bound to do, and as this company is obligated to pay for 'to the extent and value agreed upon between the parties from time to time'—such payment to be in bonds or stock or such other securities and evidences of interest as may be consistent with the legal powers of the lessor, and as will be found most available to reimburse the lessee for such outlay. But this company has no way of ascertaining concerning such improvements, because of the failure of the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company to set going the office of the joint comptroller, provided for by the lease, and mutually agreed upon since, to be Mr. Wm. M. Spackman." * * *

"A word as to the future: The Denver & Rio Grande Western Railway Company is without floating debt. Its outstanding bonded indebtedness amounts, temporarily, to $18,750 per mile, at 6 per cent, which will be reduced to $16,000 per mile when certain lines, upon which a large amount of work has been done, are completed and track laid upon the same.

"Its line is part of the most central of the great trunk lines or routes across the continent. It connects Colorado and Utah, the two most central and promising mining States of the West—one yielding $23,000,000 and the other $8,000,000 of bullion per annum.

"For more than one-half of its length it lies within comparatively easy reach of coal, the best of which, the 'Pleasant Valley deposit,' is a ten-feet seam of excellent coal, without a particle of slate, from which, during the past winter, 8,000 to 10,000 tons of coal per month were mined and shipped. From these mines westward to the Pacific Ocean, in California, no coal worthy of the name has yet been found. A glance at the map will show the importance and significance of the line. That its earning power should be gauged solely by the result of the first seven months is of course illogical; but even in the face of this disadvantage the earnings would unquestionably have yielded a satisfactory surplus over the interest, had it not been for the washouts and the railroad war, which together reduced the earnings at least one-third." * * *

"As regards the lease, while it would be simply suicidal for the Denver & Rio Grande Railway Company to bring about a severance of the tie which has bound these lines together, yet as long as the management of that company produces no better results than it has for the past six months on its own road, I do not know that the Western Railway would gain anything by the continuance of it, and especially if the former should persist in violations of the lease or should fail to pay the rental, or both. The attitude of the directors of your company in regard to this matter will have to be governed by future developments, and especially by the result as regards payment or non-payment of the interest on bonds of the Western Company, due September 1st." * * *

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS.

Alabama Great Southern.—A dispatch from London says that the Alabama Great Southern Railway stockholders have voted that the capital of the company be increased by the sum of £200,000, divided into 20,000 preference shares, called "A" shares, to be entitled to a preferential dividend of 6 per cent per annum in the same manner as the 60,000 preference shares already authorized.

Chicago & Northwestern.—At the special meeting yesterday to vote on the proposition to issue $14,000,000 stock to pay for the Blair system, the vote was unanimous in favor of the plan. The company announces to the Stock Exchange that it will issue $14,757,500 of its common stock at any time after 30 days from date. This stock will be delivered as required in payment for the above railroads and the rental and charges now paid these lines will cease to be a charge against the company.

Flint & Pere Marquette.—The following statement for the four months ending April 30 is published:

| | 1884. | 1883. |
|---|---|---|
| Earnings | $812,799 | $826,016 |
| Expenses | 536,146 | 551,774 |
| Net earnings | $276,653 | $274,242 |
| Interest charges | 111,928 | 107,020 |
| Surplus | $164,725 | $167,222 |

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.—A quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent instead of the usual 2 per cent was declared on this stock. The following is the statement which was presented at the meeting of the directors, June, 1884, being partly estimated:

EARNINGS BY HALF-YEARS AND YEARS IN 1882 AND 1883.

| | Gross. | To Stock. |
|---|---|---|
| First half 1882 | $7,952,000 | $1,076,000 |

do in expenses ..... 1,207,566 do 21·07 do do in net earnings ..... 680,705 do 19·46 do

"It will be seen from the foregoing statement that the earnings applicable to stock during the first half of the years 1883, 1884 and 1884 do not amount to the two quarterly dividends usually declared in that period, but the deficiency in 1884 and 1883 was made good in the second half. We have every reason to believe that the same will occur in 1884. Extreme competition for traffic began in the second half of 1883 with the usual effect of very low prices. This competition was increased by the holding back from shipment until [illegible] of peculiar manipulation of very large quantities of property, and it extended into and through the present half-year with accelerated effect. Expenses have been reduced in the full percentage of earnings, while the maintenance of the line and equipment have been fully kept up, and the whole property now stands in better general condition than at any other time. Upon careful consideration of all the circumstances, however, it has been deemed expedient in the interest of the stockholders to reduce the dividends to a basis of 6 per cent per annum.

"E. D. WORCESTER, Treasurer."

The following remarks were appended to the statement:

"It is well known to the stockholders of the company that the railroad traffic of the entire country has largely fallen off during the past six months. Many causes have contributed to produce this result, and there were some which affected this company [illegible] was short production in 1883 in some [illegible] to this company's lines. Strenuous efforts were made [illegible] to the lowest point compatible with [illegible] and with economical advantages growing out of [illegible] efficiency of operation, but with [illegible] and with economical advantages growing out of [illegible] even some of it was not found possible to [illegible] the same positive extent as earnings [illegible] not justify the declaration of a dividend."

Missouri Kansas & Texas.—This company, which is publishing no regular reports of earnings, gives out the following for the month of May:

| | 1884 | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Gross earnings | $[illegible] | Dec. | $[illegible] |
| Expenses | [illegible] | " | [illegible] |
| Net earnings | $[illegible] | Inc. | $24,781 |

Missouri Pacific.—This company publishes the following for the five months ended with May:

| | 1884. |
|---|---|
| Gross earnings | $[illegible] |
| Expenses | [illegible] |
| Net earnings | $[illegible] |

There was an increase in net earnings of $268,762, of which $227,127 was on the Missouri Pacific and $41,635 on the Iron Mountain.

Mexican Central.—This company issues to bondholders, in exchange for their three coupons funded, its coupon notes dated July 1, 1884, payable in five years or earlier at the company's option, which notes will be entitled to the benefit of an indenture of even date, executed by the company and a trustee, setting aside as further security an amount of subsidy received from the Mexican Government equal to the sum of the face value of the notes and coupons attached to them.

New York & New England.—At Boston, June 24, at a special meeting of the stockholders of the New York & New England Railroad Company, the legislative acts of Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island authorizing the company to make certain application of the proceeds coming from the sale of its second mortgage bonds, &c., were adopted by a viva voce vote. When the proposed issue of preferred stock came up, Mr. R. C. Martin of New York deprecated as unwise any scheme that would take the road out of the receiver's hands at the present time, thinking the company had better let well enough alone. He did not believe preferred stock should be issued at present, or that any other plan looking to a change of the present management should be decided upon. It was decided to appoint a commiitee to consider all matters in the call except the one acted upon above, the committee to report to the adjourned meeting to be held October 7. The committee consists of Col. Jonas H. French, A. J. Leith, Col. T. L. Higginson, R. C. Martin and G. M. Rice.

N. Y. Stock Exchange.—The Governors of the Stock Exchange have admitted to dealings at the Board the following securities:

Minneapolis Union Railway Company—An additional $650,000 of first mortgage 6 per cent bonds due July 1, 1922, making the total amount listed up to $2,150,000.

Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company—An additional $800,000 of Chicago Pacific & Western first mortgage 5 per cent bonds due January 1, 1921, making the total issue up to $18,540,000.

Oregon & California Railroad Company—An additional $600,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds due July 1, 1921, making the total issue $9,000,000.

Cleveland Columbus Cincinnati & Indianapolis Railway Company—An additional $1,000,000 of general consolidated 6 per cent bonds, due January 1, 1934, making total issue $2,500,000.

Mobile & Ohio Railroad Company First mortgage extension 6 per cent bonds due July 1, 1927, $1,000,000.

Milwaukee & Northern Railroad Company—"First 6s of 1884" bonds due January 1, 1913, $1,598,000.

New York West Shore & Buffalo.—Judge Nixon, of the U. S. Circuit Court in New Jersey has issued an order that the receivers be authorized to issue and sell, from time to time, at a price not less than par, certificates not exceeding in the aggregate $500,000, made according to the blanks furnished by the Court; that they immediately issue and sell such certificates in such amounts, not exceeding in the aggregate $300,000, as may seem to them advisable; that they are authorized to use the proceeds, in their discretion, to pay their necessary and current expenses, and sums now due to the companies now operating the connecting lines of railroad for freight and passenger business, and moneys due for right of way, depot and grounds, moneys due or to become due upon the rolling stock and equipment of said railroad necessary to retain its possession, all moneys due by the road for labor and services rendered since March 1, 1884, and money due for supplies purchased; and, finally, all taxes lawfully imposed and other proper expenses. The receivers, however, are not to pay out for right of way or depot or grounds any sum exceeding in the aggregate $200,000, nor any sum for rolling stock or other equipment exceeding $400,000, unless specially ordered by the Court. The receivers are authorized to execute all necessary leases and warrants for the purchase of rolling stock, equipments, etc. It is finally ordered that the certificates issued shall, until full payment thereof, with interest, be a lien and charge upon all the property covered by said mortgage. The Court reserves the right of allowing the issue of any certificates for a larger sum than $300,000.

The petition shows that the defendant owes for labor from March 1 to June 4, $450,355; for supplies for the same period $193,321; for terminal expenses, etc., $176,335; for taxes, $2,910; due to other railroads, $173,956; for outstanding notes since March 1, $245,377, and for right of way, etc., $300,000. The petition represents that $1,014,480 will be needed prior to January 1, 1885, to make payment for the purchase of rolling stock and equipment, and that the receivers have no money on hand and no means of raising any, except by action of the courts.

Northern Central.—The comparative statement of earnings and expenses for May and for five months ended May 31, is as follows:

| | May. | | 5 mos. ended May 31. | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | 1884. | 1883. | 1884. | 1883. |
| Gross earnings | $477,847 | $499,132 | $2,203,620 | $2,468,456 |
| Operating expenses | $262,717 | $266,037 | $1,238,800 | $1,369,69 |
| Extraordinary expenses | 20,774 | 21,019 | 153,106 | 199,44 |
| Total expenses | $283,491 | $287,056 | $1,391,906 | $1,569,14 |
| Net earnings | $194,356 | $212,076 | $811,714 | $899,31 |

Northern Pacific.—The majority report of the U. S. Senate Committee has been made on the bill to declare forfeited such of the lands granted to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company as pertain to the uncompleted portions of the road.

Oregon & Trans-Continental—Oregon & California.—An agreement for the cancellation of the lease of the Oregon & California Railroad to the Oregon & Trans-Continental Company has been made, although the possession of the property has not been surrendered. The Tribune reports that private dispatches from Henry Villard, who recently went to Europe for this purpose, have been received in this city and the terms of the proposed agreement have been accepted by the directors of the Oregon & Trans-Continental Company at a meeting at Portland, Oregon. The Oregon & Trans-Continental Company is released from all liabilities under the lease and surrenders about $2,200,000 Oregon & California second mortgage bonds on the condition that the latter company shall assume all construction accounts and debts and pay $446,000 in cash for the release of a part of the bonds which has been pledged by the Oregon & Trans-Continental Company. The construction debts are estimated at about $300,000, so that the company has sold the $2,200,000 Oregon & California seconds at about 35. The companies part company on the completion of the agreement.

Oregonian Railway.—In the Dundee (Scotland) Advertiser of May 26 appeared an open letter to the Hon. James Russell Lowell, the American Minister at London, signed "An Inhabitant of Dundee," complaining that, by the repudiation of the lease of the Oregonian Railway by the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, many people of Dundee had been deprived of the greater part of their incomes, and had been led to form a very low estimate of the honor of American railway managers. The facts of the case appear to be that the Oregonian Railway is a narrow-gauge road in the Willamette Valley, south of Portland, having no important termini, Portland being some 30 miles distant. Parallel with both its branches is another railroad of standard gauge, the Oregon & California, which extends from Portland to near the California line. Mr. Villard was President of the Oregon & California and he was also President of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, and to this company the Oregonian was leased in 1881 at the high rental of $200,000 per annum. The lease was very onerous, and the lessee now seeks to have it set aside on the ground chiefly that the lessor company had no right under the laws of Oregon to make the lease. The Oregonian Railway proprietors feel that this is a great hardship, but if they have a good case at law they should press it to the utmost, and they may rely upon getting a fair decision from the U. S. courts; if their lease is void at law they should hold their own directors responsible for making such an agreement.

Pennsylvania Railroad.—The gross and net earnings for May and for five months are specially compiled for the CHRONICLE in the tables below. The result of the operation of all the lines east of Pittsburg and Erie for the month of May was an increase of $30,820 in net earnings and for the five months a decrease of $310,468 this year, compared with the same period in 1883. On the lines west of Pittsburg there was a decrease in net profits of $13,179 for May and a decrease of $714,853 for the five months, as compared with 1883:

LINES EAST OF PITTSBURG AND ERIE.

| Total 5 mos. | $19,427,075 | $20,195,708 | $7,029,216 | $7,339,684 |

As to the lines west of Pittsburg and Erie, the monthly reports issued in 1883 and for the current year show the results below. The company's returns, however, state a loss since January 1 in the present year, compared with the same period in 1883, of $755,526.

St. Joseph & Western.—At St. Joseph, Mo., June 12, the election of directors took place. The Union Pacific interest and the Benedict party were equal in number of shares represented, each polling about 17,000. By mutual understanding the following directors were chosen, making about an equal division between the two interests: Sidney Dillon of New York; Fred. L. Ames, Elisha Atkins, Ezra H. Baker, F. Gordon Dexter, Henry McFarland and Charles F. Adams of Boston; James H. Benedict, Francis W. Williams, James C. Parrish and William C. Strauss of New York; Elias C. Benedict of Connecticut and Winslow Judson of St. Joseph.

Texas & Pacific.—This company gives notice that it will issue scrip in accordance with the terms of the mortgage, for twelve months' interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, to July 1, 1884, on the income and land grant bonds of the company. This scrip will be issued to the bondholders on July 20, at the company's office, in New York.

Union Pacific.—The Boston Advertiser reports that the economy being practised under the new management of the Union Pacific has not begun to show in the returns, but when it does it should make quite a difference in the net earnings. When Messrs. Ames and Adams were West last month, the discharge of 1,000 men was ordered and another 1,000 were to go soon after. The rolling mill at Laramie was recently closed, and the foundry at Omaha has been, or probably will be soon, the company finding it cheaper to buy than to make rails and equipments at current prices. The Union Pacific company had at one time 20,000 men in its employ, and now has about 10,000. The steady increase in the Boston holdings of stock is shown in the following:

| Date. | Number of Boston stockholders. | Amount of shareholdings. |
|---|---|---|
| Jan. 1, 1882 | 1,358 | 133,612½ |
| Jan. 1, 1883 | 2,314 | 172,360½ |
| Jan. 1, 1884 | 4,837 | 252,277½ |
| April 1, 1884 | 5,208 | 246,573½ |

The Commercial Times.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, June 27, 1884.

General trade has been dull, and speculative values of merchandise have suffered from the fresh disturbances in financial circles and the improved crop accounts. Copious rains have relieved the drought that had begun to be felt in some sections of the country. A good autumn trade is now anticipated, and the middle of July promises to witness a revival in mercantile affairs.

The speculation in lard has continued active, but at prices showing a further decline. The slaughter of swine at the West is about 15 per cent in excess of last season. The market to-day was variable and unsettled, with very active dealings, closing steady at 7·28@7·30c. for July, 7·51@7·52c. for Aug., 7·67@7·69c. for Sept. and 7·78c. for Oct. Spot lard was nearly nominal at 7·10@7·15c. for prime city, 7·30@7·40c. for Western and 7·65@7·70c. for refined for the Continent. Pork is much depressed, in expectation of large deliveries on July contracts; mess quoted $16@$16 50. Bacon nominal at 9@9¼c. for long clear. Cutmeats comparatively steady at last week's prices. Beef is unchanged, but beef hams are lower and unsettled. Tallow has declined to 6⅜c. for prime. Stearine lower and quoted at 8¾c. for prime. Oleomargarine quoted at 8c. for prime, but a large sale of poor quality was made at 6¼c. Butter has lost a late improvement and closed dull at 17@22½c. for creamery and 9½@14c. for Western factory. Cheese dull; State factory 5½@9¾c. Eggs dearer at 17½@19c. The following is a comparative summary of aggregate exports from November 1 to June 21:

|---|---|---|---|
| Pork, lbs. | 26,389,400 | 30,724,400 | Dec. 4,335,000 |
| Bacon, lbs | 232,627,896 | 279,385,772 | Dec 46,763,876 |
| Lard, lbs | 140,193,685 | 154,621,088 | Dec.14,427,403 |
| Total lbs. | 399,204,981 | 464,731,260 | Dec.65,529,279 |

Rio coffee has been about steady on the spot but very quiet at 10c.; options have been quiet at slowly declining prices, closing at 8·05@8·10c. for July, 8·30@8·35c. for August, 8·45@8·50c. for September, 8·55@8·60c. for October, 8·60@8 65c. for November, and 8·65@8·70c. for December; mild grades have been steady as a rule, and Maracaibo has at times sold very freely; good Cucuta has been quoted at 10@10¼c. Tea has been dull and weak; to-day Japan sold 17¼c. for July, 17¾c. for August, 18c. for September, 18¾@19c. for October and 21c. for December. Rice has been in good demand and firm. Spices have been quiet. Foreign dried fruits have been dull at unchanged prices; green have sold fairly at pretty steady prices. Molasses has advanced to 16¼c. for 50-deg. test Cuba refining. Raw sugar has been fairly active of late and steadier at 5¾c. for 97-deg. test centrifugal and 4¾c. for fair refining; the latter has sold for future delivery at 4·67½c. for August, 4·85c. for September and 5·02½c. for October; refined has been steadier of late, and closes at 6 9-16@6⅝c. for granulated, 7⅛@7½c. for powdered and 6¾c. for standard "A."

Kentucky tobacco on the spot has been quiet and without interesting features; lugs remain at 7¾@8¼c. and leaf at 8½@9¾c., and no sales of importance can be mentioned. Seed leaf was again steady and without new points of interest. Sales 1,100 cases, including 250 cases crop 1883, Little Dutch, 16½@18c.; 250 cases crop 1882, Pennsylvania, 5@15c.; 150 cases crop 1881, Pennsylvania, 6@10c.; 50 cases crop 1880, Pennsylvania, private terms; 200 cases crop 1883, New England, 12½@30c.; 100 cases crop 1883, Wisconsin Havana, 11½@25c., and 100 cases crop 1882, Wisconsin Havana, 26@37½c.; also 400 bales Havana, 80c.@$1 15, and 200 bales Sumatra, $1 20@$1 60.

Trading in naval stores, either for speculation or consumption, has been indifferent and a feeling of weakness has overshadowed the situation. Spirits turpentine on the spot is quoted 30@30½c. and common to good strained rosins $1 22½@$1 30. Refined petroleum has had a small movement at 7⅞c. for 70-Abel test; cases remain at 9½@10¼c. for cargoes and naphtha at 7½c. Crude oil certificates had a brighter tone until the last two days when a realizing of profits broke prices and to-day 61c. was reached, with the closing figures at 61⅜@61⅝c. In metals and wool trading has been very small. In hops there has been some activity at 35c. for the best State 1883's. Oils have only a jobbing trade at recent figures.

The ocean-freight-room market looks a trifle better, both in the way of business and rates, and to-day grain to Liverpool by steam was taken at 3½d.; do. to London, 3s. 0½d., and oats 2s. 9d.@4s. per qr.; grain to Glasgow, 4½d.; do. to Newcastle, 4d.; do. to Hamburg, 60 phennigs; do. to Antwerp, 4½d.; refined petroleum from Philadelphia to New Castle or Leith, 3s. 6d.; do. hence to Baltic, 3s. 3d.@3s. 4½d.; cases to Messina, 20c.; grain by steamer from Philadelphia to Cork for orders, 3s. per qr.

COTTON.

FRIDAY, P. M., June 27, 1884.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE CROP, as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night, is given below. For the week ending this evening (June 27), the total receipts have reached 3,642 bales, against 4,735 bales last week, 9,409 bales the previous week and 12,584 bales three weeks since, making the total receipts since the 1st of September, 1883, 4,782,641 bales, against 5,893,048 bales for the same period of 1882-83, showing a decrease since September 1, 1883, of 1,110,407 bales.

There has been much variableness in the speculation for cotton for future delivery at this market during the past week. Prices have fluctuated widely, not only from one day to another, but in the course of a single day. There was some buying for the rise, on the belief that prices had fallen low enough to make such operations safe, and there was at times a demand to cover contracts. But each fresh advance brought forward a fresh array of sellers, and there being little heart to the buying movement, values again fell off. Foreign advices, and especially Manchester accounts, have not been encouraging to the "bull" party, while crop accounts have so far improved that some extravagant estimates of the yield next season begin to be put forward. There were irregular declines on Saturday and Monday. The house of Staber & Co., carrying several thousand bales for the "bull" account, failed, causing much depression of tone. Tuesday there was a firmer opening, followed by a sharp decline, due mainly to the failure of the banking house of M. Morgan's Sons, large dealers in exchange. On Wednesday, some demand to cover contracts, with partial revival of speculative confidence, caused a re-action toward better prices, but it was not sustained, and on Thursday there was a fresh decline. To-day the market opened weak and declined 9@12 points, closing, as compared with last Friday, 26@29 points lower for this crop and 12@16 points lower for the next. Cotton on the spot is decidedly lower. There was a decline in official quotations of 1-16c. on Saturday, Monday, and Thursday, and 1/8c. on Tuesday. There has been a large business for export and a moderate demand for home consumption. Stocks have undergone a rapid reduction, but the pressure to sell has not abated. To-day the market was easy, but without further decline, middling uplands closing at 11 1/8c.

The total sales for forward delivery for the week are 802,400 bales. For immediate delivery the total sales foot up this week 24,256 bales, including 19,529 for export, 4,727 for consumption, — for speculation and — in transit. Of the above, — bales were to arrive. The following are the official quotations for each day of the past week.

* Decrease from September 1.

It will be seen by the above that the decrease in amount in sight to-night, as compared with last year, is 1,268,257 bales, the increase as compared with 1881-82 is 324,320 bales, and the decrease from 1880-81 is 797,962 bales.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Our reports from the South to-night indicate that the weather has in general continued quite favorable for farm work and crop development. The plant is now making satisfactory headway, and the fields are in good condition.

Galveston, Texas.—We have had good showers on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and seventy-five hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 83, ranging from 73 to 90.

Indianola, Texas.—It has rained on four days of the week splendidly and just as needed. The rainfall reached four inches and fifty-seven hundredths. Crop accounts are more favorable. The thermometer has ranged from 76 to 90, averaging 83.

Palestine, Texas.—The weather has been warm and dry all the week. Work is progressing well and prospects are fair. Average thermometer 80, highest 92 and lowest 67.

Huntsville, Texas.—We have had warm and dry weather all the week. Crop accounts are more favorable and the fields are clear of weeds. The thermometer has averaged 83, the highest being 96 and the lowest 68.

Luling, Texas.—It has been showery on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching twenty hundredths of an inch. Crops are promising. The thermometer has averaged 84, ranging from 70 to 97.

Brenham, Texas.—We have had one fine shower during the week, the rainfall reaching forty hundredths of an inch. Crop accounts are more favorable; the plant is small but well fruited, and the fields are clear of weeds. The thermometer has ranged from 66 to 98, averaging 83.

Belton, Texas.—It has been showery on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching fourteen hundredths of an inch. Crop prospects are very fair. Average thermometer 82, highest 96 and lowest 67.

Weatherford, Texas.—We have had a shower on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching twenty-five hundredths of an inch. Crop prospects are very promising. The thermometer has averaged 80, the highest being 94 and the lowest 63.

Dallas, Texas.—We have had no rain all the week. Crop accounts are more favorable and good progress is being made in cleaning the fields. The thermometer has averaged 84, ranging from 68 to 99.

Columbia, Texas.—We have had fine showers on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and eighteen hundredths. The Brazos overflow has subsided, and the reported loss to crops was much exaggerated. Young crops of corn, sugar-cane and cotton are all doing well. The cotton plant is full of bolls and well matured for the season. Average thermometer 82, highest 91 and lowest 68.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—It has rained on four days of the week, the rainfall reaching forty-eight hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 82.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—Telegram not received.

Vicksburg, Mississippi.—We have had a shower on one day of the week, but not enough to do much good. The remainder of the week has been warm, dry and pleasant. The rainfall reached nine hundredths of an inch. Competition for labor is running up the rate of wages. The cotton plant looks strong and healthy, and good progress is being made in clearing the fields. The thermometer has ranged from 68 to 97.

Meridian, Mississippi.—Telegram not received.

Greenville, Mississippi.—Telegram not received.

Columbus, Mississippi.—It has been showery on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching thirteen hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 81, the highest being 93 and the lowest 69.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—Friday, Saturday and Tuesday were fair, with light showers, and Wednesday was cloudy, with good general rains throughout the State; but the remainder of the week has been clear and warm. The rainfall reached forty-two hundredths of an inch. Crops are clean and improving nicely. The thermometer has averaged 79, ranging from 69 to 91.

Pine Bluff, Arkansas.—Telegram not received.

Fort Smith, Arkansas.—Telegram not received.

Helena, Arkansas.—It has been showery on one day, and the remainder of the week has been pleasant. The rainfall reached fifty hundredths of an inch. There are some complaints of lice. The thermometer has averaged 81, the highest being 94 and the lowest 71.

Newport, Arkansas.—Telegram not received.

Memphis, Tennessee.—We have had light showers on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching ten hundredths of an inch. More rain would be welcome. The early part of the week was very hot. The fields are clear of weeds and grass. Of the receipts this week 1,296 bales were through cotton. The thermometer has ranged from 72 to 96, averaging 83.

Nashville, Tennessee.—It has rained on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching two hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 80, highest 92 and lowest 68.

Mobile, Alabama.—We have had rain on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching eighty-four hundredths of an inch. The crop is developing promisingly. The thermometer has averaged 78, the highest being 96 and the lowest 70.

Montgomery, Alabama.—It has rained on four days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and thirty-five hundredths. The crop is developing promisingly. If rain ceases now and no worms appear, a good cotton crop will be made in this section. The thermometer has averaged 79·9.

Selma, Alabama.—Telegram not received.

Madison, Florida.—Telegram not received.

Macon, Georgia.—The weather has been warm and sultry during the week, with heavy rain on one day and showers on two days. The thermometer has averaged 77, ranging from 68 to 90.

Columbus, Georgia.—We have had rain on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching ninety-three hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 77, ranging from 70 to 90.

Savannah, Georgia.—It has rained on four days and the remainder of the week has been cloudy. The rainfall reached four inches and seventy hundredths. Crop reports throughout the State are generally good. The thermometer has ranged from 68 to 88, averaging 79.

Augusta, Georgia.—We have had heavy general rain on four days of the week, and the remainder of the week has been cloudy and threatening. The rainfall reached one inch and sixty-five hundredths. We are having too much rain. Crop looks well but is grassy, although not to any great extent. If favorable weather sets in planters will be able to overcome it. A number of places in the lowlands below us have been overflowed by the Savannah River. Average thermometer 78, highest 92 and lowest 70.

Atlanta, Georgia.—It has rained on five days of the week, the rainfall reaching two inches and two hundredths. Unfavorably wet. The thermometer has averaged 74·4, the highest being 90 and the lowest 65.

Charleston, South Carolina.—We have had rain on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and ninety hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 79, ranging from 71 to 87.

Columbia, South Carolina.—Telegram not received.

The following statement we have also received by telegraph, showing the height of the rivers at the points named at 8 o'clock June 26, 1884, and June 28, 1883.

New Orleans reported below high-water mark of 1871 until Sept. 9, 1874, when the zero of gauge was changed to high-water mark of April 15 and 16, 1874, which is 6-10ths of a foot above 1871, or 16 feet above low-water mark at that point.

India Cotton Movement from all Ports.—We have re-arranged our India service so as to make our reports more detailed and at the same time more accurate. We had found it impossible to keep out of our figures, as cabled to us for the ports other than Bombay, cargoes which proved only to be shipments from one India port to another. The plan now followed relieves us from the danger of this inaccuracy and keeps the totals correct. We first give the Bombay statement for the week and year, bringing the figures down to June 26,

Bombay Receipts and Shipments for four years.

| Year | Shipments this week. Great Brit'n. | Continent. | Total. | Shipments since Jan. 1. Great Britain | Continent. | Total. | Receipts. This Week. | Since Jan. 1. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1884 | 15,000 | 8,000 | 23,000 | 458,000 | 563,000 | 1,021,000 | 23,000 | 1,487,000 |
| 1883 | 18,000 | 4,000 | 22,000 | 388,000 | 737,000 | 1,125,000 | 12,000 | 1,502,000 |
| 1882 | 13,000 | 24,000 | 37,000 | 678,000 | 543,000 | 1,221,000 | 18,000 | 1,511,000 |
| 1881 | 4,000 | 8,000 | 12,000 | 243,000 | 465,000 | 708,000 | 18,000 | 1,067,000 |

According to the foregoing, Bombay appears to show an increase compared with last year in the week's receipts of 11,000 bales, and an increase in shipments of 1,000 bales, and the shipments since January 1 show a decrease of 104,000 bales. The movement at Calcutta, Madras and other India ports for the last reported week and since the 1st of January, for two years, has been as follows. "Other ports" cover Ceylon, Tuticorin, Kurrachee and Coconada.

| | Shipments for the week. Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. | Shipments since January 1. Great Britain. | Continent. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Calcutta— | | | | | | |

| 1883 | 3,800 | ..... | 3,800 | 71,800 | 10,000 | 81,800 |
| Madras— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 13,000 | 1,600 | 14,600 |
| 1883 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 4,500 | 1,000 | 5,500 |
| All others— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 13,500 | 8,600 | 22,100 |
| 1883 | 1,000 | ..... | 1,000 | 5,000 | 2,000 | 7,000 |
| Total all— | | | | | | |
| 1884 | ..... | ..... | ..... | 114,000 | 51,400 | 165,400 |
| 1883 | 4,800 | ..... | 4,800 | 81,300 | 13,000 | 94,300 |

The above totals for the week show that the movement from the ports other than Bombay is 4,800 bales less than same week last year. For the whole of India, therefore, the total shipments since January 1, 1884, and for the corresponding periods of the two previous years, are as follows:

Exports to Europe from all India.

| Shipments to all Europe from— | 1884. This week. | Since Jan. 1. | 1883. This week. | Since Jan. 1. | 1882. This week. | Since Jan. 1. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Bombay | 23,000 | 1,021,000 | 22,000 | 1,125,000 | 37,000 | 1,221,000 |
| All other ports. | ..... | 165,400 | 4,800 | 94,300 | 8,400 | 196,300 |
| Total | 23,000 | 1,186,400 | 26,800 | 1,219,300 | 45,400 | 1,417,300 |

This last statement affords a very interesting comparison of the total movement for the three years at all India ports.

Alexandria Receipts and Shipments.—Through arrangements we have made with Messrs. Davies, Benachi & Co., of Liverpool and Alexandria, we now receive a weekly cable of the movements of cotton at Alexandria, Egypt. The following are the receipts and shipments for the past week and for the corresponding week of the previous two years.

This statement shows that the receipts for the week ending June 25 were 1,000 cantars and the shipments to all Europe 2,000 bales.

Jute Butts, Bagging, &c.—There has been a fair business during the week in bagging, though the market is not active. The inquiry continues of a jobbing character, scarcely any demand being shown for large parcels. Prices are without material change, and are nominally quoted at 9½c. for 1¾ lbs., 10c. for 1¾ lbs., 10¾c. for 2 lbs. and 11½c. for standard grades. Butts are about as last reported, and business does not increase. Orders are coming in for parcels to fill present trade requirements, but invoices are neglected. Sellers are not forcing goods, however, and are waiting for more activity rather than accept offered prices, and the market closes quiet at 2 1/16@2 3-16c. for paper grades and 2⅝@2¾c. for bagging qualities.

COMPARATIVE PORT RECEIPTS AND DAILY CROP MOVEMENT.—A comparison of the port movement by weeks is not accurate, as the weeks in different years do not end on the same day of the month. We have consequently added to our other standing tables a daily and monthly statement, that the reader may constantly have before him the data for seeing the exact relative movement for the years named. The movement each month since September 1, 1883, has been as follows.

This statement shows that up to May 31 the receipts at the ports this year were 1,062,921 bales less than in 1882-83, and 200,993 bales more than at the same time in 1881-82. By adding to the above totals to May 31 the daily receipts since that time, we shall be able to reach an exact comparison of the movement for the different years.

* A correction of net receipts at New Orleans of 331 bales deducted.

This statement shows that the receipts since Sept. 1 up to to-night are now 1,106,390 bales less than they were to the same day of the month in 1883 and 166,426 bales more than they were to the same day of the month in 1882. We add to the table the percentages of total port receipts which had been received to June 27 in each of the years named.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, P. M., June 27, 1884.

Flour has been very quiet for the lower grades, which have been in small supply. Most other descriptions have been slow, the demand being mainly for the better grades of patents; yet even these have latterly met with only a moderate demand. The market as a whole has been in an unsatisfactory position. To-day there was a light trade at weak prices.

Wheat has sold fairly for export, and latterly there has been rather more activity in options. Prices have declined slightly, mainly owing to the same influences which were at work last week. The crop advices, however, have, as a rule, been favorable, and a slight advance a few days ago, due to cold rains at the West, has been succeeded by renewed depression, owing to the more favorable reports received since then. At times the shorts have covered rather more freely both here and at Chicago, some operators fearing that the late hot, moist weather may cause rust in the winter wheat. But these fears have not been widespread. The foreign markets have, moreover, shown some depression latterly. To-day the market here was dull and lower. No. 2 Chicago spring on the spot sold at 95c. and ungraded white at $1@ 1 08. No. 2 red sold t 98@98⅞c. for July, $1@1 01⅛c. for August and $1 03½ for September. No. 2 red closed at 98⅛c. in elevator, 97⅞c. for July, $1 00¼ for August and $1 01½ for September, showing a decline for the week of 1 to 1⅛c.

Indian corn has been only fairly active, and prices, in sympathy with the fall in wheat, have declined. Some unsound corn has been posted both here and in Chicago, and this fact has had a more or less unfavorable effect. There is not much interest in this cereal at the moment, however, and it merely follows the fluctuations in wheat. To-day the market here was dull and ½ to 1c. lower. No. 2 mixed closed at 60¼c. in elevator, 59⅝c. for July, 61¼c. for August and 62⅜c. for September, showing a decline for the week of 2 to 2½c.

Rye has been quiet but steady. Oats have been quiet and declining. The market to-day was still depressed. No. 2 mixed sold at 34⅞@35⅛c. for July and 34@34¼c for August.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

FRIDAY, P. M., June 27, 1884.

There was during the past week a continuation of the quiet tone which has lately characterized the wholesale branches of the dry goods trade, and but little improvement in the demand is looked for until shortly after the coming holidays. Local jobbers who make a point of closing out their open stocks of domestics, prints, ginghams, dress goods, &c., preparatory to taking their semi-annual account of stock, were enabled to effect liberal sales of such goods by means of low prices; but the regular jobbing trade was very quiet. Business continued light with commission houses representing domestic manufacturers, and transactions with importers were few and unimportant. An auction sale of about 3,000 packages colored blankets was the main feature of the week. The sale was largely attended by buyers for all sections of the country, and the entire offering was disposed of, and well distributed, but the prices realized were unsatisfactory. There is a very fair representation of package buyers in the market, most of whom seem to be in very good spirits, but they are evidently indisposed to begin operations for the fall trade until later on, the late financial upheaval and some impairment of banking facilities having rendered them exceedingly cautious.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of domestics for the week were 3,088 packages, the principal shipments of which were made as follows: Great Britain, 1,626, U. S. of Colombia 410, Venezuela 273, Madagascar 269, Hayti 172, and Nova Scotia 100, the remainder having been scattered in smaller parcels to other markets. There was a continued light demand for brown and bleached goods at first hands and most descriptions of colored cottons were in meagre request, but a fair business was done in cotton flannels, and towards the close of the week an enlarged movement in certain makes of tickings was stimulated by lower prices. Print cloths ruled quiet and easy, at 3 1/8 c. less 1 per cent for 64x64 "spots," 3 c. flat for 64x61 futures to September," and 2 15/16c. for 56x60s, with more sellers than buyers at these quotations. Light prints were very quiet, but there was more inquiry for dark fancy prints, resulting in a moderate business; and printed lawns continued in good request for this time of year, as were specialties in ginghams and woven wash fabrics.

DOMESTIC WOOLEN GOODS.—As a whole the market for woolen goods was very quiet. Transactions in men's wear woolens were chiefly confined to a few of the most popular makes of fancy cassimeres, worsteds and overcoatings, and the movement in this connection was mainly restricted to making deliveries in execution of back orders. Satinets were more or less sluggish, but a fair business was done in Kentucky jeans by agents and leading jobbers. Jersey cloths and stockinettes ruled quiet, and there was only a limited call for cloakings, and ladies' cloths, but more attention was paid to repellents by intending buyers. White blankets met with increased attention, and there was a somewhat freer movement in white and colored flannels, though the demand has not become general as yet. Shawls and skirts were in meagre request, and seasonable worsted and all-wool dress fabrics were quiet in first hands, but some fair orders for fall dress goods, as cashmeres, baiges, &c., were placed with agents. Wool hosiery was fairly active and steady in price because of light stocks on hand, but shirts and drawers continued quiet and in buyers' favor, owing to a redundant supply.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Aside from a very few specialties required for immediate consumption, the demand for imported goods was very light, and no new features have been developed in this branch of the trade. The auction season has practically closed, the offerings of the week having been chiefly composed of "odds and ends" from the stocks of importers, most of which were sold at relatively low prices.
